

Bowhunting Joke 1

A man and his friend were bowhunting in a stand just off a county road. A massive 10-point walks by and one of the guys gets to full-draw and settles his pin.....

Before he could release the arrow, his buddy points to a funeral procession passing on the road near his stand.....

The hunter slowly lets-down the arrow, takes off his hat, bows his head and closed his eyes in prayer.....the big buck walks off into the timber....

His friend was amazed. "Wow! That was the most thoughtful and touching thing I have ever seen"

The bowhunter shrugged his shoulders and said "yeah, well, we were married for 35 years....."
