Dear Martin

Re: Taking Back Justice – Letter of Intent

The Circa Pictures Entertainment Console. It has a Patent Pending switching interface allowing the consumer to switch between Internet and Television with ease. This is one of the first user friendly console boxes that gives us the power to deliver content directly to users. The Console will also be white labelled and we have interest from all over the world.

We are looking for unique content and are very interested in distributing through our platform Taking Back Justice the Reality television show to the home market. We feel this is a natural alliance especially as we see the console being used for content to promote social justice including the availability to distribute the show non exclusively to any device via our platform. .

Circa Pictures is a publically traded company on the OTC.BB

Yours sincerely,
