

Seminar: Sexual Harassment

“ If you want to learn from a fast paced, well educated, and entertaining presenter than you must go to one of Kristine’s seminars. I haven’t seen any better.

Sexual Harassment Seminar:

Sexual harassment claims continue to grow in the work place. With social media, smart phones, and emails your work place is a bigger target than ever.

Employees need to be educated on what is harassment; harassment is not just sexual in nature. It also involves discrimination based on gender. And how is gender defined today? Laws change fast and so do definitions. We’re here to make it quick and easy for everyone to become fully aware of harassment and discrimination issues. New laws require anti-bullying training; we knock out two requirements in one seminar.

This engaging two hour interactive seminar teaches awareness of what and when harassment and discrimination become a work place issue. Learn what harassment is, what to do about it, how to conduct an investigation, and what to do with your findings.

* Each attendee receives a Certificate of Attendance for compliance requirements.

Like you, business consultant Kristine McCardle has seen workplace laws change numerous times over the years. Is this comment or conversation legal? Is this a legal question? Can I no longer say this or that?

With over fifteen years of executive coaching, speaking, and most importantly, real-life, in-the-trenches business experience, her approach is radically different.

Kristine is sometimes referred to as the “Provocateur” for her ability to stir up a group or the “People Whisperer” for her coaching skills that brings out the best in people. She’s also known for her high energy and entertaining style. Kristine’s fusion of real-life stories and conversational techniques connect with her audience at an engaging, intense and individual level.
