- 4 Very
- 6 Adequately
- 4 Somewhat
- 0 Not at all
- 0 No comment

Please comment on the following areas and be as specific as possible.

13. What are the instructor's teaching strengths?

- Clear explanations of theoretical and philosophical concepts, good examples
- He allows the students to debate the subjects very well and he makes sure to find ways to reinforce what he is teaching even with the speed-up course
- He was very clear explaining the logistical aspects and the material in general. His enthusiasm contributed to teaching such a complex, vague course. He answered questions that accommodated to students with various understanding levels of the course's material. He also tried his best explaining the material to the class but constant repetition which was helpful for a course like this one.
- Lectured well. Very enthusiastic and friendly.
- Passion for the subject and eloquence. He taught all of the lessons and concepts in a clear and concise fashion
- The professor really pushed us to go beyond the course readings. Our participation points had to be earned instead of JUST showing up and being there. We had to show we were paying attention by participating in class discussion which in turn benefits us because we do better on quizzes and final exams.
- This professor was very passionate about the subject and often used real world example. This professor created an open space for discussion and was very democratic and open-minded. This professor was good at creating interest and debate in the subject.
- Very patient, easy to talk to, explains complicated concepts well, shows enthusiasm, easy to reach outside of class and office hours. Goes above and beyond for his students. Best professor I've had so far.
