MEETING MINUTES

April 2nd, 2008 Meeting.

Our meeting started off with the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag and a funny joke from the White Hills Newsletter. We had 3 visitors show up at the meeting and 32 people total who signed in including visitors. The newsletter is being done by Dana, Melissa, Dennis, and Nicolas. We are now at 255 members total. Our Outing is going to be at the section 28/Dog Gone claim on April 19th, 2008. There is a Gold Show at Primm, the 11th, 12th, and 13th. Make sure to check out the Web-site (www.goldsearchers.info) as you can see to your right we have a NEW "Webmaster". We are also allowing another month to buy tickets for the Gold Nugget make sure to contact us and get those tickets in. Carl Richwine came to the podium to speak about digging holes on the claims and using motor operated machinery. Cannot bring out rototillers to help ease the digging of the dirt but you can bring a Generator, High Banker, and Drywasher because we are casual prospectors. Make sure when leacing the claims to pack out a little extra trash because it is necessary to keep our claims clean because it is not a pretty site to see.

Gold Basin History and Today's GSSN Member.

Researching the Web for information on gold found in Gold Basin one realizes that in modern history. Gold basin is probably better known for Meteorites. There are page after page of listings of articles on Gold Basin and Meteorites. Most of the long time members of GSSN know the history of Gold Basin. This will be just a short article hoping it will help the newer members become familiar with the history of Gold Basin.

Gold can be found in twelve of Arizona's fifteen counties. There were three areas in Arizona where gold was discovered with Gold rushes that were significant. These were the Bradshaw Mountains in central Arizona, Greaterville in southern Arizona and Mohave county.

Our White Hills and Dog Gone claims located on Section 28 are considered to be in the Gold Basin area of Mohave County. Most of the gold in Arizona was produced as a by product from more productive mining activity such as mining for copper. Gold mining in Arizona has produced many lost gold mines stories and few finds leading some to believe it is easier to lose gold in Arizona than to find Gold.

Lode mining or hard rock mining started in the area around the late 1800's. Placer gold was discovered in the area around 1906 or about 60 years after the discovery of Lode gold. The effort was dropped until around 1931. This was probably due to the isolation and lack of water and wood in the area.

In 1933 a professor at the University of Arizona wrote that a person not in good health and sufficient funds to finance his entire trip might starve to death prospecting for placer gold in Arizona. The same holds true today. The modern day weekend prospector, will often as not, spend more money on equipment and camp supplies than he will discover in gold. The true riches come from the experience and beginning to understand the hardships endured by the earlier prospectors.

In the 1930's gold was valued at $35.00 per ounce. The gold-bearing gravels and clay of the Gold Basin area ran 1-3 feet deep and rested on cemented gravels. Gold pieces found ranged in value from 5 cents to $3.50. The average gravel contained values of $1.00 per cubic yard. That is about 0.03 oz/cu yard (approximately 1gm/cu yard). The value in today's market places gold found at $27.00 cu yard.

The equipment used by today's casual miner is similar to the equipment used in the 1930's. The early machines were hand powered drywashers. Today hand powered machines are still sold, but most are either gasoline or battery powered. Transporting your own water supplier is easier today so a few of the modern day weekend miners use high bankers with a recirculation water systems.

Our club members use a high variety of equipment ranging from a simple screen, a gold pan, and a five gallon bucket with a pick and shovel to high end metal detectors. The end result and the ultimate reward is satisfaction that one derives from the challenge of finding gold.

Members Corner.

Now what kind of article could this be you wonder. Could it be one of those sneaky ones that starts out talking about something we all like, such as GOLD and end up slanting some guys' idea about politics, religion, or maybe on of those heady issues that ties the golden rule into the plot.

Could be, but I doubt that. Maybe at a later day if this idea takes us there. We will see, because what it is about is anything you want to talk about in public, in this newsletter by way of phone, E-mail, Snail mail, or just plain ole talking when we see each other out at the claims. Here's the rules. Just get to the point. This is your chance to say whatever you want. However you want to say it, keeping it fairly clean of course, knowing I will do it for you if necessary. Just jot it down and some how get it to me. I know how gold prospecting saves my life every day and will expand on it if you want but right now it's about you, so let me know. This could be a way to stretch those creative talents of yours or just the way you see the world connected to gold and/or prospecting in the world we all share. Try to keep it to one page or less or your next newsletter might be 200 pages in your mailbox. Yeah right! As if we could let that happen. It's your gold club, so let me hear from you.

Morris Seguin sponsored a great outing Saturday, Feb. 16, 08. Over 20 members attended and were treated to homemade potato soup. The weather was great for hard work, learning and enjoying the company of friends.

GSSN would like to thank Gus Lagerstrom and Walt Hand for taking their time to come out and pass on their metal detecting expertise to our club members. Tips for setting the detectors for ground conditions as well as physically adjusting the detectors to fit the individual were passed along. Detecting techniques were geared to the model of detector the individual was using. The advantages and disadvantages of the various machines were discussed.

Prospecting activities included metal detecting, use of dry washing and recirculating high banker equipment. New home made screening equipment was being used by Morris.

The ground was still damp from the recent rains, but careful use of the dry washers yielded some very nice color.

Work started early Saturday morning and after a break for lunch continued into the late afternoon hours.

Prospecting Safety Tips and Hints

Hi there. I'm Wayne Ray and the other day as I was leaving to go prospecting; my wife approached me and asked, "Do you have a Safety List?" I said, "No I didn't but thought it was a good idea." After talking it over, we decided that a person going out into the desert should have a safety list of things to do or things to have with you. We decided to make a list and pass it on to you kind folks. When I went to make this list, I didn't realize how many things needed to be put on it, but thought that I would get other members input as to what. There were quite a few and I'm sure I haven't got them all. So I thought I would turn to our members, to help me out by adding anything you might deem necessary and make it the club Safety List.

Thank you.
