Changing Races – Race Day

Morning of / Pre-Race:

Participants who wish to downgrade race/distance the morning of the event must obtain a new bib reflecting the race he/she wishes to participate in. WRM bibs are color coded specifically for each distance. Bibs may be obtained from event staff or timing officials.

Having the correct bib allows staff and other runners to correctly identify the runner. This comes into play for photos, turn around points, runner recognition of competitors and other related matters. Runners who switch down and receive their corrected bib will be eligible for awards. WRM and the Race Director reserve the right to review specific situations where runners switch down and may ultimately decide that the runner is ineligible for awards.

During the Race:

Participants may find that they are unable to finish their intended race and during the course of the event decide to downgrade to a lesser distance, i.e. the runner cannot finish the marathon and opt to complete his/her day with the half. In this case, the runner will receive a DNF (Did Not Finish) for the marathon. The runner's time for completing half of the marathon will entitle him/her to a Half Finishers Medal, however the runner will be ineligible for awards or overall placing in the Half Marathon, i.e. the runner did not complete the intended race.

In lieu of deferment, the White River Marathon for Kenya may allow registrants to push registrations to the following year by means of using a provided discount code. Requests may only be considered if the request is emailed to the Race Director at least 7 days prior to race day. The submission of the request does not imply that the registrant will automatically receive a discount code
