

A photograph of a street scene featuring a double rainbow. The sky is filled with grey, overcast clouds. Two distinct rainbows are visible, one above the other, stretching across the frame. In the foreground, several utility poles with multiple cross-arms and power lines are visible. Below the rainbows, there is a dense line of green trees and bushes. In the lower part of the image, several traffic lights are visible, some showing yellow lights. The overall scene is a mix of natural beauty and urban infrastructure.
