TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

RE: Gary McDuff

It is with great pleasure that I can write a character reference for my friend GARY MCDUFF.

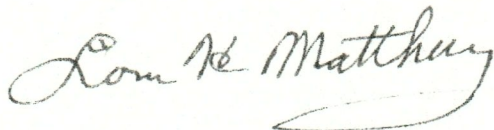

I have known Gary since he was a child. He comes from good stock, a great Christian family background. I watched him grow up as a young child and was amazed at his rare combination of creativity, talent and originality. I remember watching him play drums with Elvis many years ago with the Imperials Quartet. There did not seem to be any end to his abilities.

I have found Gary always honest with me, very generous and cordial.

In later life, Gary's intelligence and business creativity were an amazing phenomenon to see. I had an insight into his heart one day when I asked him: "Gary, how do you do what you do in the business world?" He answered, "I ask God to show me how I can serve people and meet their need"; that's Gary's heart.

I speak highly of Gary and wish the very best for him in the years to come.

Yours truly,
