Definition of Transition Services

707 KAR 1:002 Section 1 (62)(a)(b)(c)

Transition services means a coordinated set of activities for a student with a disability that:

- Is designed to be within a results-oriented process that is focused on improving the academic and functional achievement of the child with a disability to facilitate the child's movement from school to post-school activities, including postsecondary education, vocational training, integrated employment (including supported employment), continuing and adult education, adult services, independent living, or community participation;
- Is based on the individual student's needs, taking into account the child's strengths, preferences, and interests; and
- Includes:
 - Instruction
 - Related services
 - Community experiences
 - The development of employment and other post-school adult living objectives; and
 - If appropriate, acquisition of daily living skills and functional vocational evaluation.

The Arc of Kentucky is pleased to provide this I AM DETERMINED Transitioning Youth from School to Adult Life Resource Directory. The Directory provides educators, families and students with valuable information about services and resources during and after high school. The purpose of the Directory is to identify the quality of transition services for students, age 14 through 21 who have intellectual and/or developmental disabilities with Individual Education Programs within the Commonwealth of Kentucky. The vision is for all youth to turn their dreams into reality by empowering them to do so through access to information leading to real choices, possibilities and meaningful community connections for their futures.

The I AM DETERMINED Directory is available free of charge and made possible through funding from The Arc of the United States, a sub-grant award from the Walmart Foundation, and support from the Kentucky Department of Education. It is available in print, CD, The Arc of Kentucky and Department of Education websites where it is linked to each organization and agency that has a website and posted email address.

Counties along with the regional education cooperatives and a statewide map are located in the front of the Directory. Topics included are adult services, career preparation and employment, postsecondary education and training, secondary education, supportive services, youth development, leadership and self-determination. Resources listed may vary in each region as Resource Mapping was initiated and used by Focus Groups to determine available resources and current procedures of the transitional program for individuals transitioning from school to adulthood in each region. The Focus Groups across the state included local Arc's, local Health Departments, Family Resource and Youth Services Centers, Parent Resource Centers, Independent Living Centers, school personnel, providers of services, students, self-advocates, family members, and others.

Key stakeholders in the project include The Arc of Kentucky, Kentucky Department of Education, Kentucky Department of Vocational Rehabilitation, Cabinet for Health and Family Services - Family Resource and Youth Services Centers, Kentucky Protection and Advocacy, the University of Kentucky Human Development Institute, Post Secondary Education, students and parents. The artwork on the cover and located throughout the directory are the winning entries of the project's "What Transition Looks Like to Me" art contest. A special thanks to Ron and Beth Harrison, Lexington, for sponsorship of the contest.

We hope this Resource Directory will help its users to connect with other individuals, families, organizations, agencies, and others that enhance successful transition to adulthood. Remember that you are not alone. We wish all who view and use this Directory the best and hope you enjoy the I AM DETERMINED Resource Directory as much as we have enjoyed putting it together for you.

No single directory can include every available resource. If you have additional information or corrections that could be helpful in the transition process, please forward to the address below.

JUST FOR STUDENTS AND THEIR PARENTS AND TEACHERS
PHONE INTERVIEW GUIDE AND SCRIPT

JUST FOR STUDENTS AND THEIR PARENTS

The high school years are the time for students and parents to take an active role in planning for life after high school. There is a big change from the public school that has been providing services and the adult world where if you want a service you have to go after it!

Where will the student be working, getting training or going to school or living after high school? This is time to do some serious futures planning.

Students should take a more active role in the development of their IEP. It is their life and they need to be the ones planning it. At age 14 or in the eighth grade students start looking at transition in their IEP (individualized Education Plan) that is to be based on their strengths, needs and interests. The IEP is a written plan of action that tells how special education services will be provided to make sure the student makes progress in the general curriculum and prepare the student for further education, employment and independent living.

Parents are always a member of the team that develops the IEP. Students can start coming at any time but they must be invited to come at age 14 or in the eighth grade.

For the meeting where transition is discussed they need to have some gathered information, thought about the future, and what goals they want to work toward. They can share this information in a variety of ways such as Goals area written for after High School and should look like this.....

Students should have IEP goals that tie to their transition goals.

Some things to consider:

For training and education:

Does the student know about his/her disability and the accommodations they currently use? Are they able to ask for assistance? Do they know how to contact the Disability Office at the college?

For employment: have they considered what work they would like to do, have they job shadowed or talked to others in the field?

For independent living: how will they get to work or training, do they know how to budget, can they take care of themselves and their living space.

Additional notes: Try; take risks, hobbies, free time

Did You Know?

That beginning at age 14 – or grade 8 (whichever comes first) all students must be invited to their ARC meetings?

JUST FOR TEACHERS

Transition is the time to encourage students to take a more active role in deciding what they want to do in the future for post- secondary education, employment and adult living.

We know that:

- ✓ Invitation to meetings has not led to participation.
- ✓ Most students are not actively involved in their ARC/IEP development.
- ✓ Few students have goals promoting self-determination.
- ✓ Students must be taught how to participate in their meetings.

They need to develop self-determination and self-advocacy skills as they learn about:

- ✓ Their disability
- ✓ Laws that protect their civil rights
- ✓ Their strengths and needs
- ✓ Accommodations that enhance their success
- ✓ The IEP and ARC meeting.

Research is showing that the Self-Directed IEP is an evidence based practice that leads to positive outcomes for students with disabilities in school. Every student with mild, moderate, or severe disabilities in any instructional setting should be involved to whatever level of understanding they have so that they can be successful in their school, community and prepared to handle the challenges for the next part of their lives.

They need to be learning

1. Communication Skills
2. Self-Understanding (including strengths, needs, effects of disability, ability to disclose disability, and requesting needed accommodations)
3. Self-Advocacy Skills
4. Goal Setting (Problem Solving/Decision Making)
5. Social Skills

There are materials, resources and places in this directory that can help you. In addition, all the Cooperatives have a box of materials and information on student –directed IEP’s.

Did You Know?

That beginning at age 16 students must develop post secondary goals?

EMPLOYMENT
SOCIAL SECURITY

“At the age of two Rachel began attending the Early Childhood Development Center. She worked on transition beginning in the 6th grade and continued into high school which set the stage for her to graduate with her class. She graduated with a High School Diploma. Rachel was always included in ARC meetings where she talked about the kinds of things she was interested in like a college education, employment, volunteer activities, possibilities and choices in the community. The planning process helped her prepare for the future. She now participates in the consumer directed option in the Medicaid Waiver program. Eventually Rachel would like to start her own business.”

Denise Whitaker, McKee

EDUCATION

All children living in the United States who have disabilities, age three to twenty-one, have the right to a free, appropriate, public education (FAPE). Some children with disabilities will qualify for special education services provided under several different laws – Individuals with Disabilities Education (Improvement) Act (IDEA), Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and/or the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

IDEA FOR KIDS

“Congress finds the following: Disability is a natural part of the human experience and in no way diminishes the right of the individuals to participate in or contribute to society.” IDEA

With the passage of IDEA, Congress made its intent clear...”Improving educational results for children with disabilities is an essential element of our national policy of ensuring:

- Equality of opportunity
- Full participation
- Independent living
- Economic self-sufficiency”

“.....and to ensure that such children benefit from such efforts and that special education can become a service for such children rather than a place where such children are sent.....”

Right – legal right. Special education laws are civil rights laws. There have been many efforts to open public education to children with disabilities. Landmark decisions: Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Pennsylvania Assn. for Retarded Children Vs the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in 1971 for discrimination in not educating children with disabilities and the Americans with Disabilities Act in 1990 are just a few.

What does Free Appropriate Public Education – FAPE mean? Taking it word by word:

Free – at no cost (still pay the same fees typical children pay when attending school)

Appropriate – “Like many statutory definitions, this one tends toward the cryptic rather than the comprehensive.” Supreme Court in Hendrick Hudson Central School District Vs Amy Rowley

FAPE emphasizes: specifically designed instruction and related services designed to meet the child’s unique needs & prepare him/her for further education, employment and independent living.

The Admissions & Release Committee (ARC) often referred to as the IEP team has the job of developing F Appropriate P E. – FAPE

Members of the ARC include: parents (or person legally responsible for making educational decisions) regular education teacher, special education teacher, supervise the provision of specially designed instruction, knows the general curriculum and resources of the district and others who may be therapists, consultants, etc. ARC members are “equal” in the decision making process. “Separation” occurs if the parent and school disagree.

Public – At public expense, under public supervision & direction, meets standards of State Educational agency, has appropriate elementary, secondary school education and conforms to the Individual Education Program (IEP).

Education – Having high expectations, ensuring access to general education in the regular classroom to the maximum extent possible, strengthen role & responsibilities of parents, coordinate with improvements in education, provide appropriate special education & related services, aids and supports in regular classroom whenever appropriate, support high quality professional development and the development and use of technology.

Under IDEA: The child, age 3 through 8, may be found eligible if s/he experiences developmental delays in one or more areas of physical, cognitive, communication, social or emotional, adaptive development. By age nine, the child must be determined eligible for one of the thirteen categories of disabilities named in IDEA. They are: autism, specific learning disability, speech or language impairments, emotional disturbance, traumatic brain injury, visual impairment, hearing impairment, deafness, intellectual disability, deaf- blindness, multiple disabilities, orthopedic impairment and other health impairments which meet specific criteria developed by each state.

AND

The ARC determines eligibility and then identifies or confirms the “adverse effect” defined as “Progress of the child is impeded by the disability to the extent that the educational performance is significantly & consistently below the level of similar age peers”.

Following a prescribed process, the ARC develops an Individual Education Program (IEP).

Simply stated, “Ideally, the IEP is a system for spelling out where the child is, where he should be going, how he will get there, how long it will take, and how to tell when he has arrived.” Bierly, 1978

Under 504: There is an existence of an identified physical or mental condition which substantially limits major life activities which include: walking, seeing, hearing, speaking, breathing, learning, working and caring for oneself. Under 504, “appropriate” means an education comparable to the education provided to those students who are not disabled. It is generally provided in the regular classroom.

Both emphasize “least restrictive environment” meaning children with disabilities are to be educated to the maximum extent with children who do not have disabilities.

Did You Know?

That it is important and helpful for students to identify and work with outside agencies to make their postsecondary goals a reality?

TRANSITION

TRANSITION STARTING AT AGE FOURTEEN AND WRITTEN IN THE INDIVIDUAL EDUCATION PROGRAM (IEP) BY AGE SIXTEEN

“Danny graduated with his class after finishing the program of studies and then had 2 years in school to work on transition. People from the Low Incidence Employment Team came out the summer before his first transition year to brainstorm employment opportunities for him to volunteer at to see what he liked to do. Danny, who has very significant disabilities, both mental and physical, relies on people to learn to read his body language and sounds to know what works for him. During the 2 transition years he spent most of his time out in the community in volunteer jobs, exploring recreation, being on a college campus, attending to personal adult needs and looking for places to connect to the adult community. All of the information they found out about what worked for him and what he liked was important when he left school and started using the consumer directed option if his waiver. His adult staff had information they could use to continue to build a typical adult life in the community based on Danny’s desires and choices”

Leslie Lederer, Louisville

What does IDEA say?

U.S. Department of Education – Office of Special Education and Rehabilitation Services (OSEP)

<http://idea.ed.gov/explore/view/p/%2Croot%2Cdynamic%2CTopicalBrief%2C17%2C>

The purposes of IDEA include ensuring that all children with disabilities have available to them a free appropriate public education (FAPE) that emphasizes special education and related services designed to meet their unique needs and prepare them for further education, employment and independent living. [34 CFR 300.1(a)] [20 U.S.C. 1400(d) (1) (A)]

The term “transition services” means a coordinated set of activities for a child with a disability that:

- Are designed to be within a results-oriented process focused on improving the academic and functional achievement of the child with a disability to facilitate the child’s movement from school to postsecondary education, vocational education, integrated employment (including supported employment); continuing and adult education, adult services, independent living or community participation.
- Are based on the individual child’s needs, taking into account the child’s strengths, preferences and interests: and
- Includes instruction, related services, community experiences, the development of employment and other post-school adult living objectives, and, if appropriate, acquisition of daily living skills and functional vocational evaluation.

Did You Know?

You can work and keep your SSI benefits?

Employment

Many people with disabilities find it difficult to find a meaningful job. Competitive jobs based on personal preferences and abilities are difficult to find and maintain. Supported employment may be of benefit when considering becoming employed.

There are usually six principles of supported employment. The six are: (a) Eligibility is based on your choice. (b) Employment is aligned with other needs. Employment specialist's work with other people involved with providing guidance and assistance to coordinate plans. (c) Competitive employment is a goal. This means that the focus is toward a job in the community that pays at least minimum wage and is a job that anyone can apply for.; (d) Job search starts immediately and you do not have to complete any prevocational work units, transitional employment or a sheltered workshop. (e) Follow up supports are continuous. Individual supports to maintain employment continues as long as you want assistance. (f) Individual preferences are important. Choices and decisions about work and support are individualized based on your preferences, strengths and experiences.

If you desire to become self employed and work for yourself, a micro-enterprise may be something you want to consider. A micro-enterprise will allow you to start your own business with little capital (money) for start-up and will give you flexibility to work at your own pace and on your own schedule. Planning for Achieving Self Support (PASS) is a program offered by the United States Social Security Administration (or SSA) to encourage persons that are Supplemental Security (or SSI) eligible who are disabled to set aside moneys for various reasons: Training, Schooling and including funding Micro-enterprise as Work Goals. This is an excellent way to work for yourself and to plan for becoming independent and self sufficient. If you are interested in learning more about the PASS Plans visit <http://www.ssa.gov> or call (800) 772-1213 for more information.

If you are interested in learning more about employment, contact the Department of Vocational Rehabilitation at (800) 372-7172 or visit <http://www.dvr.ky.gov>. The Department of Vocational Rehabilitation has many services available including resources for adaptive equipment, work clothes and limited transportation to work, and programs directly related to preparing, securing and keeping a job in the community.

The Social Security Administration is responsible for two major programs that provide benefits based on disability: Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI), which is based on prior work under Social Security, and Supplemental Security Income (SSI). Under SSI, payments are made on the basis of financial need.

Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) is financed with Social Security taxes paid by workers, employers, and the self-employed. To be eligible for a Social Security benefit, the worker must earn sufficient credits based on taxable work to be "insured" for Social Security purposes. Disability benefits are payable to blind or disabled workers, widow(er)s, or adults disabled since childhood, who are otherwise eligible. The monthly benefit is based on the Social Security earnings record of the insured worker.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) is a program financed through general revenues. SSI disability benefits are payable to adults or children who are disabled or blind, have limited income and resources, meet the living arrangement requirements, and are otherwise eligible. The monthly payment varies up to the maximum federal benefit rate, which may be supplemented by the State or decreased by countable income and resources.

The following eligibility requirements and descriptions are brief overviews; complete information is available on the web site or at a Social Security Administration office. Check out the publications web site: <http://www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs/10095.html>

Supplemental Security Income (SSI)

Web site: <http://www.socialsecurity.gov/ssi/>

SSI is a federal program that pays monthly checks to people who are disabled, blind, and/or aged, and have limited income and assets. People who receive SSI checks may also receive Social Security checks if they meet eligibility requirements

Eligibility Requirements: Anyone who is aged, blind or disabled – brief definitions follow:

Aged: 65 or older

Child: an individual under the age of 18 is "disabled" if he or she has a medically determined physical or mental impairment which: results in marked and severe functional limitations; and can be expected to result in death or has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months.

Adult: an individual age 18 and older is "disabled" if he or she has a medically determinable physical or mental impairment, which: results in the inability to do any substantial gainful activity and can be expected to result in death or has lasted or can be expected to last for a continuous period of not less than 12 months.

Social Security generally works with a state agency to decide whether the person is disabled or blind within the meaning of the law.

Child or Adult with Blindness: the definition used is "statutory blindness": having a central visual acuity of 20/200 or less in your better eye with use of correcting lens; or having a visual field limitation in your better eye, such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees. However, if you have a visual impairment that is not “statutory blindness” as defined above, you may still be eligible for SSI benefits on the basis of disability.

AND, WHO:

have limited income; and have limited resources; and is a resident of one of the 50 States, the District of Columbia, or the Northern Mariana Islands; and is not absent from the country for a full calendar month or more than 30 consecutive days; and applies for any other cash benefits or payments for which he or she may be eligible, (for example, pensions, Social Security benefits); and gives SSA permission to contact any financial institution and request any financial records that the financial institution may have about you; and files an application; and meets certain other requirements.

Limited Income – includes money you earn from work; money you receive from other sources, such as Social Security benefits, workers compensation, unemployment benefits, Department of Veterans Affairs, friends or relatives; and free food or shelter.

Generally, the more income you have, the less your SSI benefit will be. If your countable income is over the allowable limit, you cannot receive SSI benefits. Some of your income may not count as income for the SSI program.

Limited Resources – things you own such as: cash; bank accounts, stocks, U.S. savings bonds; land; vehicles; personal property; life insurance and anything else you own that could be converted to cash and used for food or shelter. The SSI limits for resources that are counted: an individual/child - $2000 and a couple - $3000.

If you are married, part of your spouse’s income and resources are included when deciding whether you qualify for SSI. If you are younger than age 18, part of your parents’ income and resources are included. And, if you are a sponsored noncitizen, your sponsor’s income and resources may be included..

You Can Work and Still Get SSI: special rules make it possible for people receiving Social Security disability benefits or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) to work and still receive monthly payments. And, if you cannot continue working because of your medical condition, your benefits can start again—you may not have to file a new application. Work incentives include: continued cash benefits for a time while you work; continued Medicare or Medicaid while you work; and help with education, training and rehabilitation to start a new line of work. More information is available at your Social Security Office or on line.

Get more information on the Ticket to Work program by calling 1-866-968-7842 toll-free (TTY 1-866-833-2967). Or you can call the toll-free number and ask for: Your Ticket to Work (Publication No. 05-10061). You also can visit the Ticket to Work website at www.socialsecurity.gov/work for more information.

Any time you have questions about SSI, call 1-800-772-1213. Ask for the free booklet Supplemental Security Income (SSI).

After SSI payments begin, changes in income, assets, and living arrangements must be reported. The Social Security personnel are available to give information about the reporting process.

Usually people who receive SSI also receive a Medicaid (medical) Card and may become eligible for other state and county programs. If you are eligible for Social Security or other money benefits, you must apply for them.

Social Security Disability Insurance Program (SSDI)

Web site: <http://www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs/10153.html#2>

SSDI can pay benefits to you and certain family members if you worked long enough and paid Social Security taxes. Your adult child also may qualify for benefits on your earnings record if he or she has a disability that started before the age of twenty-two.

For most people, the medical requirements for disability payments are the same under both programs and disability is determined by the same process. Whether you apply for Social Security or SSI disability, you will be asked for information about your medical condition, work and education history in order to help decide if you are disabled under Social Security Administration's rules.

Briefly, to decide whether you are disabled, Social Security uses a step-by-step process involving five questions. They are:

1. Are you working? If you are working in 2010 and your earnings average more than $1,000 a month, you generally cannot be considered disabled. If you are not working, go to Step 2.
2. Is your condition "severe"? Your condition must interfere with basic work-related activities for your claim to be considered. If it does not, Social Security will find that you are not disabled. If your condition does interfere with basic work-related activities, go to Step 3.
3. Is your condition found in the list of disabling conditions? For each of the major body systems, we maintain a list of medical conditions that are so severe they automatically mean that you are disabled. If your condition is not on the list, we have to decide if it is of equal severity to a medical condition that is on the list. If it is, we will find that you are disabled. If it is not, we then go to Step 4.
4. Can you do the work you did previously? If your condition is severe but not at the same or equal level of severity as a medical condition on the list, then we must determine if it interferes with your ability to do the work you did previously. If it does not, your claim will be denied. If it does, we proceed to Step 5.
5. If you cannot do the work you did in the past, are you able to adjust to other work? Your medical conditions and your age, education, past work experience and any transferable skills you may have are considered. If you cannot adjust to other work, your claim will be approved. If you can adjust to other work, your claim will be denied.

In addition to using the website, you can call toll-free at (800) 772-1213. All calls are confidential. Representatives are available to answer specific questions from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., Monday through Friday. You can receive information by automated phone service 24 hours a day. (You can use our automated response system to report a new address or request a replacement Medicare card.) If you are deaf or hard of hearing, you may call the TTY number, (800) 325-0778.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promotes best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

1. YOUTH DEVELOPMENT & LEADERSHIP/SELF-DETERMINATION

Kentucky Family Resource and Youth Services Centers' (FRYSCs)

Family Resource and Youth Services Centers (FRYSCs) mission is to enhance students' abilities to succeed in school by developing and sustaining partnerships that promote: early learning and successful transition into school; academic achievement and well being; and graduation and transition into adult life. The primary goal of these centers is to remove nonacademic barriers to learning as a means to enhance student academic success. Each center offers a unique blend of programs and services determined by the needs of the population being served, available resources, location and other local characteristics. FRYSCs have established a record of success based on improved student performance in class work, homework and peer relations as reported by teachers. Parents, too, report they experience greater satisfaction and involvement with the schools as a result of assistance through their local FRYSCs.

Kentucky Legal Aid

Website: <http://www.kyjustice.org/>

Eligibility Requirements: Kentucky's legal services programs serve several groups of vulnerable Kentuckians: People 60 years old and older, those who meet income guidelines and in some cases, people who are victims of domestic violence. Kentucky has four programs that provide a wide range of legal services to low income and elderly Kentuckians. The following office in this region is:

Legal Aid Society of the Bluegrass

498 Georgetown Street
Lexington, KY 40508
Phone: (859) 233-4556
Toll free: (800) 928-4556
Fax: (859) 233-1907
Website: www.lablaw.org

Counties served: Anderson, Bourbon, Boyle, Fayette, Franklin, Harrison, Jessamine, Mercer, Scott, Woodford. The Legal Aid Society is a non-profit organization that provides civil legal assistance to families and individuals in poverty. The mission is to pursue justice for people in poverty. They provide free legal services to the most disadvantaged in the community. Clients turn to Legal Aid for civil legal problems that threaten their health and safety and the stability of their families. Those assisted include the elderly, children, victims of domestic violence, and other vulnerable groups.

Lawyer Referral Services

Sometimes people in need of an attorney don't know of one to call. Lawyer referral services were created for just that reason. Each of the services may operate in different manners, and none are affiliated with the Kentucky Bar Association. They provide the names, phone numbers and hour of operation as a public service. Listed below is referral service located in this region.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

The goal of the Disability Resource Center is to provide equal access to students who are eligible. In partnership with students, faculty and staff, our purpose is to achieve an accessible educational environment where students with disabilities have an equal opportunity to fully participate in all aspects of the university community. It is recommended that students contact the Disability Resource Center four weeks before accommodations are needed to request assistance to allow for the required medical or psychological documentation to be obtained and reviewed and for accommodations to be arranged. Staff will explain and guide students through the application process. Students with disabilities who wish to be considered to accommodations are strongly encouraged to contact the Resource Center upon receipt of the notice of admission to Kentucky State University.

The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation assists Kentuckians with disabilities to achieve suitable employment and independence. Eligibility Requirements: Individual must have a physical or mental impairment that results in a substantial impediment to employment. If you receive Social Security Disability benefits, you are considered to be an individual with a significant disability and are presumed eligible for services. It is not necessary to receive SSI to qualify for this program. Must be of employable age by completion of rehabilitation. Vocational Rehabilitation provides services to individuals with physical or mental disabilities to enable them to enter or return to employment. Some examples are: assessment for determining eligibility and vocational rehabilitation needs, counseling and guidance vocational and other training services, supported employment, personal assistance services, interpreter and note taking services, telecommunications, sensory, and other technological aids and devices, rehabilitation technology, job placement and job retention services and employment follow-up and post-employment services. The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation works closely with the Kentucky Department of Education to assist eligible students with disabilities to identify, plan for and achieve their vocational goals. Rehabilitation counselors located in regional offices help high school transition students with disabilities with vocational rehabilitation and job placements.

Mission is to provide services to individuals with disabilities so they may achieve suitable employment and independence. Center operates several different types of programs that assist individuals to achieve their vocational rehabilitation goals.

Community Based Work Transition Program (CBWTP)

(See State Resource Section)

CBWTP is a collaborative effort between participating local school districts, the Kentucky Department of Education, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation and the Human Development Institute to help students with their transition needs.

Kentucky Office for the Blind

Mission is to provide services to individuals with disabilities so they may achieve suitable employment and independence. Center operates several different types of programs that assist consumers to achieve their vocational rehabilitation goals. Assist individuals who are blind and visually impaired in achieving their educational, vocational and independent living goals. A vocational or independent living counselor will determine an individual's eligibility to receive services at the center. The Kentucky Office for the Blind Transition Services support high school students and their families in planning for activities beyond high school such as post secondary training, employment, and independent living. A counselor is available to participate as a vocational consultant with the school in transition planning. They usually meet with the student and their family during their ARC or IEP meeting scheduled annually by the high school Special Education Coordinator. The counselor will have to be invited by the school and the student's family to the meeting. Generally counselors first meet the student during their sophomore or junior year.

5. ADULT SERVICES

Medicaid Waivers

Visit Website: <http://cfhs.ky.gov/dms/kyhealthchoices.htm>

Medicaid can pay for services to help an eligible individual with significant needs continue to live at home through Waiver programs. While some eligibility requirements are “waived” for these programs, the individual must require a protective level of care related to daily living skills or skilled medical care. The financial criterion is based only on the income of the individual. Since waiver programs pay for services for a limited number of people, openings can fill up quickly and there may be a waiting list.

(See State Resource section for waivers and descriptions, i.e. Michelle P, Supports for Community Living, Acquired Brain Injury, Home and Community Based, Model II.)

Consumer Directed Option –Kentucky Independence Plus Program (CDO)

CDO allows waiver eligible members to choose a provider for their non-medical waiver services, allowing them greater freedom of choice, flexibility, and control over their supports and services. The Community Mental Health Centers and Area Agencies on Aging act as support brokers. Once you choose CDO, you will no longer have a case manager through the traditional agency. The Support Broker will act as your case manager. The Support Broker will assist you with enrolling in CDO, developing your plan of care and support spending plan, locating service providers and negotiating rates, supporting you in hiring, supervising and firing your employees. You can “blend” your CDO plan by continuing with the services that are working for you and Consumer Direct other services. If you feel CDO doesn’t work for you, simply return to the way you are currently receiving services. Support Brokers in your area are:

State ProgramsHart Supported Living Program

Hart Supported Living program is for Kentuckians with disabilities to request grants for highly flexible individualized services which, when combined with natural unpaid or other eligible supports” provide the necessary assistance for the individual to live in the community. Eligibility is quite broad – any Kentuckian with a disability recognized under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is eligible to apply for the grant. The program is administered though the Department for Aging and Independent Living but it is a program for people with all disabilities. Contact your Regional Supported Living Coordinator for an application and for assistance in completing the application. Applications must be received by April 1st in the office of Regional Supported Living Coordinator for funding for the upcoming fiscal year, beginning July 1st.

Transportation

MEDICAID

Website: <http://chfs.ky.gov/dms/trans.htm>

Medicaid covers only medically necessary transportation to and from a Medicaid-covered service.

For more information regarding Emergency/Non-Emergency Medical Ambulance Transportation Services -

Phone: (502) 564-2687

Emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) is covered when the eligible member is transported in an emergency condition, usually to hospital, resulting from an accident, serious injury, or acute illness that makes it impossible to use other types of transportation.

Non-emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) are covered if the eligible member is confined to a bed before and after the ambulance trip or the member must be moved only by stretcher in order to receive medically necessary Medicaid covered medical services.

For more information regarding Non-Emergency Medical Transportation Services,

Phone: (502) 564-6204

Non-emergency Medical Transportation is for Medicaid members who do not have access to free transportation that suits their medical needs and need to be transported to a Medicaid covered service. For transportation outside of a member's medical service area or for specialty care, a referral from a member's primary care physician is required. Travel to pharmacies is not covered.

For more information regarding the Human Service Transportation Delivery, phone the Office of Transportation Delivery for program policies and complaints at (888) 941-7433.

Non-emergency Medical Transportation services are available through the Human Service Transportation Delivery (HSTD) program, which is a regional brokerage system. Depending on a member's medical needs, transportation is provided by taxi, van, bus or public transit. Wheelchair service is also provided if required by medical necessity.

However an application for a free Sorenson VP-100 videophone must be submitted.

6. SUPPORT SERVICES

Physical Health

Early Periodic Screening, Diagnostic, and Treatment Program (EPSDT)

For eligibility information contact the local Department for Community Based Services Permanency and Protection Unit or Department for Medicaid Services, Frankfort, KY (502) 564-6890.

EPSDT is designed to improve primary health benefits for children with emphasis on preventive care that has been a part of the Federal Medicaid Program since its beginning in the late sixties. After a Medicaid review in 1989, Congress moved to increase the services of EPSDT through the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act. States must now cover regular and periodic exams for all eligible children under the age of 21 which have been excluded under the regular Medicaid programs in the past. The materials that must accompany an EPSDT application are: a physician's order (on a prescription pad) – a letter of Medical necessity from a physician, physical therapists or other qualified personnel. (See local DCBS offices below).

Kentucky Children's Health Insurance Program (K-CHIP)

K-CHIP's mission is to provide health insurance coverage to low income, uninsured children in Kentucky. To qualify must be less than 19 years of age, must not be eligible for Medicaid, must not have had health insurance for at least six months, must not have voluntarily dropped child's insurance within the past 6 months, and family income must be at or below 200% of Federal Poverty Level Line. Mental Health

Kentucky Impact Program

Kentucky IMPACT represents one program that utilized “wraparound” for children, youth, and families. Created in 1990, IMPACT is available statewide and provides for the identification and coordination of needed services and supports for children and youth who are involved with multiple child serving entities and who have a severe emotional disability.

Kentucky Impact Plus Program

(For more information – see State Resources in this Guide)

Kentucky IMPACT Plus is a collaborative effort between the Departments for Medicaid Services, Community Based Services and Behavioral Health, Developmental and Intellectual Disabilities to help provide community-based services for Kentucky’s Medicaid/KCHIP eligible children with complex treatment needs. The goal of IMPACT Plus is to help parents and caregivers understand their children’s needs and the processes involved in care and service delivery. Ultimately, the program eases access to services indicated by a child’s needs.

Several different rental assistance programs are available through KHC. These programs offer very low-income residents an opportunity to find housing at an affordable price. KHC administers many federal rental assistance. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development pays a portion of the resident's rent (subsidy) and the resident pays the rest (usually 30 to 40 percent of their income). Such programs include the Housing Choice Voucher Program, Rental Administration and New Havens. Kentucky's Housing Corporation's New Construction Program for the Disabled – makes home loans at 1% to 6% interested to individuals with disabilities, based on family income. You must apply through a local participating lender. Applications are submitted by lenders to KHC on an ongoing basis until funds run out.

Social Security Administration/Office of Disability

Eligibility: An adult, age 18 and over, may be eligible if a mental or physical disability prevents the person from working for at least 12 months or is expected to result in death. A child under the age of 18 may be eligible. Social Security assesses the disability and the effect on everyday life in determining eligible. In the case of a child, the family's income and assets are considered. When the person is 18 or over, the family's income and assets are no longer considered for eligibility—only those of the individual. A person can have some assets and income and still qualify for SSI benefits. If you want to work, there are special rules to help. Contact your social security office if you have any questions about SSI. A person who has a disability must accept vocational rehabilitation services if offered. After SSI payments begin, changes in income, assets and living arrangements must be reported.

Kentucky Transitional Assistance Program (K-TAP)

Cabinet for Health and Family Services
275 East Main Street
Frankfort, KY 40621
Phone: (502) 564-7050

K-TAP is a monetary assistance program established by Kentucky using Federal funds from the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant. K-TAP provides financial and medical assistance to needy dependent children in Kentucky and the parents, or relatives with whom the children are living. K-TAP also helps families find jobs or get training that leads to a job. A family can only get K-TAP for 60 months in lifetime. Each month a family gets K-TAP counts toward the 60 months limit. A family does not have to get K-TAP for 60 months straight. K-TAP payments to families are based on family size and income. In addition to the monetary grant, K-TAP recipients may also be eligible for support services such as childcare and transportation assistance through the Kentucky Works program. Relocation assistance is also available to qualified K-TAP recipients, as are the educational bonus, work incentive bonus, and Employment Retention Assistance. In order to qualify for this benefit program, you must be a resident of Kentucky, a U.S. citizen or qualified alien, unemployed or under employed (working for very low wages), a parent/relative caregiver is who is responsible for children up to the age of 18 (or 19 yrs old if meeting the school attendance requirement) and have low or very low income. To apply contact your Local DCBS office listed above.

leann.marksberry@grrec.ky.gov

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resource to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

1. YOUTH DEVELOPMENT & LEADERSHIP/SELF-DETERMINATION

Kentucky Family Resource and Youth Services Centers (FRYSCs)

Family Resource and Youth Services Centers' (FRYSCs) mission is to enhance students' abilities to succeed in school by developing and sustaining partnerships that promote: early learning and successful transition into school; academic achievement and well being; and graduation and transition into adult life. The primary goal of these centers is to remove nonacademic barriers to learning as a means to enhance student academic success. Each center offers a unique blend of programs and services determined by the needs of the population being served, available resources, location and other local characteristics. FRYSCs have established a record of success based on improved student performance in class work, homework and peer relations as reported by teachers. Parents, too report they experience greater satisfaction and involvement with the schools as a result of assistance through their local FRYSCs.

Lawyer Referral Services

Sometimes people in need of an attorney don't know of one to call. Lawyer referral services were created for just that reason. Each of the services may operate in different manners, and none are affiliated with the Kentucky Bar Association. They provide the names, phone numbers and hours of operation as a public service. Listed below is the referral service located in this region.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by the district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

The goal of the Department of Education, Division of Learning Services is successful transition of all students from school to post school activities – whether post-secondary education, vocational training, integrated employment, adult education, adult services, independent living or community participation.

Local County/City Board of Education Offices

Local Boards of Education represent their community in overseeing local schools as part of the state system of public elementary and secondary education. School Board Members work as a team to govern the activities of their school district by setting policy and providing resources to help every student learn.

The Postsecondary Inclusion Partnership is a model demonstration project aimed at including students with intellectual and other developmental disabilities in postsecondary education. Its mission is to promote participation in college/university life for people with intellectual and other developmental disabilities. Through partnering with families, educators and administrators, they support students to achieve their stated goals and work for further recognition of their roles as valued citizens.

Eligibility Requirements: The partnership is available for students who have an educational or employment goal requiring postsecondary education; are between the ages of 18 and 26; have an intellectual and/or other developmental disability and have appropriate family support as needed.

The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation assists Kentuckians with disabilities to achieve suitable employment and independence. Eligibility Requirements: Individual must have a physical or mental impairment that results in a substantial impediment to employment. If you receive Social Security Disability benefits, you are considered to be an individual with a significant disability and are presumed eligible for services. It is not necessary to receive SSI to qualify for this program. Individuals must be of employable age by completion of rehabilitation. Vocational Rehabilitation provides services to individuals with physical or mental disabilities to enable them to enter or return to employment. Some examples are: assessment for determining eligibility

Vocational rehabilitation needs; counseling and guidance vocational and other training services; supported employment; personal assistance services; interpreter and note taking services; telecommunications, sensory, and other technological aids and devices; rehabilitation technology; job placement and job retention services and employment follow-up and post-employment services. The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation works closely with the Kentucky Department of Education to assist eligible students with disabilities to identify, plan for and achieve their vocational goals. Rehabilitation counselors located in regional offices help high school transition students with disabilities with vocational rehabilitation and job placements.

Kentucky Office for the Blind

Mission is to provide services to individuals with disabilities so they may achieve suitable employment and independence. Center operates several different types of programs that assist consumers to achieve their vocational rehabilitation goals. Assist individuals who are blind and visually impaired in achieving their educational, vocational and independent living goals. A vocational or independent living counselor will determine an individual's eligibility to receive services at the center. The Kentucky Office for the Blind Transition Services support high school students and their families in planning for activities beyond high school such as post secondary training, employment, and independent living. A counselor is available to participate as a vocational consultant with the school in transition planning. They usually meet with the student and their family during their ARC or IEP meeting scheduled annually by the high school Special Education Coordinator. The counselor will have to be invited by the school and the student's family to the meeting. Generally counselors first meet the student during their sophomore or junior year.

Medicaid Waivers

Visit Website: <http://cfhs.ky.gov/dms/kyhealthchoices.htm>

Medicaid can pay for services to help an eligible individual with significant needs continue to live at home through Waiver programs. While some eligibility requirements are “waived” for these programs, the individual must require a protective level of care related to daily living skills or skilled medical care. The financial criterion is based only on the income of the individual. Since waiver programs pay for services for a limited number of people, openings can fill up quickly and there may be a waiting list.

(See State Resource Section for Waivers and descriptions, i.e. Michelle P. Supports for Community Living (SCL), Acquired Brain Injury, Home and Community Based, Model II)

Consumer Directed Option – Kentucky Independence Plus Program (CDO)

CDO allows waiver eligible members to choose a provider for their non-medical waiver services, allowing them greater freedom of choice, flexibility and control over their supports and services. The Community Mental Health Centers and Area Agencies on Aging act as support brokers. Once you choose CDO, you will no longer have a case manager through the traditional agency. The Support Broker will act as your case manager. The Support Broker will assist you with enrolling in CDO, developing your plan of care and support spending plan, locating service providers and negotiating rates, supporting you in hiring, supervising and firing your employees, You can “blend” your CDO plan by continuing with the services that are working for you and Consumer Direct other services. If you feel CDO doesn’t work for you, simply return to the way you are currently receiving services. Individuals currently receiving or individuals who might become eligible to receive waiver services from Medicaid’s Acquired Brain Injury Waiver, Acquired Brain Injury Long Term Care Waiver, Home and Community Based Waiver, Michelle P. Waiver Services, Supports for Community Living Waivers are eligible to participate in CDO for their non-medical services. The local Area Agencies on Aging and Community Mental Health Centers act as Support Brokers for the CDO program.

State ProgramsHart Supported Living Program

Hart Supported Living program is for Kentuckians with disabilities to request grants for highly flexible individualized services which, when combined with natural unpaid or other eligible supports” provide the necessary assistance for the individual to live in the community. Eligibility is quite broad – any Kentuckian with a disability recognized under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is eligible to apply for the grant. The program is administered through the Department for Aging and Independent Living but it is a program for people with all disabilities. Contact your Regional Supported Living Coordinator for an application and for assistance in completing the application. Applications must be received by April 1st in the office of Regional Supported Living Coordinator for funding for the upcoming fiscal year, beginning July 1st.

Personal Care Attendant Program

The Personal Care Attendant Program helps adults with severe physical disabilities at risk of being institutionalized to live in their own homes and communities by subsidizing costs of personal care attendant services. The personal care attendant, hired by the adult with physical disabilities, helps with personal care, housekeeping, shopping, travel, self-care procedures, meal preparation and other day-to-day activities. Eligibility: Participants must be 18 or older, have severe, physical disabilities with permanent or temporary recurring functional loss of two or more limbs, need at least 14 hours but no more than 40 hours of attendant care per week, be mentally capable of instructing and supervising attendants and be capable of preparing payroll and required employer tax statements.

MEDICAID

<http://chfs.ky.gov/dms/trans.htm>

Medicaid covers only medically necessary transportation to and from a Medicaid-covered service.

For more information regarding Emergency/Non-Emergency Medical Ambulance Transportation Services -

Phone: (502) 564-2687

Emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) is covered when the eligible member is transported in an emergency condition, usually to hospital, resulting from an accident, serious injury, or acute illness that makes it impossible to use other types of transportation.

Non-emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) are covered if the eligible member is confined to a bed before and after the ambulance trip or the member must be moved only by stretcher in order to receive medically necessary Medicaid covered medical services.

For more information regarding Non-Emergency Medical Transportation Services,

Phone: (502) 564-6204

Non-emergency Medical Transportation is for Medicaid members who do not have access to free transportation that suits their medical needs and need to be transported to a Medicaid covered service. For transportation outside of a member's medical service area or for specialty care, a referral from a member's primary care physician is required. Travel to pharmacies is not covered.

For more information regarding the Human Service Transportation Delivery, phone the Office of Transportation Delivery for program policies and complaints at (888) 941-7433.

Non-emergency Medical Transportation services are available through the Human Service Transportation Delivery (HSTD) program, which is a regional brokerage system. Depending on a member's medical needs, transportation is provided by taxi, van, bus or public transit. Wheelchair service is also provided if required by medical necessity.

6. SUPPORT SERVICESPhysical Health*Early Periodic Screening, Diagnostic, and Treatment Program (EPSDT)

For eligibility information contact the local Department for Community Based Services Permanency and Protection Unit or Department for Medicaid Services, Frankfort, Kentucky (502) 564-6890. (See local DCBS Offices below) EPSDT is designed to improve primary health benefits for children with emphasis on preventive care that has been a part of the Federal Medicaid Program since its beginning in the late sixties. After a Medicaid review in 1989, Congress moved to increase the services of EPSDT through the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act. States must now cover regular and periodic exams for all eligible children under the age of 21 which have been excluded under the regular Medicaid programs in the past. The materials that must accompany an EPSDT application are: a physician's order (on a prescription pad) – a letter of Medical necessity from a physician, physical therapist or other qualified personnel.

Kentucky Children's Health Insurance Program (K-CHIP)

K-CHIP's mission is to provide health insurance coverage to low income, uninsured children in Kentucky. To qualify, must be at less than 19 years of age, must not be eligible for Medicaid, must not have had health insurance for at least six months, and family income must be at or below 200% of Federal Poverty Level Line. Mental HealthKentucky Impact Program

Kentucky IMPACT represents one program that utilizes “wraparound” for children, youth and families. Created in 1990, IMPACT is available statewide and provides for the identification and coordination of needed services and supports for children and youth who are involved with multiple child serving entities and who have a severe emotional disability.

Kentucky Impact Plus Program

Kentucky IMPACT Plus is a collaborative effort between the Departments for Medicaid Services, Community Based Services and Behavioral Health, Developmental and Intellectual Disabilities to help provide community-based services for Kentucky's Medicaid/KCHIP eligible children with complex treatment needs. The goal of IMPACT Plus is to help parents and caregivers understand their children's needs and the processes involved in care and service delivery. Ultimately, the program eases access to services indicated by a child's needs. (For more information – see State Resources listed in this Guide). You can contact the local Impact Plus Resource Coordinator at the addresses below.

Services: Low and moderate income housing and rental assistance.

Several different rental assistance programs are available through KHC. These programs offer very low-income residents an opportunity to find housing at an affordable price. KHC administers many federal housing programs. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development pays a portion of the resident's rent (subsidy) and the resident pays the rest (usually 30 to 40 percent of their income). Such programs include the Housing Choice Voucher Program, Rental Administration and New Havens. Kentucky's Housing Corporation's New Construction Program for the Disabled – makes home loans at 1% to 6% interest to individuals with disabilities, based on family income. You must apply through a local participating lender. Applications are submitted by lenders to KHC on an ongoing basis until funds run out.

Eligibility: An adult, age 18 and over, may be eligible if a mental or physical disability prevents the person from working for at least 12 months or is expected to result in death. A child under the age of 18 may be eligible. Social Security assesses the disability and the effect on everyday life in determining eligibility. In the case of a child, the family’s income and assets are considered. When the person is 18 or over, the family’s income and assets are no longer considered for eligibility – only those of the individual. A person can have some assets and income and still qualify for SSI benefits. If you want to work, there are special rules to help. Contact your Social Security Office if you have any questions about SSI. A person who has a disability must accept vocational rehabilitation services if offered. After SSI payments begin, changes in income, assets and living arrangements must be reported.

Kentucky Transitional Assistance Program (K-TAP)

Cabinet for Health and Family Services
275 East Main Street
Frankfort, KY 40621
Phone: (502) 564-7050

K-TAP is a monetary assistance program established by Kentucky using Federal funds from the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant. K-TAP provides financial and medical assistance to needy dependent children in Kentucky and the parents, or relatives with whom the children are living. K-TAP also helps families find jobs or get training that leads to a job. A family can only get K-Tap for 60 months in lifetime. Each month a family gets K-TAP counts toward the 60 months limit. A family does not have to get K-TAP for 60 months straight. K-TAP payments to families are based on family size and income. In addition to the monetary grant, K-TAP recipients may also be eligible for support services such as childcare and transportation assistance through the Kentucky Works Program. Relocation assistance is also available to qualified K-TAP recipients, as are the educational bonus, work incentive bonus, and Employment Retention Assistance. In order to qualify for this benefit program, you must be a resident of Kentucky, a U.S. citizen or qualified alien, unemployed or under employed (working for very low wages), a parent/relative caregiver who is responsible for children up to the age of 18 or 19 years old if meeting the school attendance requirement) and have low or very low income. To apply contact your local DCBS Office listed above.

NormTerry, Transition Consultant

norm.terry@jefferson.kyschools.us

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

1. YOUTH DEVELOPMENT & LEADERSHIP/SELF-DETERMINATION

Kentucky Family Resource and Youth Services Centers (FRYSCs)

Family Resource and Youth Services Centers (FYSCs) mission is to enhance students' abilities to succeed in school by developing and sustaining partnerships that promote: early learning and successful transition into school; academic achievement and well-being; and graduation and transition into adult life. The primary goal of these centers is to remove nonacademic barriers to learning as a means to enhance student academic success. Each center offers a unique blend of programs and services determined by the needs of the population being served, available resources, location and other local characteristics. FRYSCs have established a record of success based on improved student performance in class work, homework and peer relations as reported by teachers. Parents, too, report they experience greater satisfaction and involvement with the schools as a result of assistance through their local FRYSCs.

The Legal Aid Society is a non-profit organization that provides civil legal assistance to families and individuals in poverty. The mission is to pursue justice for people in poverty. They provide free legal services to the most disadvantaged in the community. Clients turn to Legal Aid for civil legal problems that threaten their health and safety and the stability of their families. Those assisted include the elderly, children, victims of domestic violence, and other vulnerable groups.

Lawyer Referral Services

Sometimes people in need of an attorney don't know of one to call. Lawyer referral services were created for just that reason. Each of the services may operate in different manners, and none are affiliated with the Kentucky Bar Association. They provide the names, phone numbers and hour of operation as a public service. Listed below is referral service located in this region.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation assists Kentuckians with disabilities to achieve suitable employment and independence. Eligibility Requirements: Individual must have a physical or mental impairment that results in a substantial impediment to employment. If you receive Social Security Disability benefits, you are considered to be an individual with a significant disability and are presumed eligible for services. It is not necessary to receive SSI to qualify for this program. Individuals must be of employable age by completion of rehabilitation. Vocational Rehabilitation provides services to individuals with physical or mental disabilities to enable them to enter or return to employment. Some examples are: assessment for determining eligibility and vocational rehabilitation needs; counseling and guidance vocational and other training services; supported employment; personal assistance services; interpreter and note taking services; telecommunications, sensory, and other technological aids and devices; rehabilitation technology; job placement and job retention services and employment follow-up and post-employment services. The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation works closely with the Kentucky Department of Education to assist eligible students with disabilities to identify, plan for and achieve their vocational goals. Rehabilitation counselors located in regional offices help high school transition students with disabilities with vocational rehabilitation and job placements.

Assists individuals who are blind and visually impaired in achieving their educational, vocational and independent living goals. A vocational or independent living counselor will determine an individual's eligibility to receive services at the center. The Kentucky Office for the Blind Transition Services support high school students and their families in planning for activities beyond high school such as post secondary training, employment, and independent living. A counselor is available to participate as a vocational consultant with the school in transition planning. They usually meet with the student and their family during their ARC or IEP meeting scheduled annually by the high school Special Education Coordinator. The counselor will have to be invited by the school and the student's family to the meeting. Generally counselors first meet the student during their sophomore or junior year.

Eligibility: Individuals, age sixteen and older, who want to work and have a visual disability that impedes their ability to get and keep a job. A doctor's statement is needed.

Services: medical restoration, i.e. surgery; post secondary training – tuition, tutors, note takers, etc. Services which may be needed outside class but related to the education process such as tuition, tutors, note takers, etc.; Assistive technology – i.e., voice for computer, large print reading materials; Orientation and mobility, i.e. cane skills are taught, travel training; Bioptic driving – for people whose vision can be corrected to 20 over 60. Bioptic is mounted in the lens of eyeglasses; job placement, i.e. work with employers, provide supported employment.

5. ADULT SERVICES

Medicaid Waivers

Visit Website: <http://cfhs.ky.gov/dms/kyhealthchoices.htm>

Medicaid can pay for services to help an eligible individual with significant needs continue to live at home through Waiver programs. While some eligibility requirements are “waived” for these programs, the individual must require a protective level of care related to daily living skills or skilled medical care. The financial criterion is based only on the income of the individual. Since waiver programs pay for services for a limited number of people, openings can fill up quickly and there may be a waiting list.

(See State Resource section for waivers and descriptions, i.e. Michelle P, Supports for Community Living, Acquired Brain Injury, Home and Community Based, Model 2.)

Or –Area Agency on Aging in the region or local home health provider.

Consumer Directed Option –Kentucky Independence Plus Program (CDO)

CDO allows waiver eligible members to choose a provider for their non-medical waiver services, allowing them greater freedom of choice, flexibility, and control over their supports and services. The Community Mental Health Centers and Area Agencies on Aging act as support brokers. Once you choose CDO, you will no longer have a case manager through the traditional agency. The Support Broker will act as your case manager. The Support Broker will assist you with enrolling in CDO, developing your plan of care and support spending plan, locating service providers and negotiating rates, supporting you in hiring, supervising and firing your employees. You can “blend” your CDO plan by continuing with the services that are working for you and Consumer Direct other services. If you feel CDO doesn’t work for you, simply return to the way you are currently receiving services. Support Brokers in your area are:

State Programs

Hart Supported Living Program

Hart Supported Living program is for Kentuckians with disabilities to request grants for highly flexible individualized services which, when combined with natural unpaid or other eligible supports” provide the necessary assistance for the individual to live in the community. Eligibility is quite broad – any Kentuckian with a disability recognized under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is eligible to apply for the grant. The program is administered through the Department for Aging and Independent Living but it is a program for people with all disabilities. Contact your Regional Supported Living Coordinator for an application and for assistance in completing the application. Applications must be received by April 1st in the office of Regional Supported Living Coordinator for funding for the upcoming fiscal year, beginning July 1st.

Transportation
MEDICAID

<http://chfs.ky.gov/dms/trans.htm>

Medicaid covers only medically necessary transportation to and from a Medicaid-covered service.

For more information regarding Emergency/Non-Emergency Medical Ambulance Transportation Services -
Phone: (502) 564-2687

Emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) is covered when the eligible member is transported in an emergency condition, usually to hospital, resulting from an accident, serious injury, or acute illness that makes it impossible to use other types of transportation.

Non-emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) are covered if the eligible member is confined to a bed before and after the ambulance trip or the member must be moved only by stretcher in order to receive medically necessary Medicaid covered medical services.

For more information regarding Non-Emergency Medical Transportation Services,
Phone: (502) 564-6204

Non-emergency Medical Transportation is for Medicaid members who do not have access to free transportation that suits their medical needs and need to be transported to a Medicaid covered service. For transportation outside of a member's medical service area or for specialty care, a referral from a member's primary care physician is required. Travel to pharmacies is not covered.

For more information regarding the Human Service Transportation Delivery, phone the Office of Transportation Delivery for program policies and complaints at (888) 941-7433.

Non-emergency Medical Transportation services are available through the Human Service Transportation Delivery (HSTD) program, which is a regional brokerage system. Depending on a member's medical needs, transportation is provided by taxi, van, bus or public transit. Wheelchair service is also provided if required by medical necessity.

6. SUPPORT SERVICES

Physical Health

Early Periodic, Diagnostic, and Treatment Program (EPSDT)

For eligibility information contact the local Department for Community Based Services Permanency and Protection Unit or Department for Medicaid Services, Frankfort, KY (502) 564-6890.

EPSDT is designed to improve primary health benefits for children with emphasis on preventive care that has been a part of the Federal Medicaid Program since its beginning in the late sixties. After a Medicaid review in 1989, Congress moved to increase the services of EPSDT through the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act. States must now cover regular and periodic exams for all eligible children under the age of 21 which have been excluded under the regular Medicaid programs in the past. The materials that must accompany an EPSDT application are: a physician's order (on a prescription pad) – a letter of Medical necessity from a physician, physical therapists or other qualified personnel. (See local DCBS offices below).

Kentucky Children's Health Insurance Program (K-CHIP)

Kentucky Impact Plus Program

(For more information – see State Resources in this Guide)

Kentucky IMPACT Plus is a collaborative effort between the Departments for Medicaid Services, Community Based Services and Behavioral Health, Developmental and Intellectual Disabilities to help provide community-based services for Kentucky’s Medicaid/KCHIP eligible children with complex treatment needs. The goal of IMPACT Plus is to help parents and caregivers understand their children’s needs and the processes involved in care and service delivery. Ultimately, the program eases access to services indicated by a child’s needs.

Several different rental assistance programs are available through KHC. These programs offer very low-income residents an opportunity to find housing at an affordable price. KHC administers many federal rental assistance. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development pays a portion of the resident's rent (subsidy) and the resident pays the rest (usually 30 to 40 percent of their income). Such programs include the Housing Choice Voucher Program, Rental Administration and New Havens. Kentucky Housing Corporation's New Construction Program for the Disabled – makes home loans at 1% to 6% interested to individuals with disabilities, based on family income. You must apply through a local participating lender. Applications are submitted by lenders to KHC on an ongoing basis until funds run out.

Social Security Administration/Office of Disability

Eligibility: An adult, age 18 and over, may be eligible if a mental or physical disability prevents the person from working for at least 12 months or is expected to result in death. A child under the age of 18 may be eligible. Social Security assesses the disability and the effect on everyday life in determining eligible. In the case of a child, the family's income and assets are considered. When the person is 18 or over, the family's income and assets are no longer considered for eligibility—only those of the individual. A person can have some assets and income and still qualify for SSI benefits. If you want to work, there are special rules to help. Contact your social security office if you have any questions about SSI. A person who has a disability must accept vocational rehabilitation services if offered. After SSI payments begin, changes in income, assets and living arrangements must be reported.

Kentucky Transitional Assistance Program (K-TAP)

Local Community Based Service Office
Office of Family Support
908 West Broadway
Louisville, KY 40203
Phone: (502) 595-4238

K-TAP is a monetary assistance program established by Kentucky using Federal funds from the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant. K-TAP provides financial and medical assistance to needed dependent children in Kentucky and the parents, or relatives with whom the children are living. K-TAP also helps families find jobs or get training that leads to a job. A family can only get K-TAP for 60 months in lifetime. Each month a family gets K-TAP counts toward the 60 month limit. A family does not have to get K-TAP for 60 months straight. K-TAP payments to families are based on family size and income. In addition to the monetary grant, K-TAP recipients may also be eligible for support services such as childcare and transportation assistance through the Kentucky Works program. Relocation assistance is also available to qualified K-TAP recipients, as are the educational bonus, work incentive bonus, and Employment Retention Assistance. In order to qualify for this benefit program, you must be a resident of Kentucky, a U.S. citizen or qualified alien, unemployed or under employed (working for very low wages), a parent/relative caregiver is who is responsible for children up to the age 18 (or 19 yrs old if meeting the school attendance requirement) and have low or very low income.

Alan and Kerri Wells have never listened to what others said couldn't be done because of their disabilities, but instead listened to their hearts and pursued their dreams. Upon graduating from high school in 1999, Alan enrolled as a student at Western Kentucky University. Alan was not seeking a degree, but was seeking the opportunity to experience life as a college student as he became the first person with Down Syndrome to attend WKU. Alan audited college classes for 2 two years, lived in the dorms at WKU and was an active member of the Baptist Student Union on campus. Upon leaving college, Alan returned to his job at Winn Dixie and rented a duplex, along with a roommate, while saving enough money to marry Kerri, his high school sweetheart. Alan soon attained a job with the Barren County Board of Education as a bus monitor and lunchroom staff.

After getting married in 2003, Alan and Kerri rented a home and began their journey as husband and wife. Within a few years, they had established credit and were able to get a loan to purchase their own 3 bedroom brick home in Glasgow. Since neither Alan nor Kerri drove, they chose a location that was within walking distance to several stores, restaurants and medical facilities. In 2009, they adopted their puppy, Zoe. After having a job at Food Lion and McDonalds, Kerri has been employed with Goodwill Industries for a few years now. Alan has been employed with the school system for 10 years and Alan and Kerri are celebrating their 8th anniversary this month. Alan and Kerri are very active in their community being active members of their church, YMCA, Down Syndrome of South Central KY, Special Olympics, and Rockerz Dance Team. They have also served as advocates/board members, etc. of the local and state Arc, Advocates in Action, Future is Now presenters, KY Freedom board members, IHDI board members, and other advocacy related efforts. Some of their hobbies include scrapbooking, floral arranging, photography, bowling, swimming, and going on walks with their puppy Zoe.

Sheila Anderson, Transition Consultant

sheila.anderson@kecd.org

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Educational Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

1. YOUTH DEVELOPMENT & LEADERSHIP/SELF- DETERMINATION

Kentucky Family Resource and Youth Services Centers (FRYSCs)

Family Resource and Youth Services Centers (FRYSC's) mission is to enhance students' abilities to succeed in school by developing and sustaining partnerships that promote: early learning and successful transition into school; academic achievement and well being; and graduation and transition into adult life. The primary goal of these centers is to remove nonacademic barriers to learning as a means to enhance student academic success. Each center offers a unique blend of programs and services determined by the needs of the population being served, available resources, location and other local characteristics. FRYSCs have established a record of success based on improved student performance in class work, homework and peer relations as reported by teachers. Parents, too, report they experience greater satisfaction and involvement with the schools as a result of assistance through their local FRYSCs.

The Center provides attorneys to represent young people in a variety of legal and administrative proceedings including child abuse and neglect matters; special education and other school issues; homelessness; juvenile justice issues and "multi-system" cases. The Center's lawyers are engaged in litigation at the trial court and appellate levels and in both federal and state courts as well as administrative forums.

Lawyer Referral Services

Sometimes people in need of an attorney don't know of one to call. Lawyer referral services were created for just that reason. Each of the services may operate in different manner, and none are affiliated with the Kentucky Bar Association. The following name, phone number and hours of operation are provided as a public service.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation assists Kentuckians with disabilities to achieve suitable employment and independence. Eligibility Requirements: Individuals must have a physical or mental impairment that results in a substantial impediment to employment. If you receive Social Security Disability benefits, you are considered to be an individual with a significant disability and are presumed eligible for services. It is not necessary to receive SSI to qualify for this program. Must be of employable age by completion of rehabilitation. Vocational Rehabilitation provides services to individuals with physical or mental disabilities to enable them to enter or return to employment. Some examples are: assessment for determining eligibility and vocational rehabilitation needs, counseling and guidance vocational and other training services, supported employment, personal assistance services, interpreter and note taking services, telecommunications, sensory, and other technological aids and devices, rehabilitation technology, job placement and job retention services and employment follow-up and post-employment services. The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation works closely with the Kentucky Department of Education to assist eligible students with disabilities to identify, plan for an achieve their vocational goals. Rehabilitation counselors located in regional offices help high school transition students with disabilities with vocational rehabilitation and job placements.

Community Based Work Transition Program (CBWTP)

(See State Resource Section)

CBWTP is a collaborative effort between participating local school districts, the Kentucky Department of Education, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation and the Human Development Institute to help students with their transition needs.

Kentucky Office for the Blind

Mission is to provide services to individuals with disabilities so they may achieve suitable employment and independence. Center operates several different types of programs that assist consumers to achieve their vocational rehabilitation goals. Assist individuals who are blind and visually impaired in achieving their education, vocational and independent living goals. A vocational or independent living counselor will determine an individual's eligibility to receive services at the center. The Kentucky Office for the Blind Transition Services support high school students and their families in planning or activities beyond high school such as post secondary training, employment, and independent living. A counselor is available to participate as a vocational consultant with the school in transition planning. They usually meet with the student and their family during their ARC or IEP meeting scheduled annually by the high school Special Education Coordinator. The counselor will have to be invited by the school and the student's family to the meeting. Generally counselors first meet the student during their sophomore or junior year.

5. ADULT SERVICES

Medicaid Waivers

Visit Website: <http://cfhs.ky.gov/dms/kyhealthchoices.htm>

Medicaid can pay for services to help an eligible individual with significant needs continue to live at home through Waiver programs. While some eligibility requirements are “waived” for these programs, the individual must require a protective level of care related to daily living skills or skilled medical care. The financial criterion is based only on the income of the individual. Since waiver programs pay for services for a limited number of people, openings can fill up quickly and there may be a waiting list.

(See State Resource Section for Waivers and descriptions, i.e. Michelle P, Supports for Community Living (SCL), Acquired Brain Injury, Home and Community Based , Model II)

For eligibility information and assessment contact the Regional Mental Health Center, Area Agency on Aging in the region, or local home health provider.

Consumer Directed Option – Kentucky Independence Plus Program (CDO)

CDO allows waiver eligible members to choose a provider for their non-medical waiver services, allowing them greater freedom of choice, flexibility, and control over their supports and services. The Community Mental health Centers and Area Agencies on Aging act as support brokers. Once you choose CDO, you will no longer have a case manager through the traditional agency. The Support Broker will act as your case manager. The Support Broker will assist you with enrolling in CDO, developing your plan of care and support spending plan, locating service providers and negotiating rates, supporting you in hiring, supervising and firing your employees. You can “blend” your CDO plan by continuing with the services that are working for you and Consumer Direct other services. If you feel CDO doesn't work for you, simply return to the way you are currently receiving services. Support Brokers in your area are:

State Programs

Hart Supported Living Program

(See State Resources for State Office and Local Office Contacts)

The Hart Supported Living Program is for Kentuckians with disabilities to request grants for highly flexible individualized services which, when combined with natural unpaid or other eligible supports, provide the necessary assistance for the individual to live in the community. Eligibility is quite broad – any Kentuckian with a disability recognized under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is eligible to apply for the grant. The program is administered through the Department for Aging and Independent Living, but it is a program for people with all disabilities. Contact your Regional Supported Living Coordinator for an application and for assistance in completing the application. Applications must be received by April 1st in the office of Regional Supported Living Coordinator for funding for the upcoming fiscal year, beginning July 1st.

Personal Care Attendant Program

The Personal Care Attendant Program helps adults with severe physical disabilities at risk of being institutionalized to live in their own homes and communities by subsidizing costs of personal care attendant services. The personal care attendant, hired by the adult with physical disabilities, helps with personal care, housekeeping, shopping, travel, self-care procedures, meal preparation and other day-to-day activities. Eligibility: Participants must be 18 or older, have severe, physical disabilities with permanent or temporary recurring functional loss of two or more limbs, need at least 14 hours but no more than 40 hours of attendant care per week, be mentally capable of instructing and supervising attendants and be capable of preparing payroll and required employer tax statements.

6. SUPPORT SERVICESPhysical Health*Early Periodic Screening, Diagnosis, and Treatment Program (EPSDT)

For eligibility information contact the local Department for Community Based Services Permanency and Protection Unit or Department for Medicaid Services, Frankfort, Kentucky (502) 564-6890. (See local DCBS Offices below) EPSDT is designed to improve primary health benefits for children with emphasis on preventive care that has been a part of the Federal Medicaid Program since its beginning in the late sixties. After a Medicaid review in 1989, Congress moved to increase the services of EPSDT through the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act. States must now cover regular and periodic exams for all eligible children under the age of 21 which have been excluded under the regular Medicaid programs in the past. The materials that must accompany an EPSDT application are: a physician's order (on a prescription pad) – a letter of Medical necessity from a physician, physical therapist or other qualified personnel.

Mental Health

Kentucky Impact Program

Kentucky IMPACT represents one program that utilizes 'wraparound' for children, youth and families. Created in 1990, IMPACT is available statewide and provides for the identification and coordination of needed services and supports for children and youth who are involved with multiple child serving entities and who have a Severe Emotional Disability.

Kentucky Impact Plus Program

(For more information – see State Resources in this Guide)

Kentucky IMPACT Plus is a collaborative effort between the Departments for Medicaid Services, Community Based Services and Behavioral health, Developmental and Intellectual Disabilities to help provide community-based services for Kentucky's Medicaid/KCHIP eligible children with complex treatment needs. The goal of IMPACT

Plus is to help parents and caregivers understand their children's needs and the processes involved in care and service delivery. Ultimately, the program eases access to services indicated by a child's needs.

Several different rental assistance programs are available through KHC. These programs offer very low-income residents an opportunity to find housing at an affordable price. KHC administers many federal rental assistance. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development pays a portion of the resident's rent (subsidy) and the resident pays the rest (usually 30 to 40 percent of their income). Such programs include the Housing Choice Voucher Program, Rental Administration and New Havens. Kentucky Housing Corporation's New Construction Program for the Disabled – makes home loans at 1% to 6% interested to individuals with disabilities, based on family income. You must apply through a local participating lender. Applications are submitted by lenders to KHC on an ongoing basis until funds run out.

Social Security Administration/Office of Disability

Eligibility: An adult, age 18 and over, may be eligible if a mental or physical disability prevents the person from working for at least 12 months or is expected to result in death. A child under the age of 18 may be eligible. In the case of a child, the family's income and assets are considered. When the person is 18 or over, the family's income and assets are no longer considered for eligibility -only those of the individual. A person can have some assets and income and still qualify for SSI benefits. If you want to work, there are special rules to help. Contact your social security office if you have questions about SSI. A person who has a disability must accept vocational rehabilitation services if offered. After SSI payments begin, changes in income, assets and living arrangements must be reported.

Kentucky Transitional Assistance Program (K-TAP)

Cabinet for Health and Family Services
275 East Main Street
Frankfort, KY 40621
Phone: (502) 564-7050

K-TAP is a monetary assistance program established by Kentucky using Federal funds from the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant. K-TAP provides financial and medical assistance to needy dependent children in Kentucky and the parents, or relatives with whom the children are living. K-TAP also helps families find jobs or get training that leads to a job. A family can only get K-TAP for 60 months in lifetime. Each month a family gets K-TAP counts toward the 60 months limit. A family does not have to get K-TAP for 60 months straight. K-TAP payments to families are based on family size and income. In addition to the monetary grant, K-TAP recipients may also be eligible for support services such as childcare and transportation assistance through the Kentucky Works program. Relocation assistance is also available to qualified K-TAP recipients, as are the educational bonus, work incentive bonus, and resident of Kentucky, a U.S. citizen or qualified alien, unemployed or under employed (working 18 or 290 years old if meeting the school attendance requirement) and have low or very low income. To apply contact your local DCBS Office listed above.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

1. YOUTH DEVELOPMENT & LEADERSHIP/SELF DETERMINATION

Kentucky Family Resource and Youth Services Centers

Family Resource and Youth Services Centers' (FRYSCs) mission is to enhance students' abilities to succeed in school by developing and sustaining partnerships that promote: early learning and successful transition into school; academic achievement and well being; and graduation and transition into adult life. The primary goal of these centers is to remove nonacademic barriers to learning as a means to enhance student academic success. Each center offers a unique blend of programs and services determined by the needs of the population being served, available resources, location and other local characteristics. FRYSCs have established a record of success based on improved student performance in class work, homework and peer relations as reported by teachers. Parents, too, report they experience greater satisfaction and involvement with the schools as a result of assistance through their local FRYSCs.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

The Postsecondary Inclusion Partnership is a model demonstration project aimed at including students with intellectual and other developmental disabilities in postsecondary education. Its mission is to promote participation in college/university life for people with intellectual and other developmental disabilities. Through partnering with families, educators and administrators, they support students to achieve their stated goals and work for further recognition of their roles as valued citizens.

Eligibility Requirements: The partnership is available for students who: have an educational or employment goal requiring postsecondary education; are between ages of 18 and 26; have an intellectual and/or other developmental disability and have appropriate family support as needed.

The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation assists Kentuckians with disabilities to achieve suitable employment and independence. Eligibility Requirements: Individuals must have a physical or mental impairment that results in a substantial impediment to employment. If you receive Social Security Disability benefits, you are considered to be an individual with a significant disability and are presumed eligible for services. It is not necessary to receive SSI to qualify for this program. Must be of employable age by completion of rehabilitation. Vocational Rehabilitation provides services to individuals with physical or mental disabilities to enable them to enter or return to employment. Some examples are: assessment for determining eligibility and vocational rehabilitation needs, counseling and guidance, vocational and other training services, supported employment, personal assistance services, interpreter and note taking services, telecommunications, sensory, and other technological aids and devices, rehabilitation technology, job placement and job retention services and employment follow-up and post-employment services. The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation works closely with the Kentucky Department of Education to assist eligible students with disabilities to identify, plan for and achieve their vocational goals. Rehabilitation counselors located in regional offices help high schools transition students with disabilities with vocational rehabilitation and job placements.

Mission is to provide services to individuals with disabilities so they may achieve suitable employment and independence. Center operates several different types of programs that assist consumers to achieve their vocational rehabilitation goals. Assist individuals who are blind and visually impaired in achieving their educational, vocational and independent living goals. A vocational or independent living counselor will determine an individual's eligibility to receive services at the center. The Kentucky Office for the Blind Transition Services support high school students and their families in planning for activities beyond high school such as post secondary training, employment, and independent living. A counselor is available to participate as a vocational consultant with the school in transition planning. They usually meet with the student and their family during their ARC or IEP meeting scheduled annually by the high school Special Education Coordinator. The counselor will have to be invited by the school and the student's family to the meeting. Generally counselors first meet the student during their sophomore or junior year.

Medicaid Waivers

Visit Website: <http://cfhs.ky.gov/dms/kyhealthchoices.htm>

Medicaid can pay for services to help an eligible individual with significant needs continue to live at home through Waiver programs. While some eligibility requirements are “waived” for these programs, the individual must require a protective level of care related to daily living skills or skilled medical care. The financial criterion is based only on the income of the individual. Since waiver programs pay for services for a limited number of people, openings can fill up quickly and there may be a waiting list.

(See State Resource section for Waivers and descriptions, i.e. Michelle P, Supports for Community Living (SCL), Acquired Brain Injury, Home and Community Based, Model II)

Consumer Directed Option – Kentucky Independence Plus Program (CDO)

CDO allows waiver eligible members to choose a provider for their non-medical waiver services, allowing them greater freedom of choice, flexibility, and control over their supports and services. The Community Mental Health Centers and Area Agencies on Aging act as support brokers. Once you choose CDO, you will no longer have a case manager through the traditional agency. The Support Broker will assist you with enrolling in CDO developing your plan of care and support spending plan, locating service providers and negotiating rates, supporting you in hiring, supervising and firing your employees. You can “blend” your CDO plan by continuing with the services that are working for you Consumer Direct other services. If you feel CDO doesn’t work for you, simply return to the way you are currently receiving services. Support Brokers in your area are:

State Programs

Hart Supported Living Program

The Hart Supported Living Program is for Kentuckians with disabilities to request grants for highly flexible individualized services which, when combined with natural unpaid or other eligible supports provide the necessary assistance for the individual to live in the community. Eligibility is quite broad – any Kentuckian with a disability recognized under the American’s with Disabilities Act (ADA) is eligible to apply of the grant. The program is administered through the Department for Aging and Independent Living but it is a program for people with all disabilities. Contact your Regional Supported Living Coordinator for an application and for assistance in completing the application. Applications must be received by April 1st.

Personal Care Attendant Program

Website: <http://www.chfs.ky.gov/dail/pcap.htm>

The Personal Care Attendant Program helps adults with severe physical disabilities at risk of being institutionalized to live in their own homes and communities by subsidizing costs of personal attendant services. The personal care attendant, hired by the adult with physical disabilities, helps with personal care, housekeeping, shopping, travel, self-care procedures, meal preparation and other day-to-day activities. Eligibility Requirements: Participants must be 18 or older, have severe, physical disabilities with permanent or temporary recurring functional loss of two or more limbs, need at least 14 hours but no more than 40 hours of attendant care per week, be mentally capable of instructing and supervising attendants and be capable of preparing payroll and required employer tax statements. Transportation

<http://chfs.ky.gov/dms/trans.htm>

Medicaid covers only medically necessary transportation to and from a Medicaid-covered service.

For more information regarding Emergency/Non-Emergency Medical Ambulance Transportation Services -

Phone: (502) 564-2687

Emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) is covered when the eligible member is transported in an emergency condition, usually to hospital, resulting from an accident, serious injury, or acute illness that makes it impossible to use other types of transportation.

Non-emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) are covered if the eligible member is confined to a bed before and after the ambulance trip or the member must be moved only by stretcher in order to receive medically necessary Medicaid covered medical services.

For more information regarding Non-Emergency Medical Transportation Services,

Phone: (502) 564-6204

Non-emergency Medical Transportation is for Medicaid members who do not have access to free transportation that suits their medical needs and need to be transported to a Medicaid covered service. For transportation outside of a member's medical service area or for specialty care, a referral from a member's primary care physician is required. Travel to pharmacies is not covered.

For more information regarding the Human Service Transportation Delivery, phone the Office of Transportation Delivery for program policies and complaints at (888) 941-7433.

Non-emergency Medical Transportation services are available through the Human Service Transportation Delivery (HSTD) program, which is a regional brokerage system. Depending on a member's medical needs, transportation is provided by taxi, van, bus or public transit. Wheelchair service is also provided if required by medical necessity.

Transportation to programs for adults with disabilities is not provided by any agency. The Transit Authority of Northern Kentucky (TANK) has scheduled stops at BAWAC, Inc. in Florence, Redwood in Ft. Mitchell, and NPI Industries in Edgewood for program beginning and ending times.

6. SUPPORT SERVICES

Physical Health

Early Periodic Screening, Diagnostic, and Treatment Program (EPSDT)

(For eligibility information contact the local Department for Community Based Services Permanency and Protection Unit or Department for Medicaid Services, Frankfort, Kentucky (502) 564-6890. See Local DCBS Offices Below. EPSDT is designed to improve primary health benefits for children with emphasis on preventive care that has been part of the Federal Medicaid Program since its beginning in the late sixties. After a Medicaid review in 1989, Congress moved to increase the services of EPSDT through the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act. States must now cover regular and periodic exams for all eligible children under the age of 21 which have been excluded under the regular Medicaid programs in the past. The materials that must accompany an EPSDT application are: a physician's order (on a prescription pad) – a letter of Medical necessity from a physician, physical therapist or other qualified personnel.

Dentistry

Cabinet for Health and Family Services (CHFS)

The Kentucky Medicaid Dental Program covers certain routine preventive and restorative services for children under age 21 who have full Medicaid eligibility. Medicaid does cover some types of dental care for adults.

Coverage for children includes: oral exams, X-rays, extractions, fillings for all ages, root canal therapy, crowns, sealants and braces (for severe circumstances) and must meet prior authorization criteria.

Coverage for adults is limited, but includes: oral exams, emergency visits, X-rays, extractions and fillings.

Mental Health

Kentucky Impact Program

Kentucky IMPACT represents one program that utilizes “wraparound” for children, youth and families. Created in 1990, IMPACT is available statewide and provides for the identification and coordination of needed services and supports for children and youth who are involved with multiple child serving entities and who have a severe emotional disability.

Kentucky Impact Plus Program

Kentucky IMPACT Plus is a collaborative effort between the Departments for Medicaid Services, Community Based Services and Behavioral Health, Developmental and Intellectual Disabilities to help provide community-based services for Kentucky's Medicaid/KCHIP eligible children with complex treatment needs. The goal of IMPACT Plus is to help parents and caregivers understand their children's needs and the processes involved in care and service delivery. Ultimately, the program eases access to services indicated by a child's needs.

(For more information – see State Resources listed in this Guide). You can contact the local Impact Plus Resource Coordinator at the addresses below.

Services: Low and moderate income housing and rental assistance.

Several different rental assistance programs are available through KHC. These programs offer very low-income residents an opportunity to find housing at an affordable price. KHC administers many Federal rental housing programs. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development pays a portion of the resident's rent (subsidy) and the resident pays the rest (usually 30 to 40 percent of their income). Such programs include the Housing Choice Voucher Program, Rental Administration and New Havens. Kentucky's Housing Corporation's New Construction Program for the Disabled – makes home loans at 1% to 6% interest to individuals with disabilities, based on family income. You must apply through a local participating lender. Applications are submitted by lenders to KHC on an ongoing basis until funds run out.

Eligibility: An adult, 18 or over, may be eligible if a mental or physical disability prevents the person from working for at least 12 months or is expected to result in death. A child under the age of 18 may be eligible. Social Security assesses the disability and the effect on everyday life in determining eligibility. In the case of a child, the family's income and assets are considered. When the person is 18 or over, the family's income and assets are no longer considered for eligibility – only those of the individual. A person can have some assets and income and still qualify for SSI benefits. If you want to work, there are special rules to help. Contact your Social Security Office if you have any questions about SSI. A person who has a disability must accept vocational rehabilitation services if offered. After SSI payments begin, changes in income, assets, and living arrangements must be reported.

Kentucky Transitional Assistance Program (K-TAP)

Cabinet for Health and Family Services
275 East Main Street
Frankfort, KY 40621
Phone: (502) 564-7050

K-TAP is a monetary assistance program established by Kentucky using Federal funds from the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant. K-TAP provides financial and medical assistance to needy dependent children in Kentucky and the parents, or relatives with whom the children are living. K-TAP also helps families find jobs or get training that leads to a job. A family can only get K-TAP for 60 months in lifetime. Each month a family gets K-TAP counts toward the 60 months limit. A family does not have to get K-TAP for 60 months straight. K-TAP payments to families are based on family size and income. In addition to the monetary grant, K-TAP recipients may also be eligible for support services such as childcare and transportation assistance through the Kentucky Works program. Relocation assistance is also available to qualified K-TAP recipients, as are the educational bonus, work incentive bonus, and Employment Retention Assistance. In order to qualify for this benefit program, you must be a resident of Kentucky, a U.S. citizen or qualified alien, unemployed or under employed (working for very low wages), a parent/relative caregiver is who is responsible for children up to the age of 18 (or 19 yrs old if meeting the school attendance requirement) and have low or very low income. To apply contact your Local DCBS office listed above.

“Parents need to be active and involved, so they know what is available and what the trends are. What we wanted for our daughter changed over time as more options became available. People who are active and involved are the ones who are first in line for services. That’s just how it is. We started with the Acquired Brain Injury (ABI) Waiver and were able to switch to the Supports for Community Living Waiver (SCL). Now, our daughter is living in her own apartment with some supports and has started her own business with the assistance of the Vocational Rehabilitation’s Supported Employment staff and the Department’s Project Asset. We knew about these programs because we have been advocates and active in state committees for many years.”

Vanessa Groneck, Transition Consultant
vanessa.groneck@nkces.org

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

1. YOUTH DEVELOPMENT & LEADERSHIP/SELF-DETERMINATION

Kentucky Family Resource and Youth Services Centers (FRYSCs)

FRYSCs' mission is to enhance students' abilities to succeed in school by developing and sustaining partnerships that promote: early learning and successful transition into school; academic achievement and well being; and graduation and transition into adult life. The primary goal of these centers is to remove nonacademic barriers to learning as a means to enhance student academic success. Each center offers a unique blend of programs and services determined by the needs of the population being served, available resources, location and other local characteristics. FRYSCs have established a record of success based on improved student performance in class work, homework and peer relations as reported by teachers. Parents, too, report they experience greater satisfaction and involvement with the schools as a result of assistance through their local FRYSCs.

Services: Represents young people in a variety of legal and administrative proceedings including child abuse and neglect matters, special education and other school issues, homelessness, juvenile justice issues and “multi-system” cases. Also provides training and education to professions, research and policy development, information and referral and special projects. Families can discuss their legal concerns for their child and may be asked to bring any records and documentation related to the issues. Cases are “staffed” weekly by the Center's attorneys to determine eligibility for legal services.

Lawyer Referral Services

Sometimes people in need of an attorney don't know of one to call. Lawyer referral services were created for just that reason. Each of the services may operate in different manners, and none are affiliated with the Kentucky Bar Association. They provide the names, phone numbers and hour of operation as a public service. Listed below is referral service located in this region.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

Kentucky Office for the Blind

Mission is to provide services to individuals with disabilities so they may achieve suitable employment and independence. Center operates several different types of programs that assist consumers to achieve their vocational rehabilitation goals. Assist individuals who are blind and visually impaired in achieving their educational, vocational and independent living goals. A vocational or independent living counselor will determine an individual's eligibility to receive services at the center. The Kentucky Office for the Blind Transition Services support high school students and their families in planning for activities beyond high school such as post secondary training, employment, and independent living. A counselor is available to participate as a vocational consultant with the school in transition planning. They usually meet with the student and their family during their ARC or IEP meeting scheduled annually by the high school Special Education Coordinator. The counselor will have to be invited by the school and the student's family to the meeting. Generally counselors first meet the student during their sophomore or junior year.

5. ADULT SERVICES

Medicaid Waivers

Visit Website: <http://cfhs.ky.gov/dms/kyhealthchoices.htm>

Medicaid can pay for services to help an eligible individual with significant needs continue to live at home through Waiver programs. While some eligibility requirements are “waived” for these programs, the individual must require a protective level of care related to daily living skills or skilled medical care. The financial criterion is based only on the income of the individual. Since waiver programs pay for services for a limited number of people, openings can fill up quickly and there may be a waiting list.

(See State Resource section for waivers and descriptions, i.e. Michelle P, Supports for Community Living, Acquired Brain Injury, Home and Community Based, Model 2.)

Consumer Directed Option –Kentucky Independence Plus Program (CDO)

CDO allows waiver eligible members to choose a provider for their non-medical waiver services, allowing them greater freedom of choice, flexibility, and control over their supports and services. The Community Mental Health Centers and Area Agencies on Aging act as support brokers. Once you choose CDO, you will no longer have a case manager through the traditional agency. The Support Broker will act as your case manager. The Support Broker will assist you with enrolling in CDO, developing your plan of care and support spending plan, locating service providers and negotiating rates, supporting you in hiring, supervising and firing your employees. You can “blend” your CDO plan by continuing with the services that are working for you and Consumer Direct other services. If you feel CDO doesn’t work for you, simply return to the way you are currently receiving services. Support Brokers in your area are:

State Programs

Hart Supported Living Program

Hart Supported Living program is for Kentuckians with disabilities to request grants for highly flexible individualized services which, when combined with natural unpaid or other eligible supports” provide the necessary assistance for the individual to live in the community. Eligibility is quite broad – any Kentuckian with a disability recognized under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is eligible to apply for the grant. The program is administered through the Department for Aging and Independent Living but it is a program for people with all disabilities. Contact your Regional Supported Living Coordinator for an application and for assistance in completing the application. Applications must be received by April 1st in the office of Regional Supported Living Coordinator for funding for the upcoming fiscal year, beginning July 1st.

TransportationMEDICAID

<http://chfs.ky.gov/dms/trans.htm>

Medicaid covers only medically necessary transportation to and from a Medicaid-covered service.

For more information regarding Emergency/Non-Emergency Medical Ambulance Transportation Services -

Phone: (502) 564-2687

Emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) is covered when the eligible member is transported in an emergency condition, usually to hospital, resulting from an accident, serious injury, or acute illness that makes it impossible to use other types of transportation.

Non-emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) are covered if the eligible member is confined to a bed before and after the ambulance trip or the member must be moved only by stretcher in order to receive medically necessary Medicaid covered medical services.

For more information regarding Non-Emergency Medical Transportation Services,

Phone: (502) 564-6204

Non-emergency Medical Transportation is for Medicaid members who do not have access to free transportation that suits their medical needs and need to be transported to a Medicaid covered service. For transportation outside of a member's medical service area or for specialty care, a referral from a member's primary care physician is required. Travel to pharmacies is not covered.

For more information regarding the Human Service Transportation Delivery, phone the Office of Transportation Delivery for program policies and complaints at (888) 941-7433.

Non-emergency Medical Transportation services are available through the Human Service Transportation Delivery (HSTD) program, which is a regional brokerage system. Depending on a member's medical needs, transportation is provided by taxi, van, bus or public transit. Wheelchair service is also provided if required by medical necessity.

Transportation to programs for adults with disabilities is not provided by any agency. The Transit Authority of Northern Kentucky (TANK) has scheduled stops at BAWAC, Inc. in Florence, Redwood in Ft. Mitchell, and NPI Industries in Edgewood. Call for program beginning and ending times.

6. SUPPORT SERVICES

Physical Health

Early Periodic, Diagnostic, and Treatment Program (EPSDT)

For eligibility information contact the local Department for Community Based Services Permanency and Protection Unit or Department for Medicaid Services, Frankfort, KY (502) 564-6890.

EPSDT is designed to improve primary health benefits for children with emphasis on preventive care that has been a part of the Federal Medicaid Program since its beginning in the late sixties. After a Medicaid review in 1989, Congress moved to increase the services of EPSDT through the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act. States must now cover regular and periodic exams for all eligible children under the age of 21 which have been excluded under the regular Medicaid programs in the past. The materials that must accompany an EPSDT application are: a physician's order (on a prescription pad) – a letter of Medical necessity from a physician, physical therapists or other qualified personnel. (See local DCBS offices below).

Kentucky Children's Health Insurance Program (K-CHIP)

K-CHIP's mission is to provide health insurance coverage to low income, uninsured children in Kentucky. To qualify must be less than 19 years of age, must not be eligible for Medicaid, must not have had health insurance for at least six months, must not have voluntarily dropped child's insurance within the past 6 months, and family income must be at or below 200% of Federal Poverty Level Line. Mental Health

Kentucky Impact Program

Kentucky IMPACT represents one program that utilized “wraparound” for children, youth, and families. Created in 1990, IMPACT is available statewide and provides for the identification and coordination of needed services and supports for children and youth who are involved with multiple child serving entities and who have a severe emotional disability.

Kentucky Impact Plus Program

(For more information – see State Resources in this Guide)

Kentucky IMPACT Plus is a collaborative effort between the Departments for Medicaid Services, Community Based Services and Behavioral Health, Developmental and Intellectual Disabilities to help provide community-based services for Kentucky’s Medicaid/KCHIP eligible children with complex treatment needs. The goal of IMPACT Plus is to help parents and caregivers understand their children’s needs and the processes involved in care and service delivery. Ultimately, the program eases access to services indicated by a child’s needs.

Several different rental assistance programs are available through KHC. These programs offer very low-income residents an opportunity to find housing at an affordable price. KHC administers many federal rental assistance. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development pays a portion of the resident's rent (subsidy) and the resident pays the rest (usually 30 to 40 percent of their income). Such programs include the Housing Choice Voucher Program, Rental Administration and New Havens. Kentucky Housing Corporation's New Construction Program for the Disabled – makes home loans at 1% to 6% interested to individuals with disabilities, based on family income. You must apply through a local participating lender. Applications are submitted by lenders to KHC on an ongoing basis until funds run out.

Social Security Administration/Office of Disability

Eligibility: An adult, age 18 and over, may be eligible if a mental or physical disability prevents the person from working for at least 12 months or is expected to result in death. A child under the age of 18 may be eligible. Social Security assesses the disability and the effect on everyday life in determining eligible. In the case of a child, the family's income and assets are considered. When the person is 18 or over, the family's income and assets are no longer considered for eligibility—only those of the individual. A person can have some assets and income and still qualify for SSI benefits. If you want to work, there are special rules to help. Contact your social security office if you have any questions about SSI. A person who has a disability must accept vocational rehabilitation services if offered. After SSI payments begin, changes in income, assets and living arrangements must be reported. (See Employment Section of Directory for more comprehensive information about SSDI and SSI).

Kentucky Transitional Assistance Program (K-TAP)

Cabinet for Health and Family Services
275 East Main Street
Frankfort, KY 40621
Phone: (502) 564-7050

K-TAP is a monetary assistance program established by Kentucky using Federal funds from the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant. K-TAP provides financial and medical assistance to needy dependent children in Kentucky and the parents, or relatives with whom the children are living. K-TAP also helps families find jobs or get training that leads to a job. A family can only get K-TAP for 60 months in lifetime. Each month a family gets K-TAP counts toward the 60 months limit. A family does not have to get K-TAP for 60 months straight. K-TAP payments to families are based on family size and income. In addition to the monetary grant, K-TAP recipients may also be eligible for support services such as childcare and transportation assistance through the Kentucky Works program. Relocation assistance is also available to qualified K-TAP recipients, as are the educational bonus, work incentive bonus, and Employment Retention Assistance. In order to qualify for this benefit program, you must be a resident of Kentucky, a U.S. citizen or qualified alien, unemployed or under employed (working for very low wages), a parent/relative caregiver is who is responsible for children up to the age of 18 (or 19 yrs old if meeting the school attendance requirement) and have low or very low income. To apply contact your Local DCBS office listed above.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

1. YOUTH DEVELOPMENT & LEADERSHIP/SELF DETERMINATION

Kentucky Family Resource and Youth Services Centers (FRYSCs)

Family Resource and Youth Services Centers (FRYSCs) mission is to enhance students' abilities to succeed in school by developing and sustaining partnerships that promote: early learning and successful transition into school; academic achievement and well-being; and graduation and transition into adult life. The primary goal of these centers is to remove non-academic barriers to learning as a means to enhance student academic success. Each center offers a unique blend of programs and services determined by the needs of the population being served, available resources, location and other local characteristics. FRYSCs have established a record of success based on improved student performance in class work, homework and peer relations as reported by teachers. Parents, too, report they experience greater satisfaction and involvement with the schools as a result of assistance through their local FRYSCs.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promotes best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

Disability Resource Center

Contact: Kendis Smith, Counselor

The Hill Center, Ste. 220

Frankfort, KY 40601

Phone: (502) 597-5093

The goal of the Disability Resource Center is to provide equal access to students who are eligible. In partnership with students, faculty and staff, our purpose is to achieve an accessible educational environment where students with disabilities have an equal opportunity to fully participate in all aspects of the university community. It is recommended that students contact the Disability Resource Center four weeks before accommodations are needed to request assistance to allow for the required medical or psychological documentation to be obtained and reviewed and for accommodations to be arranged. Staff will explain and guide students through the application process. Students with disabilities who wish to be considered to accommodations are strongly encouraged to contact the Resource Center upon receipt of the notice of admission to Kentucky State University.

CBWTP is a collaborative effort between participating local school districts, the Kentucky Department of Education, Office of Vocational Rehabilitation and the Human Development Institute to help students with their transition needs.

Kentucky Office for the Blind

Mission is to provide services to individuals with disabilities so they may achieve suitable employment and independence. Center operates several different types of programs that assist consumers to achieve their vocational rehabilitation goals. Assist individuals who are blind and visually impaired in achieving their educational, vocational and independent living goals. A vocational or independent living counselor will determine an individual's eligibility to receive services at the center. The Kentucky Office for the Blind Transition Services support high school students and their families in planning for activities beyond high school such as post secondary training, employment, and independent living. A counselor is available to participate as a vocational consultant with the school in transition planning. They usually meet with the student and their family during their ARC or IEP meeting scheduled annually by the high school Special Education Coordinator. The counselor will have to be invited by the school and the student's family to the meeting. Generally counselors first meet the student during their sophomore or junior year.

Medicaid Waivers

Visit Website: <http://cfhs.gov/dms/kyhealthchoices.htm>

Medicaid can pay for services to help an eligible individual with significant needs continue to live at home through Waiver programs. While some eligibility requirements are “waived” for these programs, the individual must require a protective level of care related to daily living skills or skilled medical care. The financial criterion is based only on the income of the individual quickly and there may be a waiting list.

(See State Resource section for waivers and descriptions. i.e. Michelle P, Supports for Community Living, Acquired Brain Injury, Home and Community Based, Model 2.)

Consumer Directed Option – Kentucky Independence Plus Program (CDO)

CDO allows waiver eligible members to choose a provider for their non-medical waiver services, allowing them greater freedom of choice, flexibility, and control over their supports and services. The Community Mental Health Centers and Area Agencies on Aging act as support brokers. Once you choose CDO, you will no longer have a case manager through the traditional agency. The Support Broker will assist you with enrolling in CDO developing your plan of care and support spending plan, locating service providers and negotiating rates, supporting you in hiring, supervising and firing your employees. You can “blend” your CDO plan by continuing with the services that are working for you Consumer Direct other services. If you feel CDO doesn't work for you, simply return to the way you are currently receiving services. Support Brokers in your area are:

State Programs

Hart Supported Living Program

Hart Supported Living program is for Kentuckians with disabilities to request grants for highly flexible individualized services which, when combined with natural unpaid or other eligible supports⁷ provide the necessary assistance for the individual to live in the community. Eligibility is quite broad – any Kentuckian with a disability recognized under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is eligible to apply for the grant. The program is administered through the Department for Aging and Independent Living but it is a program for people with all disabilities. Contact your Regional Supported Living Coordinator for an application and for assistance in completing the application. Applications must be received by April 1st in the office of Regional Supported Living Coordinator for funding for the upcoming fiscal year, beginning July 1st.

Personal Care Attendant Program

The Personal Care Attendant Program helps adults with severe physical disabilities at risk of being institutionalized to live in their own homes and communities by subsidizing costs of personal care attendant services. The personal care attendant, hired by the adult with physical disabilities, helps with personal care, housekeeping, shopping, travel, self-care procedures, meal preparation and other day-to-day activities. Eligibility: Participants must be 18 or older, have severe, physical disabilities with permanent or temporary recurring functional loss of two or more limbs, need at least 14 hours but no more than 40 hours of attendant care per week, be mentally capable of instructing and supervising attendants and be capable of preparing payroll and required employer tax statements.

TransportationMEDICAID

<http://chfs.kv.gov/dms/trans.htm>

Medicaid covers only medically necessary transportation to and from a Medicaid-covered service.

For more information regarding Emergency/Non-Emergency Medical Ambulance Transportation Services -

Phone: (502) 564-2687

Emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) is covered when the eligible member is transported in an emergency condition, usually to hospital, resulting from an accident, serious injury, or acute illness that makes it impossible to use other types of transportation.

Non-emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) are covered if the eligible member is confined to a bed before and after the ambulance trip or the member must be moved only by stretcher in order to receive medically necessary Medicaid covered medical services.

For more information regarding Non-Emergency Medical Transportation Services,

Phone: (502) 564-6204

Non-emergency Medical Transportation is for Medicaid members who do not have access to free transportation that suits their medical needs and need to be transported to a Medicaid covered service. For transportation outside of a member's medical service area or for specialty care, a referral from a member's primary care physician is required. Travel to pharmacies is not covered.

For more information regarding the Human Service Transportation Delivery, phone the Office of Transportation Delivery for program policies and complaints at (888) 941-7433.

Non-emergency Medical Transportation services are available through the Human Service Transportation Delivery (HSTD) program, which is a regional brokerage system. Depending on a member's medical needs, transportation is provided by taxi, van, bus or public transit. Wheelchair service is also provided if required by medical necessity.

6. SUPPORT SERVICES

Physical Health

Early Periodic Screening, Diagnostic, and Treatment Program (EPSDT)

For eligibility information contact the local Department for Community Based Services Permanency and Protection Unit or Department for Medicaid Services, Frankfort, KY (502) 564-6890.

EPSDT is designed to improve primary health benefits for children with emphasis on preventive care that has been a part of the Federal Medicaid Program since its beginning in the late sixties. After a Medicaid review in 1989, Congress moved to increase the services of EPSDT through the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act. States must now cover regular and periodic exams for all eligible children under the age of 21 which have been excluded under the regular Medicaid programs in the past. The materials that must accompany an EPSDT application are: a physician's order (on a prescription pad) – a letter of Medical necessity from a physician, physical therapists or other qualified personnel. (See local DCBS offices below).

Kentucky Children's Health Insurance Program (K-CHIP)

K-CHIP's mission is to provide health insurance coverage to low income, uninsured children in Kentucky. To qualify must be less than 19 years of age, must not be eligible for Medicaid, must not have had health insurance for at least six months, must not have voluntarily dropped child's insurance within the past 6 months, and family income must be at or below 200% of Federal Poverty Level Line. Kentucky Impact Program

Kentucky IMPACT represents one program that utilized “wraparound” for children, youth, and families. Created in 1990, IMPACT is available statewide and provides for the identification and coordination of needed services and supports for children and youth who are involved with multiple child serving entities and who have a severe emotional disability.

Kentucky Impact Plus Program

(For more information – see State Resources in this Guide)
Kentucky IMPACT Plus is a collaborative effort between the Departments for Medicaid Services, Community Based Services and Behavioral Health, Developmental and Intellectual Disabilities to help provide community-based services for Kentucky's Medicaid/KCHIP eligible children with complex treatment needs. The goal of IMPACT Plus is to help parents and caregivers understand their children's needs and the processes involved in care and service delivery. Ultimately, the program eases access to services indicated by a child's needs.

Several different rental assistance programs are available through KHC. These programs offer very low-income residents an opportunity to find housing at an affordable price. KHC administers much federal rental assistance. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development pays a portion of the resident's rent (subsidy) and the resident pays the rest (usually 30 to 40 percent of their income). Such programs include the Housing choice Voucher Program, rental Administration and New Havens. Kentucky's Housing Corporation's New Construction Program for the Disabled – makes home loans at 1% to 6% interested to individuals with disabilities, based on family income. You must apply through a local participating lender. Applications are submitted by lenders to KHC on an ongoing basis until funds run out.

Eligibility Requirements: Individuals, ages eight years of age or older and: 1. Have been identified by an agency or professional as having an intellectual disability as determined by their localities or 2. Have a cognitive delay, as determined by standardized measures such as intelligent quotient or "IQ" testing or other measures that are generally accepted within the professional community in that Accredited Programs nation as being a reliable measurement of the existence of a cognitive delay or 3. Have a closely related developmental disability. A "closely" related developmental disability means having functional limitations in both general learning (such as IQ) and in adaptive skills (such as in recreation, work, independent living, self-direction or self care). However, persons whose functional limitations are based solely on physical, behavioral, or emotional disability or a specific learning or sensory disability are not eligible to participate as Special Olympic athletes, but may be able to volunteer. A national organization whose mission is to provide year round sports training and athletic competition in a variety of Olympic type sports and activities while giving them continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage, experience joy, and participate in sharing of gifts, skills and friendship with their families, other athletes, and the community. Many local areas have organized Special Olympic groups. Activities may vary in each locale.

Social Security Administration/Office of Disability

Eligibility: An adult, age 18 and over, may be eligible if a mental or physical disability prevents the person from working for at least 12 months or is expected to result in death. A child under the age of 18 may be eligible. Social Security assesses the disability and the effect on everyday life in determining eligible. In the case of a child, the family's income and assets are considered. When the person is 18 or over, the family's income and assets are no longer considered for eligibility—only those of the individual. A person can have some assets and income and still qualify for SSI benefits. If you want to work, there are special rules to help. Contact your social security office if you have any questions about SSI. A person who has a disability must accept vocational rehabilitation services if offered. After SSI payments begin, changes in income, assets and living arrangements must be reported.

Provides a wide range of services designed to enable low-income families and individuals to attain skills, knowledge and motivations and secure the opportunities that will lead to economic independence. Services are provided through a network of neighborhood centers located in each county. These centers provide services that respond to local needs and fill locally identified gaps, but typical services include food assistance, a clothing bank, utility assistance, case management, budget counseling, eligibility determination for weatherization assistance, homeless prevention, child care assistance, prescription assistance, and advocacy, information and referral. Centers operate Monday – Friday from 8:00 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Kentucky Transitional Assistance Program (K-TAP)

Cabinet for Health and Family Services

275 East Main Street

Frankfort, KY 40621

Phone: (502) 564-7050

K-TAP is a monetary assistance program established by Kentucky using Federal funds from the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant. K-TAP provides financial and medical assistance to needy dependent children in Kentucky and the parents or relatives with whom the children are living. K-TAP also helps families find jobs or get training that leads to a job. A family can only get K-TAP for 60 months in lifetime. Each month a family gets K-TAP counts toward the 60 months limit. A family does not have to get K-TAP for 60 months straight. K-TAP payments to families are based on family size and income. In addition to the monetary grant, K-TAP recipients may also be eligible for support services such as childcare and transportation assistance through the Kentucky Works program. Relocation assistance is also available to qualified K-TAP recipients, as are the educational bonus, work incentive bonus, and Employment Retention Assistance. In order to qualify for this benefit program, you must be a resident of Kentucky, a U.S. citizen or qualified alien, unemployed or under employed (working for very low wages), a parent/relative caregiver who is responsible for children up to the age of 18 or 19 years old if meeting the school attendance requirement and have low or very low income. To apply contact your Local DCBS office listed above.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resource to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

1. YOUTH DEVELOPMENT & LEADERSHIP/SELF-DETERMINATION

Kentucky Family Resource and Youth Services Centers (FRYSCs)

Family Resource and Youth Service Centers (FRYSCs) mission is to enhance students' abilities to succeed in school by developing and sustaining partnership that promote: early learning and successful transition into school; academic achievement and well being; and graduation and transition into adult life. The primary goal of these centers is to remove nonacademic barriers to learning as a means to enhance student academic success. Each center offers a unique blend of programs and services determined by the needs of the population being served, available resources, location and other local characteristics. FRYSCs have established a record of success based on improved student performance in class work, homework and peer relations as reported by teachers. Parents, too, report they experience greater satisfaction and involvement with the schools as a result of assistance through their local FRYSCs.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

The Postsecondary Inclusion Partnership is a model demonstration project aimed at including students with intellectual and other developmental disabilities in postsecondary education. Its mission is to promote participation in college/university life for people with intellectual and other developmental disabilities. Through partnering with families, educators and administrators, they support students to achieve their stated goals and work for further recognition of their roles as valued citizens.

Eligibility Requirements: The partnership is available for students who: have an educational or employment goal requiring postsecondary education; are between ages of 18 and 26; have an intellectual and/or other developmental disability and have appropriate family support as needed.

The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation assists Kentuckians with disabilities to achieve suitable employment and independence. Eligibility Requirements: Individuals must have a physical or mental impairment that results in a substantial impediment to employment. If you receive Social Security Disability benefits, you are considered to be an individual with a significant disability and are presumed eligible for services. It is not necessary to receive SSI to qualify for this program. Must be of employable age by completion of rehabilitation. Vocational Rehabilitation provides services to individuals with physical or mental disabilities to enable them to enter or return to employment. Some examples are: assessment for determining eligibility and vocational rehabilitation needs, counseling and guidance, vocational and other training services, supported employment, personal assistance services, interpreter and note taking services, telecommunications, sensory, and other technological aids and devices, rehabilitation technology, job placement and job retention services and employment follow-up and post-employment services. The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation works closely with the Kentucky Department of Education to assist eligible students with disabilities to identify, plan for and achieve their vocational goals. Rehabilitation counselors located in regional offices help high schools transition students with disabilities with vocational rehabilitation and job placements.

5. ADULT SERVICES

Medicaid Waivers

Visit Website: <http://cfhs.ky.gov/dms/kyhealthchoices.htm>

Medicaid can pay for services to help an eligible individual with significant needs continue to live at home through Waiver programs. While some eligibility requirements are “waived” for these programs, the individual must require a protective level of care related to daily living skills or skilled medical care. The financial criterion is based only on the income of the individual. Since waiver programs pay for services for a limited number of people, openings can fill up quickly and there may be a waiting list.

(See State Resource section for Waivers and descriptions, i.e. Michelle P, Supports for Community Living (SCL), Acquired Brain Injury, Home and Community Based, Model II)

Consumer Directed Option – Kentucky Independence Plus Program (CDO)

CDO allows waiver eligible members to choose a provider for their non-medical waiver services, allowing them greater freedom of choice, flexibility and control over their supports and services. The Community Mental health Centers and Area Agencies on Aging act as support brokers. Once you choose CDO, you will no longer have a case manager through the traditional agency. The Support Broker will act as your case manager. The Support Broker will assist you with enrolling in CDO, developing your plan of care and support spending plan, locating service providers and negotiating rates, supporting you in hiring, supervising and firing your employees. You can “blend” your CDO plan by continuing with the services that are working for you and Consumer Direct other services. If you feel CDO doesn't work for you, simply return to the way you are currently receiving services. Support Brokers in your area are:

State Programs

Hart Supported Living Program

The Hart Supported Living Program is for Kentuckians with disabilities to request grants for highly flexible individualized services which, when combined with natural unpaid or other eligible supports provide the necessary assistance for the individual to live in the community. Eligibility is quite broad – any Kentuckian with a disability recognized under the American's with Disabilities Act (ADA) is eligible to apply for the grant. The program is administered through the Department for Aging and Independent Living but it is a program for people with all disabilities. Contact your Regional Supported Living Coordinator for an application and for assistance in completing the application. Applications must be received by April 1st.

Personal Care Attendant Program

Website: <http://www.chfs.ky.gov/dail/pcap.htm>

The Personal Care Attendant Program helps adults with severe physical disabilities at risk of being institutionalized to live in their own homes and communities by subsidizing costs of personal attendant services. The personal care attendant, hired by the adult with physical disabilities, helps with personal care, housekeeping, shopping, travel, self-care procedures, meal preparation and other day-to-day activities. Eligibility Requirements: Participants must be 18 or older, have severe, physical disabilities with permanent or temporary recurring functional loss of two or more limbs, need at least 14 hours but no more than 40 hours of attendant care per week, be mentally capable of instructing and supervising attendants and be capable of preparing payroll and required employer tax statements. Transportation

<http://chfs.ky.gov/dms/trans.htm>

Medicaid covers only medically necessary transportation to and from a Medicaid-covered service.

For more information regarding Emergency/Non-Emergency Medical Ambulance Transportation Services – Phone (502) 564-2687

Emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) is covered when the eligible member is transported in an emergency condition, usually to hospital, resulting from an accident, serious injury, or acute illness that makes it impossible to use other types of transportation.

Non-emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) are covered if the eligible member is confined to a bed before and after the ambulance trip or the member must be moved only by stretcher in order to receive medically necessary Medicaid covered medical services.

For More information regarding Non-Emergency Medical Transportation Services – Phone (502) 564-6204

Non-emergency Medical Transportation is for Medicaid members who do not have access to free transportation that suits their medical need and need to be transported to a Medicaid covered services. For transportation outside of a member's medical service area or for specialty care, a referral from a member's primary care physician is required. Travel to pharmacies is not covered.

For more information regarding the Human Service Transportation Delivery, phone the Office of Transportation Delivery for program policies and complaints at (888) 941-7433.

Non-emergency Medical Transportation services are available through the Human Service Transportation Delivery (HSTD) program, which is a regional brokerage system. Depending on a member's medical needs, transportation is provided by taxi, van, bus or public transit. Wheelchair service is also provided if required by medical necessity.

6. Support Services

Physical Health

Early Periodic Screening, Diagnosis, and Treatment Program (EPSDT)

(For eligibility information contact the local Department for Community Based Services Permanency and Protection Unit or Department for Medicaid Services, Frankfort, Kentucky (502) 564-6890. See Local DCBS Offices Below. EPSDT is designed to improve primary health benefits for children with emphasis on preventive care that has been part of the Federal Medicaid Program since its beginning in the late sixties. After a Medicaid review in 1989, Congress moved to increase the services of EPSDT through the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act. States must now cover regular and periodic exams for all eligible children under the age of 21 which have been excluded under the regular Medicaid programs in the past. The materials that must accompany an EPSDT application are: a physician's order (on a prescription pad) – a letter of Medical necessity from a physician, physical therapist or other qualified personnel.

Mental Health

Kentucky Impact Program

Kentucky IMPACT represents one program that utilizes “wraparound” services for children, youth and families. Created in 1990, IMPACT is available statewide and provides for the identification and coordination of needed services and supports for children and youth who are involved with multiple child serving entities and who have a severe emotional disability.

Kentucky Impact Plus Program

Kentucky IMPACT Plus is a collaborative effort between the Departments for Medicaid Services, Community Based Services and Behavioral Health, Developmental and Intellectual Disabilities to help provide community-based services for Kentucky's Medicaid/KCHIP eligible children with complex treatment needs. The goal of IMPACT Plus is to help parents and caregivers understand their children's needs and the processes involved in care and service delivery. Ultimately, the program eases access to services indicated by a child's needs.

(For more information – see State Resources listed in this Guide). You can contact the local Impact Plus Resource Coordinator at the addresses below.

Services: Low and moderate income housing and rental assistance.

Several different rental assistance programs are available through KHC. These programs offer very low-income residents an opportunity to find housing at an affordable price. KHC administers many federal rental housing programs. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development pays a portion of the resident's rent (subsidy) and the resident pays the rest (usually 30 to 40 percent of their income). Such programs include the Housing Choice Voucher Program, Rental Administration and New Havens. Kentucky Housing Corporation's New Construction Program for the Disabled – makes home loans at 1% to 6% interest to individuals with disabilities, based on family income. You must apply through a local participating lender. Applications are submitted by lenders to KHC on an ongoing basis until funds run out.

Social Security Administration/Office of Disability

Eligibility: An adult, 18 or over, may be eligible if a mental or physical disability prevents the person from working for at least 12 months or is expected to result in death. A child under the age of 18 may be eligible. Social Security assesses the disability and the effect on everyday life in determining eligibility. In the case of a child, the family's income and assets are considered. When the person is 18 or over, the family's income and assets are no longer considered for eligibility – only those of the individual. A person can have some assets and income and still qualify for SSI benefits. If you want to work, there are special rules to help. Contact your social security office if you have any questions about SSI. A person who has a disability must accept vocational rehabilitation services if offered. After SSI payments begin, changes in income, assets, and living arrangements must be reported.

Kentucky Transitional Assistance Program (K-TAP)

Cabinet for Health and Family Services
275 East Main Street
Frankfort, KY 40601
Phone: (502) 564-7050

K-TAP is a monetary assistance program established by Kentucky using Federal funds from the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant. K-TAP provides financial and medical assistance to needed dependent children in Kentucky and the parents, or relatives with whom the children are living. K-TAP also helps families find jobs or get training that leads to a job. A family can only get K-TAP for 60 months in their lifetime. Each month a family gets K-TAP counts toward the 60 month limit. A family does not have to get K-TAP for 60 months straight. K-TAP payments to families are based on family size and income. In addition to the monetary grant, K-TAP recipients may also be eligible for support services such as childcare and transportation assistance through the Kentucky Works Program. Relocation assistance is also available to qualified K-TAP recipients, as are the educational bonus, work incentive bonus, and Employment Retention Assistance. In order to qualify for this benefit program, you must be a resident of Kentucky, a U.S. citizen or qualified alien, unemployed or under employed (working for very low wages), a parent/relative caregiver who is responsible for children up to the age 18 (or 19 years old if meeting the school attendance requirement) and have low or very low income. To apply contact your local DCBS office listed above.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

1. YOUTH DEVELOPMENT & LEADERSHIP/SELF DETERMINATION

Kentucky Family Resource and Youth Services Centers (FRYSCs)

FRYSCs' mission is to enhance students' abilities to succeed in school by developing and sustaining partnerships that promote: early learning and successful transition into school; academic achievement and well being; and graduation and transition into adult life. The primary goal of these centers is to remove nonacademic barriers to learning as a means to enhance student academic success. Each center offers a unique blend of programs and services determined by the needs of the population being served, available resources, location and other local characteristics. FRYSCs have established a record of success based on improved student performance in class work, homework and peer relations as reported by teachers. Parents, too, report they experience greater satisfaction and involvement with the schools as a result of assistance through their local FRYSCs.

Throughout Kentucky there are Education Cooperatives to assist with transition planning. Originally, Education Cooperatives were formed by district superintendents to cooperate in their efforts to provide special education services in their districts. Today, they have increased their cooperative efforts to provide assistance and expertise for the benefit of their member school districts. Regional Interagency Transition Teams (RITT) promote best practices and resources to help individuals with disabilities achieve their post school goals for education/training and employment.

The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation assists Kentuckians with disabilities to achieve suitable employment and independence. Eligibility Requirements: Individual must have a physical or mental impairment that results in a substantial impediment to employment. If you receive Social Security Disability benefits, you are considered to be an individual with a significant disability and are presumed eligible for services. It is not necessary to receive SSI to qualify for this program. Individuals must be of employable age by completion of rehabilitation. Vocational Rehabilitation provides services to individuals with physical or mental disabilities to enable them to enter or return to employment. Some examples are: assessment for determining eligibility and vocational rehabilitation needs; counseling and guidance vocational and other training services; supported employment; personal assistance services; interpreter and note taking services; telecommunications, sensory, and other technological aids and devices; rehabilitation technology; job placement and job retention services and employment follow-up and post-employment services. The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation works closely with the Kentucky Department of Education to assist eligible students with disabilities to identify, plan for and achieve their vocational goals. Rehabilitation counselors located in regional offices help high school transition students with disabilities with vocational rehabilitation and job placements.

Assists individuals who are blind and visually impaired in achieving their educational, vocational and independent living goals. A vocational or independent living counselor will determine an individual's eligibility to receive services at the center. The Kentucky Office for the Blind Transition Services support high school students and their families in planning for activities beyond high school such as post secondary training, employment, and independent living. A counselor is available to participate as a vocational consultant with the school in transition planning. They usually meet with the student and their family during their ARC or IEP meeting scheduled annually by the high school Special Education Coordinator. The counselor will have to be invited by the school and the student's family to the meeting. Generally counselors first meet the student during their sophomore or junior year.

Eligibility: Individuals, age sixteen and older, who want to work and have a visual disability that impedes their ability to get and keep a job. A doctor's statement is needed.

Services: medical restoration, i.e. surgery; post secondary training – tuition, tutors, note takers, etc. Services which may be needed outside class but related to the education process such as tuition, tutors, note takers, etc.; Assistive technology – i.e., voice for computer, large print reading materials; Orientation and mobility, i.e. cane skills are taught, travel training; Bioptic driving – for people whose vision can be corrected to 20 over 60. Bioptic is mounted in the lens of eyeglasses; job placement, i.e. work with employers, provide supported employment.

5. ADULT SERVICES

Medicaid Waivers

Visit Website: <http://cfhs.ky.gov/dms/kyhealthchoices.htm>

Medicaid can pay for services to help an eligible individual with significant needs continue to live at home through Waiver programs. While some eligibility requirements are “waived” for these programs, the individual must require a protective level of care related to daily living skills or skilled medical care. The financial criterion is based only on the income of the individual. Since waiver programs pay for services for a limited number of people, openings can fill up quickly and there may be a waiting list.

(See State Resource section for waivers and descriptions, i.e. Michelle P, Supports for Community Living, Acquired Brain Injury, Home and Community Based, Model 2.)

State Programs

Hart Supported Living Program

Hart Supported Living program is for Kentuckians with disabilities to request grants for highly flexible individualized services which, when combined with natural unpaid or other eligible supports” provide the necessary assistance for the individual to live in the community. Eligibility is quite broad – any Kentuckian with a disability recognized under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is eligible to apply for the grant. The program is administered through the Department for Aging and Independent Living but it is a program for people with all disabilities. Contact your Regional Supported Living Coordinator for an application and for assistance in completing the application. Applications must be received by April 1st in the office of Regional Supported Living Coordinator for funding for the upcoming fiscal year, beginning July 1st.

Transportation

MEDICAID

<http://chfs.ky.gov/dms/trans.htm>

Medicaid covers only medically necessary transportation to and from a Medicaid-covered service.

For more information regarding Emergency/Non-Emergency Medical Ambulance Transportation Services -

Phone: (502) 564-2687

Emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) is covered when the eligible member is transported in an emergency condition, usually to hospital, resulting from an accident, serious injury, or acute illness that makes it impossible to use other types of transportation.

Non-emergency Ambulance Services (Stretcher) are covered if the eligible member is confined to a bed before and after the ambulance trip or the member must be moved only by stretcher in order to receive medically necessary Medicaid covered medical services.

For more information regarding Non-Emergency Medical Transportation Services,

Phone: (502) 564-6204

Non-emergency Medical Transportation is for Medicaid members who do not have access to free transportation that suits their medical needs and need to be transported to a Medicaid covered service. For transportation outside of a member's medical service area or for specialty care, a referral from a member's primary care physician is required. Travel to pharmacies is not covered.

For more information regarding the Human Service Transportation Delivery, phone the Office of Transportation Delivery for program policies and complaints at (888) 941-7433.

Non-emergency Medical Transportation services are available through the Human Service Transportation Delivery (HSTD) program, which is a regional brokerage system. Depending on a member's medical needs, transportation is provided by taxi, van, bus or public transit. Wheelchair service is also provided if required by medical necessity.

6. SUPPORT SERVICES

Physical Health

Early Periodic, Screening, Diagnostic, and Treatment Program (EPSDT)

For eligibility information contact the local Department for Community Based Services Permanency and Protection Unit or Department for Medicaid Services, Frankfort, KY (502) 564-6890.

EPSDT is designed to improve primary health benefits for children with emphasis on preventive care that has been a part of the Federal Medicaid Program since its beginning in the late sixties. After a Medicaid review in 1989, Congress moved to increase the services of EPSDT through the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act. States must now cover regular and periodic exams for all eligible children under the age of 21 which have been excluded under the regular Medicaid programs in the past. The materials that must accompany an EPSDT application are: a physician's order (on a prescription pad) – a letter of Medical necessity from a physician, physical therapists or other qualified personnel. (See local DCBS offices below).

Kentucky Children's Health Insurance Program (K-CHIP)

K-CHIP's mission is to provide health insurance coverage to low income, uninsured children in Kentucky. To qualify must be less than 19 years of age, must not be eligible for Medicaid, must not have had health insurance for at least six months, must not have voluntarily dropped child's insurance within the past 6 months, and family income must be at or below 200% of Federal Poverty Level Line. Contact your local Department for Community Based Service office for more information.

Free medical services are provided to eligible patients at the Angels Community Clinic on Tuesday evenings. New patients are advised to arrive at 4 P.M. with income information and photo I.D. Patients are seen on a first come first serve basis. After completing the screening process, patients see a nurse for a general assessment, and the doctor or nurse practitioners begin seeing patients at 6 P.M. Medical services at the Clinic include physical assessment and examination, diagnosis, and treatment of acute and chronic illnesses. Prescribed medications are provided to patients on Tuesday nights through the pharmacy. These medications are dispensed to patients at no charge; however, patients will need to continue to provide income verification so that office staff can order more medications to stock the pharmacy. Bills acquired before becoming a patient, or received from referrals outside the Clinic will be the responsibility of the patient. However, a patient that is referred by the Clinic for a service can apply for a grant through the Clinic if the expense becomes overwhelming. The patient should see office staff to pick up a copy of the grant application for this service. Routine lab services (for cholesterol checks, etc.) are done on Thursday morning beginning at 9 A.M. for established patients. Blood pressure and pulse checks can be done anytime during office hours, Monday through Thursday from 8:30 A.M. to 4:00 P.M.

Mental HealthKentucky Impact Program

Kentucky IMPACT represents one program that utilizes “wraparound” for children, youth and families. Created in 1990, IMPACT is available statewide and provides for the identification and coordination of needed services and supports for children and youth who are involved with multiple child serving entities and who have a severe disability.

Kentucky Impact Plus Program

Kentucky IMPACT Plus is a collaborative effort between the Departments for Medicaid Services, Community Based Services and Behavioral Health, Developmental and Intellectual Disabilities to help provide community-based services for Kentucky’s Medicaid/KCHIP eligible children with complex treatment needs. The goal of IMPACT Plus is to help parents and caregivers understand their children’s needs and the processes involved in care and service delivery. Ultimately, the program eases access to services indicated by a child’s needs.

Several different rental assistance programs are available through KHC. These programs offer very low-income residents an opportunity to find housing at an affordable price. KHC administers many federal rental assistance. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development pays a portion of the resident's rent (subsidy) and the resident pays the rest (usually 30 to 40 percent of their income). Such programs include the Housing Choice Voucher Program, Rental Administration and New Havens. Kentucky's Housing Corporation's New Construction Program for the Disabled – makes home loans at 1% to 6% interested to individuals with disabilities, based on family income. You must apply through a local participating lender. Applications are submitted by lenders to KHC on an ongoing basis until funds run out.

Local Service AgenciesSocial Security Administration*Social Security Administration/Office of Disability

Eligibility: An adult, age 18 and over, may be eligible if a mental or physical disability prevents the person from working for at least 12 months or is expected to result in death. A child under the age of 18 may be eligible. Social Security assesses the disability and the effect on everyday life in determining eligible. In the case of a child, the family's income and assets are considered. When the person is 18 or over, the family's income and assets are no longer considered for eligibility—only those of the individual. A person can have some assets and income and still qualify for SSI benefits. If you want to work, there are special rules to help. Contact your social security office if you have any questions about SSI. A person who has a disability must accept vocational rehabilitation services if offered. After SSI payments begin, changes in income, assets and living arrangements must be reported. (See Employment Section of Directory for more comprehensive information about SSDI and SSI). Kentucky Transitional Assistance Program (K-TAP)

Cabinet for Health and Family Services
275 East Main Street
Frankfort, KY 40621
Phone: (502) 564-7050

K-TAP is a monetary assistance program established by Kentucky using Federal funds from the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) block grant. K-TAP provides financial and medical assistance to needy dependent children in Kentucky and the parents, or relatives with whom the children are living. K-TAP also helps families find jobs or get training that leads to a job. A family can only get K-TAP for 60 months in lifetime. Each month a family gets K-TAP counts toward the 60 months limit. A family does not have to get K-TAP for 60 months straight. K-TAP payments to families are based on family size and income. In addition to the monetary grant, K-TAP recipients may also be eligible for support services such as childcare and transportation assistance through the Kentucky Works program. Relocation assistance is also available to qualified K-TAP recipients, as are the educational bonus, work incentive bonus, and Employment Retention Assistance. In order to qualify for this benefit program, you must be a resident of Kentucky, a U.S. citizen or qualified alien, unemployed or under employed (working for very low wages), a parent/relative caregiver is who is responsible for children up to the age of 18 (or 19 yrs old if meeting the school attendance requirement) and have low or very low income. To apply contact your Local DCBS office listed above.

KY-TASH supports the inclusion and full participation of children and adults with disabilities in all aspects of their communities as determined by personalized visions of quality of life. The focus of KY-TASH are those people with disabilities who: are most at risk for being excluded from the mainstream of society; are perceived by traditional service systems as being most challenging; are most likely to have their rights abridged; are most likely to be at risk for living, working, playing and/or learning in segregated environments; are least likely to have the tools and opportunities necessary to advocate on their own behalf; historically have been labeled as having severe disabilities; and are most likely to need ongoing individualized supports in order to participate in inclusive communities and enjoy a quality of life similar to that available to all citizens

KY-TASH's vision is that people with significant disabilities in Kentucky will: lead fulfilled lives with high expectations of self and from others; have good jobs that are challenging and fit their talents and interests; be welcomed by communities of faith; have adequate health care and support; have family and friends; have sufficient flexible funding; be respected and supported for the unique individual each person is; live in their own homes with supports they choose. KY-TASH is working to accomplish this by: creating opportunities for collaboration among families, self-advocates, professionals, policymakers and other advocates; advocating for equity, opportunities, social justice, and rights; disseminating knowledge and information; supporting excellence in research that translates to excellence in practice; promoting individualized, quality supports; working toward the elimination of institutions, other congregate living settings, segregated schools/classrooms, sheltered work environments, and other segregated services and toward replacing these with quality, individualized, inclusive supports; supporting legislation, litigation and public policy consistent with the KY-TASH mission; promoting communities in which no one is segregated and everyone belongs.

WAIVER PROGRAMS

Website: <http://chfs.ky.gov/dms/>

A waiver is one way that Medicaid enables an individual with intellectual and/or developmental disabilities, or significant health care needs to live at home. While some eligibility requirements are "waived" for these programs, the individual must require a protective level of care related to daily living skills or skilled medical care. The financial criterion is based only on the income of the individual. Since waiver programs pay for services for a limited number of people, openings can fill up quickly and there may be a waiting list. Notice that only the Acquired Brain Injury Long Term Care Waiver and Supports for Community Living fund residential services.

CONSUMER DIRECTED OPTION – KENTUCKY INDEPENDENCE PLUS PROGRAM (CDO)

KY Health Choices

Department for Aging and Independent Living

275 East Main St.

Frankfort, KY 40621

Phone: (877) 293-7447

Website: www.chfs.ky.gov/dail/

CDO allows waiver eligible members to choose a provider for their non-medical waiver services, allowing them greater freedom of choice, flexibility, and control over their supports and services. Keep things the way they are now - continue to receive services through the traditional/non-CDO home health program OR consumer direct all the non-medical waiver services OR use blended services -continue to receive some services through the traditional program and consumer direct others.

Individuals currently receiving or individuals who might become eligible to receive waiver services from Medicaid's Acquired Brain Injury (ABI) Waiver, Acquired Brain Injury Long Term Care (ABILTC) Waiver, Home and Community Based (HCB) Wavier, Michelle P. Waiver Services, Supports for Community Living (SCL) Waiver are eligible to participate in CDO for their non medical services. The local Area Agencies on Aging (AAA's) and Community Mental Health Centers \(CMHC's\) act as Support Brokers for the CDO program. Once you choose CDO, you will no longer have a case manager through the traditional agency. The Support Broker will act as your case manager. The Support Broker will assist you with: enrolling in CDO, developing your plan of care and support spending plan, locating service providers and negotiating rates, supporting you in hiring, supervising and firing your employees. You can “blend” your CDO plan by continuing with the services that are working for you and Consumer Direct other services. If you feel CDO doesn't work for you, simply return to the way you are currently receiving services.

A Support Broker will help you develop a plan of care and spending plan. You will receive assistance with setting the duties of the worker(s), recruiting them, setting the hours and payment. The Area Development Districts (ADD's) and Community Mental Health Centers (CMHC's) will be the Financial Management Agency for CDO in Kentucky.

MODEL WAIVER II

Check the Website: <http://chfs.ky.gov/dms/mwii.htm>

Model

Waiver II services are community based in-home waiver services for ventilator dependent individuals. These services are provided to an individual who is dependent on a ventilator at least 12 hours per day and would otherwise require nursing facility level of care in a hospital based nursing facility.

An individual who is enrolled in the Model Waiver II program may receive: up to 16 hours per day of registered nurse or license practical nurse care or services of a respiratory therapist, registered or certified by the National Board of Respiratory Care.

An individual shall be considered ventilator (or respiration stimulating mechanism) dependent if the individual requires mechanical support for 12 or more hours per day as defined by 907 KAR 1:022 Section 7(2) (a) (<http://www.lrc.state.ky.us/kar/907/001/022.htm>) and meet the income and resource limitations required by the program.

MEDICARE PRESCRIPTION PLAN/PART D

Medicare's new prescription drug coverage, sometimes called Medicare Part D, began January 1, 2006. A choice of prescription drug insurance plans is available through private insurance companies. Participation is income driven; therefore you will pay a monthly insurance premium plus a portion of the prescription cost through a co-payment. Medicare prescription insurance plans are open to everyone who is eligible for Medicare. This includes individuals who are 65 years of age or older or younger people who receive Social Security Disability Income (SSDI) or who have kidney failure. Medicare provides an overview of the prescription drug plan.

- Medicare and You is a booklet that has information on the changes in prescription drug coverage.
- Medicare Prescription Drug Plan Finder will help you identify plans through a personalized search or through a search by state.

Website: <http://mhmr.ky.gov/mhsas/OFL.asp>

Opportunities for Family Leadership (OFL) was created in 1992 as a family-led and family-driven program. The family perspective is the driving force behind all consultation activities. We value the participation of families throughout the system of care. The goal is to ensure that the family voice is included in every stage of planning, implementation and evaluation of services for the special populations served. Whether dealing with brain injuries, behavioral health issues, emotional disabilities, developmental or intellectual disabilities, OFL strives to ensure that every family member has the opportunity to offer his or her leadership throughout the commonwealth. Additionally, OFL will develop mechanisms to support changes in the services offered to families

OFL offers small grants to help support family/caregiver support groups. The grants can be utilized for the development of a support group or resource library or for ongoing support of the group. The grants may also be used to provide training for parents and professionals within the community. Funds from the grants can be used to offer training to parents on stress reduction or can assist a local community in bringing in a specialist in a particular disability. The support group decides on the topic and needs. The grants will only be awarded to family/caregiver support groups. Request for grant proposals are disseminated.

The purpose of the Last Passages project is to share information and promising practices to enhance end-of-life care for persons with developmental disabilities. Last Passages is a joint project of the Volunteers of America, the University at Albany, NYSARC, Inc. and Marist College.

Volunteers of America, Inc. initiated Last Passages in response to the increased longevity of people with an intellectual disability, and to the growing number living with their families, by themselves, or in individual or group housing in the community, receiving community-based healthcare and facing the challenge of obtaining quality end-of-life care within their communities. While hospice and palliative care have significantly transformed end-of-life care for the general population, people with an intellectual disability and their families have not benefited to the same extent. In addition, formal and informal caregivers for people with an intellectual disability typically lack training and access to resources for enabling dignity and quality during care at the end of life.

End-of-life care refers to the plans, preferences, and expectations that an individual envisions for his or herself with the realization that life does not go on forever. It is not necessarily initiated by any medical or health event, condition, or consequence but simply by the common understanding that life ends and we should be able, to the best of our ability, with support, to have a say in its actualization.

New York, NY 10016

Phone: (212) 463-7042

Email: general.questions@modestneeds.org

Website: www.ModestNeeds.org

Modest Needs exists to prevent otherwise financially self-sufficient individuals and families from entering the cycle of poverty, when this might be avoided with a small amount of well-timed financial assistance. Modest Needs helps to restore the financial self-sufficiency of individuals who are willing to work but are temporarily unable to do so because they do not have the means to remit payment for a work-related expense. Modest Needs works to empower permanently disadvantaged individuals who otherwise live within their limited means to continue to live independently, despite a temporary, unexpected financial setback.

In keeping with its mission, Modest Needs offers three types of grants: Self-Sufficiency Grants, Back-to-Work Grants and Independent Living Grants. Modest Needs makes Self-Sufficiency Grants by remitting payment to a creditor for an emergency expense for which the individual or family could not have prepared. Modest Needs makes Back-to-Work Grants by remitting payment for a small work-related fee or expense on behalf of a temporarily unemployed individual. Independent Living Grants are made by remitting payment to a creditor, for an expense on behalf of persons who are permanently unable to work but who nevertheless are living independently on the limited income to which they are Modest Needs exist to prevent otherwise financially self-sufficient individuals and families from entering the cycle of poverty, when this might be avoided with a small amount of well-timed financial assistance.

The Sibling Support Project is a national effort dedicated to the life-long concerns of brothers and sisters of people who have special health, developmental, or mental health concerns.

Believing that disabilities, illness, and mental health issues affect the lives of all family members the Sibling Support Project wants to increase the peer support and information opportunities for brothers and sisters of people with special needs and to increase parents' and providers' understanding of sibling issues. The mission is accomplished by training local service providers on how to create community-based peer support programs for young siblings; hosting workshops, list servers, and websites for young and adult siblings; and increasing parents' and providers' awareness of siblings' unique, lifelong, and ever-changing concerns through workshops, websites, and written materials.

SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION (SSA)

Publications Website: <http://www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs/10095.html>

The Social Security Administration is responsible for two major programs that provide benefits based on disability: Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI), which is based on prior work under Social Security, and Supplemental Security Income (SSI). Under SSI, payments are made on the basis of financial need.

Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) is financed with Social Security taxes paid by workers, employers, and the self-employed. To be eligible for a Social Security benefit, the worker must earn sufficient credits based on taxable work to be "insured" for Social Security purposes. Disability benefits are payable to blind or disabled workers, widow(er)s, or adults disabled since childhood, who are otherwise eligible. The monthly benefit is based on the Social Security earnings record of the insured worker.

Supplemental Security Income (SSI) is a program financed through general revenues. SSI disability benefits are payable to adults or children who are disabled or blind, have limited income and resources, meet the living arrangement requirements, and are otherwise eligible. The monthly payment varies up to the maximum federal benefit rate, which may be supplemented by the State or decreased by countable income and resources.

Complete information is available on the web site or at a Social Security Administration office. Check out the publications Website: <http://www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs/10095.html>

Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990: the act of Congress that protects the rights of persons with disabilities.

Advocacy: Speaking or acting on behalf of someone to protect his rights and needs.

Case Manager: The person who has the responsibility of seeing that a person with a disability receives any services or help necessary for his well-being. The case manager finds answers to your questions, helps you make any needed referrals to other organizations, and coordinates the services of all the organizations that may be involved.

Community Based Instruction: School personnel teach educational objectives in natural community environments, such as work sites, shopping malls, and restaurants.

Community Habilitation: Training provided for individuals such as managing money, using facilities in the community, and learning social skills.

Daily Living Skills: Skills important for everyday living such as how to shop for groceries, how to talk to one's boss, or how to balance a checkbook with a calculator.

Employment Training Specialist: See Job Coach.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act: The act that grants rights to parents and children regarding student records.

Guardianship: The formal legal appointment of a person or a corporation as the decision-maker for an adult who needs assistance.

Occupational Therapy: Assists an individual with services such as daily living skills (eating, working, and playing) to improve the quality of life.

Residential Options: Alternative living arrangements for people with disabilities other than living with their families or in a home on their own. Residential options could include group homes, supported apartment living, or adult family homes.

Respite Care: Individuals who have received special training provide temporary care for persons with disabilities in their home or in the home of the person with disabilities.

Self-Advocacy: Speaking or acting for oneself in a way to provide protection for one's own rights and needs.

Social Security Disability Insurance: A federal payment through Social Security for workers with disabilities.

Special Education: Educational services for students who have been identified as having a special need for additional supports in order to learn and succeed.

Speech Therapy: Assisting individuals to improve communication skills.

Spend Down: If income exceeds the eligibility for Medicaid, a person with a disability may receive benefits after spending a predetermined amount on medical bills. For example: if an individual earns $600 per month ($3600 for 6 months) and is determined to need only $500 per month to meet living needs, he will need to spend $600 over the next 6 months on medical bills, and Medicaid will cover the rest.

SSI: See Supplemental Security Income.

SSDI: See Social Security Disability Insurance.

Supplemental Security Income: A federal program run by Social Security which provides monthly checks to persons who are elderly, blind, or have disabilities.

Supported Employment: Paid employment in integrated settings for people with disabilities who need on-going support such as a job coach to maintain their employment.

Supported Living: Individuals with disabilities share or have their own apartment. A service organization provides support as needed for transportation, skills training, budgeting, shopping, and recreation.
