

2021 TDA “Caring Person of the Year” Award

This year, the Teachers Driving Academy, is proud to name Marty Bray of Norton, MA as its “Caring Person of the Year” recipient.

Every year, the TDA chooses an individual that has shown his/her caring qualities in the facets of their daily lives. We like to highlight an individual each year that cares about others and displays it in their daily actions.

Marty Bray shows unwilling commitment to the youth of his town by doing the unseen things that no one wants to do in order for things to run smoothly. Whether it’s painting the field lines, attaching pads to the goal posts, or arranging for lighting at the fields; these thankless tasks need to be done and Marty does them without question, hesitation, or recognition.

Marty Bray joins the ranks of many others past recipients that care about their community and strive to enrich the lives of those that they have contact with on a daily basis.

Not all award recipients are created equal. When considering each year’s award, we try to do something good that might enrich the life of this year’s recipient in a positive way. It could be a myriad of things as each case is different, however, the TDA tries to do something positive to recognize the recipient’s efforts. It’s our way of saying “Thanks for caring about people”.

Please accept this undisclosed gift as a token of thanks as we know you will find time enjoying it with your family when you are not out caring for others. Stay safe, keep doing what you do, and Godspeed.
