

Minnesota Music Hall of Fame Inductee

Daisy Dillman Band

Inducted in 2006

The Daisy Dillman Band formed in 1976 simply because Pat Frederick, Steve Solmonson, Steve Seamans and Michael Wold liked each other's music making and especially singing. When drummer Dan Flaherty joined the group, that was when the magic started.

Within months, the band became favorites in the region and bussed hundreds of miles through lake country to play in every imaginable venue.

Their first self-titled LP was recommended in several nation trade publications and led to a second record with RCA. Their "Lovin' the Night Away" and made the Billboard Top 40 charts.

In 2003, they had a reunion in the Twin Cities and now performs several reunion shows each year for their faithful fans.