Brethren,

I hope you and your families are having a great summer! As you may or may not know last month W.B. Paul Chavez relocated to Eugene Oregon, we wish him well and look forward to seeing him in the near future. With W.B. Paul's departure we had a bit of hole in our ritual work, however a number of our newer members have stepped up to fill in the gaps. Thank you all for challenging yourself and stepping up to help as needed. It's important we challenge ourselves and try and perform our ritual "work" to the best of our abilities to deliver a clear positive message to our candidates.

We are working on getting more involved with our local community in the coming months and years. We may be hosting an open house in September and we are moving along on our planned building renovation/retrofit project. I appreciate the willingness of our members to help with our recent building cleanup night and other odd jobs that quietly get repaired around our building. Please try and attend our summer business casual stated meeting August 5th even if you haven't been out to a meeting lately you are always welcome.

Fraternally,
Brian Calverley

Our Trestleboard

Still in my first year as a Mason, I have already received much from Masonry that has had a positive impact on my life. The lessons imparted through the lectures and rituals and the knowledge stored in the symbols of Masonry are gifts that I and every Mason can appreciate and apply to our own lives in a meaningful way. One of the first symbols to which we are introduced is this, the Trestleboard. We're taught about it, that the Operative Mason would follow designs drawn on it by the master, who would use the Trestleboard to communicate the plans for the work, both long term and immediate. As this was the case, the Trestleboard has come to symbolize the plan each of us makes for our own future development and growth. It also continues to be the literal method of communicating the plans and goals of the Lodge to the Brethren. While the format has changed with time, the idea behind it has remained the same for Mason and Lodge alike; for any great or important task to be undertaken with success, there must be a plan. A reference provided by the Grand Lodge of California, entitled the Lodge Plan, recalls an old saying: "Vision without Action is merely dreaming. Action without Vision is just passing time." The saying concludes: "but Vision joined with Action, defines your future." We should hereby be reminded of our own power to define our future and our obligation to that very same future, to fit it with the best which we can manage from ourselves; each of us personally, the Lodge as a unit and Masonry as a whole. The Trestleboard is both our literal and symbolic tool for joining our 'Vision' with our 'Action' and defining our future -- the future of each of us and that of us together -- as one of growth and prosperity. Here is looking forward to the good work of such a future with you my brothers!

With sincere and loyal fraternity,

Peter M. "Pete" Cardilla
