BUILDING FROM A SOLID FOUNDATION

January 16, 2015

To Whom It May Concern,

Please allow me to take this opportunity to introduce myself and tell you a little bit about our company. My name is Paul Hernandez and I am a General Contractor. I am the President & CEO of Hernandez Builders, Inc. My wife and I started the company in 2009. Prior to starting the company I worked with several well-known General Contractors in the Inland Empire and San Diego area over the course of 35 years.

As a Project Superintendent and Project Manager I have numerous years of experience managing daily events and schedules including working with multiple scheduling programs including Primavera and SureTrak, formulating project activates/ budgets, field supervision, plan reviewing and forecasting design errors prior to execution of the project. I have worked closely with several key architects and engineers and have brought their firms aboard when design build and value engineering is requested.

As a general contractor I have had the opportunity to work with multiple clients. One of our largest over the years has been Valley View Hotel and Casino. We have been referred to as their contractor of choice on multiple projects. We had the privilege participating with them on a 3,500 gallon salt water aquarium that was featured on the Animal Planet television show Tanked and has been one of their showcase projects. We were able to design build the infrastructure as well as the finishes.

Some of our other clients include, The Garret Group, Wright Management Services, Casino Pauma to name a few. We recently completed our certification with the SBA as 8(a) contractor and have begun working with GSA, DHS- ICE. We specialize in commercial tenant improvements but have the ability to turn-key ground up projects due to my extensive back ground in turn-key multi million dollar projects with the largest being $8.2 million. We have a strong team of individuals and subcontractors that we work with on a daily basis.

We would appreciate the opportunity to provide our services to assist you with your next construction or consulting need. We pride ourselves on the ability to successfully turn-key projects in a timely and cost effective manner.

Sincerely,

Paul Hernandez
