NYC to PARIS 1908-2018 "A DRIVING ADVENTURE"

We want to introduce 2018NYtoParis. On February 12, 1908, six cars departed NYC for Paris, France with 250,000 Times Square spectators looking on. Three of those cars completed the 1908 Great Race, with the winning car a 1907 Thomas Flyer driven by George Schuster of Springville, NY. Please read his story at TheGreatAutorace.com. We will be following George Schuster's route as closely as possible as we circle the globe driving our own automobiles.

In June 2018 there will be a group of vintage cars departing from NYC for Paris, France. Our goal is to retrace the original route. Traveling with us, to help in this special journey, will be the Great Grandson (Jeff Mahl) of George Schuster, documenting our route city by city. George traveled over 22,000 miles in 169 days and he still holds the world record. We are not out to break his record. Our goal is to simply make our own history on the 110th anniversary, taking our time to enjoy scenic and historic places like Mt. Fuji, Japan; Lake Baikal, Siberia; Ekaterinburg, Moscow, Russia and Berlin to name just a few of the stops along this great journey. Please review the three websites below for a closer look at the original 1908 route. Visit 2018NYtoParis.com for more details
