From Conception to End-of-Life Care / Defending Life from Beginning to End
This is your opportunity to ask questions and get Church teachings with answers.

From Father Kyle,

“The moral life is intimately related to eternal life. Since we were created by a Loving Father for a specific purpose according to a certain plan, we must use our God-given ability to reason to learn how to obey that same loving Father. This obedience can be difficult in the “gray” areas of morality which science has uncovered. Come learn what the Catholic Church teaches about ordinary/extraordinary means in the context of end-of-life care. You will also learn the basic principles, both theological and biological, guiding our firm belief that life starts at conception.”
