Meet Dennis and Pamela Kyle! I asked them for a short bio to post on the website. They responded, “Dennis and Pamela met in Anchorage, Alaska. While there they married (in 1989) and started a family. They have been married for 30 years and in ministry together ever since. They were missionaries in the country of Nicaragua before coming to Arizona. In August 2018 they joined the GAP Ministries in Tucson, AZ working with children ages 2 to 15. God lead them to the Children's Ranch where Dennis and Pamela look forward to another great ministry adventure.”

The Lord has been continually blessing and encouraging us here at The Children's Ranch. Tours are given regularly and every soul who steps onto the acreage immediately has a heightened sense of expectation.

For example we have another set of eager applicants working on the paperwork necessary to be considered for the position of house parents. That could be wrapped up in a matter of weeks.

The recruiting process for mission-minded staff will be a continual prayer need. Just like the US armed forces, the search for dedicated souls for this life-giving work will be ongoing. As you pray, stay alert to those around you who may have a heart for this type of service. If you are interested in being an ambassador for the Lord's work here at The Children's Ranch, please let me know. I will send you some business cards with my contact info so you can easily connect me to folks as the Lord leads you.

O! This excites me!

Call and let me know how many I can send you, okay? 520-586-0267.

This is monsoon season. The much-needed rains are oft accompanied by God's bows bannered across the heavens. Last week I grabbed the camera to take these two photos. A faint rainbow formed its arch over the property beginning at the playground. Then I ran to the other side of the Palomino home (in the right foreground) and lookie there! The rainbow ended at the Ranch bridge!

"Thank You, Lord Jesus, for Your gift of rain —wrapped atop with Your multi-colored bow. I know what the gift is, Father. It is Your promise of protection and provision for Your Children's Ranch. Thank You, Master."

Such displays of His creative beauty inspires and uplifts, amen? This is how the Lord keeps us hopeful and our souls buoyant.

With each dawning day, the sun peeks over the eastern curvature of the earth. Three times a week the sprinklers pop up to greet the morning with their dance of refreshment. This heavenly setting instills a profound sense of peace for both the children and the staff. Visitors never fail to comment on the specialness of the property, the unique beauty of it, and the sense of peace everywhere. This is the Lord's doing and is marvelous in our eyes. After all it is a desert, and our homes are most modest. Truly, the sense of stateliness is due to the Shepherd who walks these grounds. To Him be all glory.

"And hope maketh not ashamed, because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us."

(Romans 5:5)
