

- g. Buffos: They are definitely around! If walking after dark or before sunrise, keep a sharp look-out for them. They are capable of killing a dog and badly poisoning a human.

3. New Business

- a. Dress Code: Yes, there is a dress code. Our dining room should be treated as a high-end restaurant, not a fast-food diner. Consequently residents (and please tell your families and invited guests) that men should not be wearing hats (baseball or otherwise) or tank tops or shorts or rubber slippers. Women hopefully will not wear dressing gowns to breakfast.

We are being presented with a lovely brand-new Dining Room and an opportunity to return to the "Gracious Living" that has been Holiday's logo.

- b. Room Set-up: Two requests: (1) that a room ear-marked for an activity, be set up ahead of time by management (Council, Res/Mgmt., games, events), and (2) that at least 10-15 minutes be scheduled between events when used in the same room. Several conflicts and angry residents occurred recently. Management will take care of.
- c. Breezeways: Getting wet during heavy rains. Management will take care of it.
- d. Vehicle Parking: Michael allocated the areas to be used to residents, guests, and buses. He will again clarify those areas on November's meeting, plus the use of a decal for your car. In the meantime: NO vehicle is to be parked by the front door; even for "I'll be back in five minutes after I drop something off to my mother". That area is for fire trucks and ambulances and our shuttle buses ONLY. There is ample parking nearby.
- e. More reminders from Michael: Do not stop housemen or maintenance men to request some assistance. They are on a fixed schedule and will be sanctioned if they have not addressed that schedule. USE THE SIGN UP SHEET.
- f. Do not be afraid to use your "button" at any time. Be assured that every time you need assistance, the person who answers will also be sending your message to either the police, fire, ambulance AND TO MICHAEL OR JOANN OR STEPHANIE. If you use your phone to call 911, they do not have the GPS your button has, to guide them to exactly where you are when you cal.
