FEATHERS IN THE WIND

What happened to the storms that we were supposed to have had this weekend? I know that there was some rain, but the weather warnings never amounted to much. Of course, I have these gauze-like curtains that do not allow me to see clearly what is going on outside.

The curtains are my pride and joy. Okay, my "pride." It began with my sister, or was it my Tante Betty, instilled in me this love of Andrew Wyeth's paintings. Tante Betty had a print of the painting "Christina's World" by Wyeth. It is a picture of a woman sitting in some grass staring off into the distance at an old house. Later, I would learn that the woman who modeled for the painting was disabled. She lived with her brother not far from Wyeth, who painted in their house. The pink dress that she is wearing in the picture is one that actually belonged to Wyeth's wife, and adds color to the rather brown toned picture.

AMANA NEWS AND NOTES

Amana Playground Town Hall Meeting

Volunteers working to create a playground in Amana are hosting a public meeting

Tuesday, May 7 at the Amana Heritage Museum in Amana at 6 p.m.

The committee will share current plans for the newly named, Amana Kinderpark, and the new location, plus they will seek suggestions and input from community residents.

Amana Playground Committee members are: Shana Schaefer, Shelby Foster, Marie Hoppe and Kaylieh Myers. Would you like to help with fundraising, playground planning and/ or set up? Come to the May 7 meeting or contact one of the committee members to volunteer.

An entirely new design has been created based upon fund raising goals and community feedback. The new design will be shown at the May 7 meeting. It will be located northeast of the Carding Studio (Amana Woolen Mill complex) not far from hole number 1 of the disc golf course. The location has plenty of space, allows for easy access and has ample parking for cars and bikes.

Marie Hoppe explained that the committee's goal has been to work toward a design that is affordable, easy to maintain and provides plenty of play opportunity for children. Once a playground design is approved by the committee it will be brought to the Amana Colonies Land Use District for approval.

The playground initiative began at the Amana Colonies Convention and Visitors Bureau over a year ago and fundraising began then.

Dear Amana Society Shareholders,

As the new candidate on the ballot, I wanted to introduce myself and answer some questions that have been sent my way. Born and raised in the Amanas, I have been a shareholder most of my life with keen interest in the success of the Amana Society and its commitment to the people's and community's legacy. Through my parents' lifelong service to the community, I have learned the value of sharing one's experience and strengths to grow and enhance the value that has been built within the Amanas.

While I have lived across the state line in Madison, WI, I return regularly to remain connected to my family and hometown. With a B.S. in Marine Biology and a Ph.D. in Environmental Toxicology, I have worked for 2 different startup technology companies that emerged from the University of Wisconsin and were later acquired by global technology leaders (Roche and Fujifilm). Through this experience, I have learned to deliver to the expectations of our stakeholders and shareholders. I have driven new developments, enhanced efficiencies, and driven profitability initiatives while keeping careful management of positive cultures and employee engagement. I have managed business P&Ls and driven change and restructured when necessary to drive profit and growth.

Growing up in the Amanas, I witnessed the entrepreneurial spirit of my parents and grandparents. I grew up in the shops and services of the Amanas, including a family farm here in Iowa County. I have felt the need to stay connected to this entrepreneurial drive and volunteered for the past 6 years with a local mentoring group in Madison that fosters entrepreneurs across the business spectrum. I help them develop successful businesses and have applied this to many business ventures ranging from scientific technology companies to service industries including 2 breweries, a dog day-care, and several hospital-ity establishments.

I have received questions about how I would attend the board meetings, and I plan to attend in person the majority of the time, joining virtually only when absolutely unavoidable, as do the other Directors. I understand the Board takes in many factors when making business decisions including value, community, and preservation. I will take into account all data presented to me, which starts with hearing what is important to the shareholders. I would be honored to serve on the Amana Society Board and would appreciate your support.

Randy J. Moessner unexpectedly left this world on April 24, 2024 at his home in Millersburg. Per his children's wishes, Randy was cremated. At this date, no service is scheduled to take place.

Randy was born June 27, 1966. He was the youngest of four siblings born to Ralph and Loretta Moessner.

Randy was raised in Middle Amana and attended Amana Community Schools, graduating in 1985. During high school he enjoyed hanging out with friends, driving fast cars, playing his music loud and creating a bit of chaos. During his teen years Randy began struggling with addiction and mental health issues and the long term consequences that come with them. He continued to battle this throughout the entirety of his life.

After high school Randy married Kelly Copp and they created three beautiful children. They resided in Marengo and later divorced.

Later, Randy married Heidi Buswell and Heidi became Step-Mom to his children. The couple resided in West Amana and also later divorced.

Randy first began working at Ralph's Sanitation, the successful business created and grown by his father. When the business closed Randy worked for Manpower, Thermogas in Marengo, Amana Society Plumbing and Heating and various other businesses. He was skilled at driving truck, enjoyed working with hands and could fix almost anything.

He was preceded in death by his father, Ralph Moessner; and mother, Loretta Simpson.

He is survived by his daughter, Rebecca (Brent) Mullin of Cedar Rapids; his son, Skyler Moessner of Marengo; and daughter Star (Berstler) of Marengo; Grandchildren Kimmie, Lex and Jasper Mullin and Skylajane Moessner, and his siblings.

As time went by, my sister and husband bought a Wyeth print as a wedding gift for Charlemagne and myself. Later, I bought my own print of "Christina's World." I also became fascinated by another Wyeth painting showing curtains blowing gently in the breeze, and it became my mission to get curtains like those pictured.

After many years, I finally located similar curtains and they, along with a print of the painting that inspired me, hang in our living room today. These simple scenes of Wyeth's work continue to inspire me, and I am reminded of them every time I look out my window.

Our sincere thanks to the Community Chest for the donation and to all that contribute to their annual fundraiser.
