Dear families,

What a great beginning we have had! We are already into the 2nd month of the new school year and the classroom schedules and activities are well under way. We are excited our older 2's through Pre-K will begin attending Chapel this month while all classrooms will continue their lessons on integrity focus along with their curriculum themes. During the month of October the integrity focus will be discussions on self-control and attentiveness.

While Dana and I love to see returning families continue on at our school, we are also happy many new families have joined us! In fact, 14 new families have joined us this year with several more families expected to enroll in November and December. We feel blessed and grateful our enrollment is close to capacity and now at a waiting list for several age groups. Most of our families hear about us through word of mouth and recommendations from past and current families. So thank you for the kind words about our school and staff, we appreciate it!

Since we are officially in the Fall season, please switch out your children's summer clothes to warmer clothes, I know it still feels warm outside, but it will eventually cool down soon and the children will stay outside on the playground longer in the morning times and finally start to go outside in the afternoon.
