Welcome to the 2022 NEMO Fair

This is our 75th Annual NEMO Fair. On behalf of all the NEMO Board of Directors, I would like to welcome everyone to the fair this year. With the continued support from the City of Kirksville, Adair County, local businesses, and all of the volunteers we have been able to plan another fun filled fair. Thank you to all that support, attend and enjoy the NEMO Fair.

We have a great line-up this year with nights of musical entertainment, carnival, food vendors a full rodeo and a truck & tractor pull. We encourage you to support our area 4-H and FFA youth by attending the daily livestock shows and by taking time to browse through their exhibits showcased in the 4-H and FFA building. Please make your way to the Multipurpose building to enjoy the Battle of the Bands, NEMO Idol and to visit with local vendors as you enjoy the cool air-conditioning.

The Fair Board thanks each and every person who attends and supports the Fair and the outstanding youth in our community. If anyone would like to get more involved in some way with the fair, please let us know.

Have a fun and safe week!

Opening for Little Texas

Richard Young, from The Kentucky Headhunters, says The Comancheros are "ZZ Top goes Star Wars."

The Comancheros are known for bringing to the stage some of the highest energy performances in the business. They bottled up that fury to produce their first full length release, "Heavy & Western," followed by "Too Old to Die Young Now." Now Richard Young, of the infamous Kentucky Headhunters, produced "Memphis to Mexico" which releasing 11/12/2021.

Playing non-stop since 2015, they've stormed the stage with Randy Rogers, The Cadillac Three, Drake White, The Steel Woods, Alabama, Whiskey Myers, Blackberry Smoke, and the Nitty Gritty Dirt Band. These experiences have sharpened their spurs and inspired the band to create a sound that exemplifies what it means to be a modern-day cowboy: heavy and western.

Little Texas

Friday, July 22, 2022

As part of the Young Country movement of the early '90s, Little Texas were responsible for shaking up the country music world with a new, energetic sound that fused the look and attitude of modern rock music with traditional country themes and styles, bringing a much appreciated bolt of life into the genre. For their efforts, country fans the world over richly rewarded the band, buying up over 7 million of their albums, while critics showered them with 3 Grammy nominations plus honors from both the Academy of Country Music (Vocal Group Of The Year) and the Country Music Association (Album Of The Year).

Their first radio release in 1991, "Some Guys Have All The Love," became a Top-10 hit, as did their next single, "First Time For Everything." After the album First Time For Everything was released, five singles reached the top of the charts. The second album, Big Time, truly was the big time for Little Texas.

The sophomore release, which has sold more than three million copies to date, spawned three No. 1 singles - "What Might Have Been," "God Blessed Texas" and "My Love" - and captured the group's first CMT Award, a Billboard award, a Radio & Records award and their first Grammy nomination.

Early in their career, Little Texas was designated as an arena act. They first signed on as an opener on an arena tour headlined by Clint Black. Later, they traveled with Travis Tritt and Trisha Yearwood on a tour sponsored by Budweiser. After that, they were on their own, with Crown Royal, singing to packed arenas across the United States and Canada. During this time, the band played a part in Common Thread: The Songs of The Eagles, which later earned their first Country Music Association trophy for "Album Of The Year."

The group's cover of "Peaceful Easy Feeling" charted well; albeit, without an official release, and with that, Little Texas broke another record in country music history: three different songs on three different charts with three different lead singers, all at the same time. It is a feat that has never been repeated since by any band. The year 1994 also brought the lineup an Academy of Country Music Award for "Vocal Group of the Year."

Little Texas released their Kick A Little album, and their first true arena-headlining tour began, supported by Keebler and newcomer Tim McGraw with opening act BlackHawk. The tour and the album were huge successes, highlighted by shows in Detroit and Minneapolis, where they sold out the arenas just days after their heroes, The Eagles, had played the same venues. The tour continued on through 1995, finishing as the fifth largest-grossing tour of the year, and over the course of '94 and '95, the band received two more Grammy nominations and released Little Texas-Greatest Hits.

After the self-titled Little Texas album was released, Little Texas, the players, needed a break following years of performing a relentless concert schedule. Thus, at the end of 1997, each member went his separate way, opting to spend time with family and friends, and work on individual projects.

Says bassist-vocalist Duane Propes: "At that point it was time for our loved ones to have us back for a while. It all happened for a reason."

In 2004, the multi-platinum band's four original members—Propes, Porter Howell (lead vocals and lead guitar), Dwayne O'Brien (vocals and rhythm guitars) and Del Gray (drums) rebuilt the franchise with a completely new sound and they couldn't have been happier to be back on tour and bringing fans what they do best.

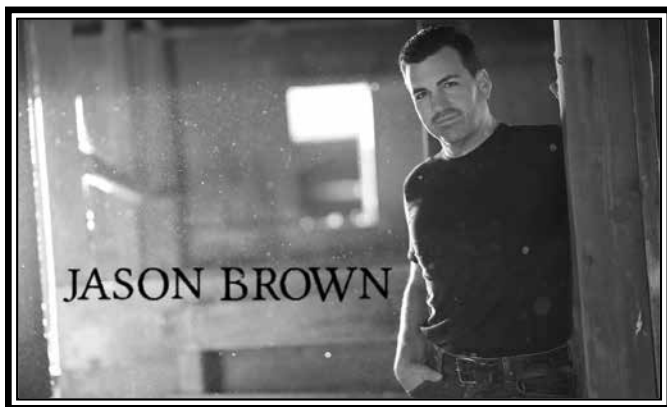

"Everybody still has a 'What Might Have Been,' there's always a 'First Time For Everything,' and folks still want to 'Kick A Little,' so we decided to take the party back on the road," shares Propes, referring to the group's continued rotation at radio and generations of both old and new fans that keep the band playing their classics and putting out new music.

In summer 2007, Little Texas returned to the airwaves, country charts and music video playlists with an album titled Missing Years. In typical Little Texas style, the band broke the rules yet again, choosing to unleash TWO new albums within the span of a month, including the band's first live album, The Very Best of Little Texas: Live & Loud.

Currently, the lineup's on the concert circuit celebrating its official 24th year on the radio since their first single, "Some Guys Have All The Love," hit the airwaves in 1991. The music the band has generated over the years is timeless, and has been featured on hundreds of television programs and sporting events including Good Morning America, American Idol, Don't Forget The Words, America's Got Talent & HBO's "True Blood," while "God Blessed Texas" has been the theme music for the Texas Ford Dealers commercials since 1998.

This year, Little Texas is breaking new sonic ground with the release of their 8th album, Young For A Long Time. Undoubtedly the band has never sounded more confident, as the chorus of the titular lead off track proudly declares, "Don't you know by now we've got this down / That Friday night fire still hasn't gone out / We got a rock solid life and a rock n' roll state of mind / We were born to run / So sit down, son / We'll show you just how it's done / 'Cause we've been young for a long time." The musicianship has only improved with age as well with Porter Howell truly coming into his own as the band's lead vocalist in addition to his dazzling lead guitar work, and backed by the always solid playing of drummer Del Gray. "Young For A Long Time pretty much runs the gamut of everything we've ever done, plus takes us down some new roads as well," Propes continues, "the vocals are there, the guitar work is there, the party songs are there, the 'make you cry' love songs, the songs about Texas. We even dive off into swamp rock and torch music, so each song has a totally different fuel behind it."

"The four of us appreciate each other and still have a ball on stage," says drummer Gray of the band's chemistry on stage after all this time. "There is a comfort level that happens to us when we play together that can only happen with 20-something years of experience."

Jason Brown

Opening for Easton Corbin

Country music recording artist, Jason Brown, has performed for hundreds of thousands of music fans across the Midwest. It is because of their continuing support, his dedication to the fans, and his loyalty and love for the music industry that Jason Brown is one of country music's up and coming, innovative artists. Jason Brown has charted 5 songs consistently on the Billboard and MediaBase

Country Charts. "Momma Was A Rebel," "Touchdown," "I'd Love You To Hate Me," "You Don't Play Fair," and "We're All In The Same Boat". Brown has performed with country's leading artists including Blake Shelton, Rascal Flatts, Trace Adkins, Alan Jackson, Gary Alan, Luke Bryan, The Band Perry, Chris Young, Lee Brice, Randy Houser, Easton Corbin, and Little Big Town, to name a few.

Jason Brown was born in the heart of the Midwest; three miles outside of Pella, Iowa, from a bloodline of truck drivers, coal miners, and farmers. Like others in the Midwest, on Sunday mornings the family got together and would go into town for church. At the age of four, this is where his Grandma Ruth heard a voice. She knew there would be one there, she was just waiting for the right time; A voice she helped Jason discover and develop sitting with him at the piano after the farm chores were done. Jason recalls the first two songs he sang in front of a crowd on stage were "It Is No Secret" and "I've Got A Mansion Just Over the Hilltop." Gospel and traditional country songs, to this day, are some of Jason's favorite songs to sing. Jason says, "It takes me back to my family and the church members singing. When I was younger there was always a gospel hymn or country song playing or being sung."

Being raised in the country and working with his grandpa on the farm made country music the natural fit. By the age of six, Jason was singing whenever he could. At the age of 14, Jason and his brother moved to Corpus Christi, Texas with their mom. It wasn't long until Jason was singing in south Texas and touring with his church youth group through Texas, Arizona, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Georgia, and Florida during the summers.

After a few years in Texas, Jason then moved to Pleasantville, IA to live with his dad and started touring the Midwest fair circuit thanks to Beth Hunter and the Jim Dandy Band. This was the start of Jason's love of being on the road meeting and performing for Country Music fans. After a year of learning some of the ropes, Jason fronted his first band, Country Persuasion. Throughout the years he fronted other bands such as Harvest, Stormfront, Big Rig, and Red Rock. Jason says, "I'll remember every single person I have been in a band with because I carry a small piece of every one of them with me. Each one, in their own way, bad or good, helped me become the person I am today and helped me get to where I am." During the Red Rock days, a gentleman named Steve heard Jason and believed he could help him go to the next step. Jason burst onto the Iowa Country music scene with the release of his "DREAM" album. Numerous hit singles on Country music stations built a broad and loyal fan base throughout the Midwest that has continued to turn out to hear him sing at fairs and festivals as well as more intimate venues.

With continued focus, Jason is building on the foundation of his debut project. Whether backed by a full band or with just a guitar, Jason's songs combine equal parts musical and vocal excellence: proclaiming a love of all things Midwest. "This is an amazing journey that has brought me to an amazing place in my life, I've found a respect for other artists I've never had before. I thank God for the talents and responsibilities he's given me and the power of how a song can change a person's life. I see some of my friends winning awards and such and I am so happy for them. If we make it there someday that would be great, but to me, the best reward for what I do is finding that perfect song that tells the story of how I'm feeling or says what I want to say. It's a lot of hard work, with long hours and tremendous sacrifices at times, but it's what I love, it's who I am. As long as my family and fans keep singing along with me, I'll keep singing with them," Jason says.

Easton Corbin

Saturday, July 23, 2022

Easton Corbin has been gracing stages with his memorable baritone and unique blend of traditional and modern country music for more than a decade. The Florida native, who boasts two No. 1 singles with “A Little More Country Than That” and “Roll With It,” embarks on a new musical chapter with his recent signing to Stone Country Records. Corbin teams with industry veterans Benny Brown, Paul Brown and Jason

Sellers as the label’s flagship artist.

Corbin says he and Music Row mainstay Benny Brown initially met and bonded over their mutual love of traditional country music. No stranger to the writing room himself, Corbin has penned songs with Sellers ahead of signing with the independent label. The singer, who has spent several years as an independent artist following nearly a decade with Mercury Nashville, says he’s in a great position being Stone Country’s flagship artist.

“They let me do what I want to do and let me be me, which is very important,” the singer says.

Corbin’s neotraditional sound shines through on “I Can’t Decide,” his debut single for the label. Soaring pedal steel and ear-grabbing fiddle accompaniment combined with a driving beat, plucked guitar rhythms and Corbin’s warm baritone further accentuate the up-tempo song.

Corbin wrote “I Can’t Decide” three years ago with producer Wade Kirby and esteemed songwriters Ashley Gorley and Rhett Akins. The singer, who American Songwriter has praised as “one of those rare, glorious voices that was made for singing country,” has been performing the song on the road since he wrote it and says “I Can’t Decide” always grabs the audience’s attention.

“I immediately knew it was something special,” he says. “It’s very contagious. I love the melody; I love the lyrics and to me it just feels like a hit.”

Label boss Brown thought the same. “Benny is very involved and [‘I Can’t Decide’] rose to the top,” Corbin says.

Corbin describes Brown as “a song guy,” and it was Brown who suggested the singer team up with Kirby and Derek George as producers. “They bring a fresh sound,” Corbin says of co-producers Kirby and George.

The Florida native continues to write with longtime producer Carson Chamberlain as well as Kirby, Shane Minor, Adam Craig and Wyatt McCubbin, who he penned the romantic wedding song “Marry That Girl” with. Corbin says the past three years have allowed him to focus more seriously on writing music and finding the message he wants to convey to listeners on his forthcoming project.

“It’s about being authentic and that’s what I try to shoot for when I write or record,” he says. “I keep one foot in traditional and one foot in the modern and marry those two. That’s really been my motto through the years.”

And he’s had a successful time doing so. Throughout his career, Corbin has amassed seven top 10 singles and three American Country Awards. Named Billboard’s 2010 Top New Country Artist, Corbin has never shied away from his traditional roots with Your Big Sky complimenting his “unapologetic and unwavering traditional country sound.” His self-titled debut album was named Country Breakthrough Album of the Year by iTunes Rewind Best of 2010 while American Songwriter has complimented the singer’s “warm, smooth-as-gravy-southern drawl.”

Along the way, Corbin hasn’t forgotten his roots. The young boy who grew up listening to Merle Haggard and Hank Williams with his grandparents remembers where he came from.

“I do love traditional country music,” he says. “That’s what drew me to country music.”

As Corbin embarks on his next chapter with Stone Country Records, the singer promises to honor those roots and says “I Can’t Decide” is just a taste of what’s to come.

“I think it’s a good mixture of the traditional and modern,” he says of the upcoming project. “It’s a good mixture of that up-tempo, midtempo, a few ballads here and there. That song is a good representation of what’s coming. I’m really fired up about this brand new opportunity.”

NEMO Fair

Grand Marshalls for 2022 are

Gaylen and Cindy Hill

Gaylen was born and raised in Humphreys MO in Sullivan County. He spent his youth riding horses all over the county with his best friend Jimmy Tipton. Gaylen was a member of the Humphreys 4H club and credits that as the best experience he ever had! His club produced outstanding beef cattle and they qualified to show multiple years at the Interstate Beef 4H Show in St Joe, MO. It was a highly competitive end of year cattle show representing top producers from 4 states including Missouri, Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska. The stockyards would shut down for an entire week for the show.

It was because of his experience in 4-H he knew he always wanted to be a Veterinarian. He graduated from the University of Missouri in 1965 with a BS in Agriculture and in 1967 with a Doctor of Veterinarian Medicine (DVM). Cindy graduated from the University of Missouri in 1963 with a BS in Food and Nutrition. They moved to Kirksville in 1967 where Gaylen has practiced medicine for the past 55 years devoted largely to farm animals. He claims the best part of his job was the people he worked for and the animals he worked on. Cindy became a Registered Dietician in 1968 and served Adair County for over 50 years including 15 years managing the WIC program.

Gaylen and Cindy served as leaders of the Challenger 4-H club in Kirksville for many years where all four of their kids (David, Curtis, Gayla, John) were members. They also served as beef and food project leaders to lots of 4H members. Cindy oversaw the clubs freshly squeezed lemonade stand during the NEMO fair each year. She also served on the NEMO Fairboard for several years in the 1980s.

Gaylen and Cindy made it their goal to help as many 4H kids as they could over the years. They have been an asset to our agricultural community as well as mentors for many 4-H and FFA youth in our area. They have given back to the community through their time, energy and love of the fair, livestock and agriculture. In appreciation of the hard work and dedication that Gaylen and Cindy have given in the agricultural community of Adair and surrounding counties we thank them and honor them as the 2022 NEMO Fair Grand Marshalls.

4-H & FFA BUILDING EXHIBITS

Superintendents: Grace Byrn
Karmaren McGinnis

Entry Date: Monday, July 18 (see schedule on next page for times)

GENERAL RULES

1. Each exhibitor shall be required to wear the official 4-H/FFA t-shirt of the Fair and their assigned exhibitor number at the time of all judging events.
2. Items made by 4-H members should reflect the skills they have learned in their 4-H project during the current program year, the needs and interests of the 4-H'er, and quality workmanship. Use the 4-H project literature and the "Clover" for exhibit ideas and criteria. "4-H is an out-of-school education program. Consequently, articles made in school under the supervision of teachers and on which students receive school credit do not qualify as 4-H project work. This is a duplication of credit for single effort and to a large extent, prevents 4-H from achieving its full objectives."
3. Exhibits are displayed at the risk of the individual 4-H/FFA member. The 4-H staff, FFA staff, University Extension Council or staff and NEMO Fairboard are not responsible for loss or damage to items.
4. Only Adair County 4-H and FFA exhibitors may advance to the State Fair. Exhibits must be of blue ribbon quality to advance to the State Fair or to receive awards. Members are limited to two exhibits in the State Fair 4-H Building.
5. The number of exhibits per class that Adair County may enter is printed in bracketed numbers in the class listing. Those exhibits from outside Adair County will have had the opportunity for state fair evaluation in the home county of the exhibitor.
6. 4-H members may exhibit only in projects in which they are enrolled in the current 4-H year. Items exhibited must be made in the current year and must be the work of the 4-H member submitting the exhibit. Scrapbooks made in projects other than class 315 will be displayed in the Library at the State Fair. Notebooks, recipes, binders should not accompany any exhibit.
7. A member may enter up to three exhibit items per project. Each item must be registered at nemo.fairwire.com. Registration Deadline is July 6, 2022 by 11:59 pm. Late entries will be accepted at the fair office until check-in time. Double fees

FFA DIVISION

This section provides an opportunity for the public to develop an appreciation of this important phase of agricultural education and FFA programs. Also, it provides a means of giving recognition for accomplishments in this area and furnishes opportunities for exchanging ideas. Online registration at nemo.fairwire.com.

Exhibits must be checked in Monday, July 18. All exhibits will be released on Sunday, July 24, 7 am - 9 am. Any items not picked up are left at exhibitor's risk. All entries must have been grown, produced by the exhibitor as a part of his or her supervised occupational experience program. All samples must have been produced during the year specified for the class. The exhibitor shall be keeping records of such entries in the approved Missouri Farm Business Record Book and reporting such enterprises on the departmental VA-3 (Report of the Students SAE Program) and have on file validating forms with the school's departmental records.

Only exhibits of high quality and purity will be judged as eligible for premiums. Only blue ribbon exhibits can be selected for a trophy or award.

FFA COUNTRY CURED HAMS EXHIBITS

1. Hams in this class must consist of hams that have been cured country style.
2. Ham weights accepted from 10 pounds to 22 pounds, inclusive.
3. Top FFA ham overall (Adair County exhibitors only) will be eligible to sell at the livestock sale.
4. The number of entries shall not exceed 2 per person.
5. Hams in this class will be divided by weight after they are entered into the show by the Superintendent to equalize class size.
6. Commercial hams in this class will consist of whole hams with bone in and may not be cut or sliced. Hams shall be cured mildly and may or may not be tenderized. This class is considered to consist principally of pumped hams.
7. To maximize the member's learning experience, members showing in youth classes are encouraged to do their own project work. The parent and child should decide how much the member is able to do on their own, but having someone else totally do the work for the member is inappropriate.
8. All hams in this class must be USDA inspected either at the origin or at the end of processing. Verification of inspection should be available upon request.

6. Projects built to be used as one unit should be entered as one entry and not entered separately. (Ex.: Trailer ramps should not be entered separately from the trailer if the trailer is being exhibited.)
