

BUILDING HOPE

JULY 2018

Lives are constantly being transformed here at the Rescue Mission. We see many of our residents come in struggling with terrible habits and addictions that have crippled them for years. The Relapse Prevention program helps people overcome these struggles.

The thirteen week program builds community and gives godly counsel that equips students to deal with their addictions. So many choose to try to end their addictions on their own but untimely fail. Without fellowship and a relationship with God, there is little hope in preventing a relapse.

One of our recent graduates, Mr. Curry Prieto, said it this way, "The program gave me the peace I was missing: my relationship with God. When I first got here I felt I was in a tunnel with no light at the end. Now I feel full of hope and gratitude. I had been in so many programs before, but now I know of a program that does work, and it doesn't cost anything except for your heart. If you really commit to this program, Jesus will change your life." Curry is considering a career in the food service industries. He has already received his food handler's card and works for our Hallelujah! BBQ.

After going through the Relapse Prevention program many of our residents, like Curry, choose to stay with us for another six months. We have found that the first few months after graduation can be the hardest for graduates. As they rejoin society and venture out of the Mission, they are faced with temptations to go back to their addictions. The additional support they receive from the counselors and others in recovery help build a solid foundation for a life of freedom from drugs and alcohol.

God has continually blessed and supported our residents and staff through community members like you. When you donate and pray for us, we are able to provide support to our neighbors. Thank you for being a part of the Rescue Mission.
