

The Chesterfield Egyptology Society

Are proud to present an illustrated lecture on

Cows, Stones and Stars: Gods from the Natural World

Date: Saturday 15th March at 1.30pm.

The lecture lasts approximately 2hr and will include a break and Question and Answer session

Speaker: Professors Joyce Tyldesley and Steven Snape

Location: Chesterfield Library

Price: £6 to all

Cows, Stones and Stars: Gods from the Natural World

Two separate but linked lectures will explore some of the ways that the ancient Egyptians saw divine powers in the world around them.

This sometimes developed in surprising ways.

Lecture 1: Joyce: Cows and Stars

Lecture 2 : Steven: Stones and Stars

Biographies

Joyce teaches Egyptology online at the University of Manchester. She has written a wide variety of academic and popular Egypt-themed books for adults & children, including books to accompany the television series Private Lives of the Pharaohs, Egypt's Golden Empire and Egypt. In January 2008 her book Cleopatra: Last Queen of Egypt, was the Book of the Week on BBC Radio 4. Her book Tutankhamen's Curse was awarded the 2014 Felicia A. Holton Book Award by the Archaeological Institute of America.

Steven has taught undergraduate and postgraduate students at the University of Liverpool since 1994. He has extensive fieldwork experience in Egypt and has directed several archaeological excavations at sites including the Eastern Delta, Abydos, and the ongoing work at the Ramesside fortress of Zawiyet Umm el-Rakham. His current research focus is on the sacred landscape of ancient Egypt.

Joyce Tyldesley OBE

Professor of Egyptology

Senior Fellow, Higher Education Academy

Honorary Research Associate, the Manchester Museum

<http://www.egyptologyonline.manchester.ac.uk/>

The lecture can also be view via the ZOOM platform in the comfort of your own home.

Tickets for the ZOOM version can be purchased from Eventbrite using the below link.

<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/cows-stones-and-stars-gods-from-the-natural-world-tickets-1246226901209>

