

Heavenly Father, too often I overlook technological and other advances that come from you. They make life easier and more comfortable for billions of persons around the world. Your natural laws permeate creation, and human reason toils to unearth and apply this interconnectedness in pursuing progress. Forgive me for dismissing the millions of hours that led to advancement in many areas. Bless pure and applied research and inventiveness that seek to preserve the earth, overcome the ravages of disease, starvation and pollution and extend the wellbeing of all human beings. Give scientists and inventors wisdom to design, implement and evaluate their work in ways that please you. I pray in the name of the Lord Jesus. Amen
