You and Dave have a great gift and a great partnership in the presentation. The tone of authentic connection and the coaching to be free, open, enthusiastic, listening and laughing together actually changed us, as a team, in a powerful way.

We all had different anticipations of the afternoon, but everyone, it seemed, without exception, found the experience you nurtured expansive and refreshing and delightful fun, and truly bonding for us.

Today's workshop was an astounding success, and I attribute the teachers' shared enthusiasm, efforts, engagement, and collaborative contributions to the joy, laughter, perspective, and team building with which you so expertly opened the day! More was accomplished in today's eight hours than has been accomplished in the past four years of the program; it was a day focused on meaningful, relevant, and purposeful student-focused work and intention.
