Who is Bahiyah?

Bahiyah Shabazz is an investment strategist, business economist, and author who helps the community invest through wealth building to close the equity gap. Through a financial and economic background, she advises on how to break down numbers to build for-profit through planning, investing, and positive economic growth.

Shabazz is the owner of Decimalytics and Brown Girls Do Invest. She is also an Economics Professor at Ivy Tech College.

Bahiyah Shabazz is a Doctoral Candidate for the Doctor of Business Administration specializing in Finance at Walden University. She has a Global Financial Crisis certificate from Yale University, a public policy certificate, behavior economics, and a former financial advisor.

Navigate the Economy to Close the Gap

Why Bahiyah?

"Thank you for bringing hundreds of women together to discuss reclaiming our wealth! Never have I been in a room with so many women that look like me discussing stocks, investment accounts, and real estate.."

— Nicole J., BGDJ Tour Attendee

"I am so excited. I just finished a seminar (with Bahiyah). I learned so much. I came in not knowing much but now I feel fully equipped to know what to do with my finances or at least who to reach out to get more information. Thank you so much. I'm glad that I could be here".

— Natalie Imani, Singer/Songwriter

"I have been enormously enlightened. What an awesome way to kick start Q2!."

— Qui Support Solutions

"I loved your presentation and thank you for all you do in this world of finance and financial education. It is so important for our people to get a better hold of their finances and investing. I'm so into empowering people and especially black and brown people on the importance of building wealth and leaving a legacy."

— Antoinette Freeman, Financial Advisor, Edward Jones
