This certificate is not valid unless it contains the purchaser's Sales and Use Tax Registration Number. It must be signed by the owner or authorized officer and must be dated.

If the issuer of the certificate buys from the seller items which do not qualify for tax exemption, the issuer should advise the seller to charge the appropriate tax of such items. Otherwise, the purchaser is required to report use tax directly to the Department of Finance and Review.

The seller must retain all Certificates of Resale on file to substantiate exemptions in the event of a Sales and Use Tax Audit.

Purchasers who are located outside Maryland and who make no retail sales in Maryland may, upon application, be issued a Maryland Certificate of Registration in order that they may furnish a Certificate of Resale for items intended for resale outside the state of Maryland.
