With the 2017 Summer Reading Program coming to an end, participants celebrated their accomplishments with an end of the program party on July 27th with 55 participants in attendance along with their guests. Over 3,000 books were read by the 120 participants. Second grader Emma read the most books with 310, helping the green team take the lead and finishing the program in first place. Emma received a gift basket of goodies donated by Independent Bank.

This year's theme of Build a Better World encouraged participants in a variety of activities including an exercising class, Lego building and taco building with Chef Dennis.

We have enjoyed seeing the children come in and explore new reading materials! While the 2017 Summer Reading Program may have come to an end, be on the look out for upcoming program details through the next few months.

We also will be doing the storybook walk once again. Stop in after you complete the walk to receive a sticker! The walk will begin right outside the library and head down the sidewalk, turning left and crossing the street and heading back towards the library.

UPCOMING MOVIE RELEASE

The Case for Christ

Alarmed by his wife's sudden devotion to Christianity, an atheist journalist (Mike Vogel) sets out to prove that the religion is a sham. Instead, his investigation leads him to become a believer himself. Erika Christensen, Faye Dunaway, and Robert Forster co-star. Based on the true story of Lee Strobel, author of the best-selling book The Case for Christ.

Snatched

After her boyfriend dumps her on the eve of their exotic vacation, impetuous dreamer Emily Middleton persuades her ultra-cautious mother, Linda to travel with her to paradise. Polar opposites, Emily and Linda realize that working through their differences as mother and daughter - in unpredictable, hilarious fashion - is the only way to escape the wildly outrageous jungle adventure they have fallen into.

UPCOMING ADULT NON-FICTION

To Siri with Love

by Judith Newman

From the author of the viral New York Times op-ed column "To Siri with Love" comes a collection of touching, hilarious, and illuminating stories about life with a thirteen-year-old boy with autism that hold insights and revelations for us all. When Judith Newman shared the story of how Apple's electronic personal assistant, Siri, helped Gus, her son who has autism, she received widespread media attention and an outpouring of affection from readers around the world. Basking in the afterglow of media attention, Gus told anyone who would listen, "I'm a movie star." Judith's story of her son and his bond with Siri was an unusual tribute to technology. While many worry that our electronic gadgets are dumbing us down, she revealed how they can give voice to others, including children with autism like Gus—a boy who has trouble looking people in the eye, hops when he's happy, and connects with inanimate objects on an empathetic level. To Siri with Love is a collection of funny, poignant, and uplifting stories about living with an extraordinary child who has helped a parent see and experience the world differently. From the charming (Gus weeping with sympathy over the buses that would lie unused while the bus drivers were on strike) to the painful (paying $22,000 for a behaviorist in Manhattan to teach Gus to use a urinal) to the humorous (Gus's insistence on getting naked during all meals, whether at home or not, because he does not want to get his clothes dirty) to the profound (how an automated "assistant" helped a boy learn how to communicate with the rest of the world), the stories in To Siri with Love open our eyes to the magic and challenges of a life beyond the ordinary.

The Color of Fear

by Marcia Muller

When a knock on the door in the middle of the night wakes Sharon, she's wholly unprepared for the horrifying news: her father has been the victim of a vicious, racially-motivated attack. A nationally recognized Shoshone artist, Elwood had been visiting Sharon for the holidays, browsing for gifts in San Francisco's exclusive Marina district when he was set upon by a mob of angry young men. Now he lies in a coma, hovering between life and death. With little progress on the investigation from the overworked, short-handed police, Sharon resolves to track down Elwood's attackers herself. But when Sharon begins receiving hate-filled, racist threats from a shadowy group, it becomes clear that her pursuit of justice may be putting her own life in jeopardy...
