NOVEMBER 2019

Planning for 2020

Sunday, November 17
11:15 p.m.

A Congregational Meeting is scheduled for Sunday, November 17 immediately after the 10:00 a.m. worship service in the sanctuary.

The Finance Committee has reviewed last year's budget and the 2020 budget was presented to Council on October 20. The Council then finalized the proposed 2020 budget.

The 2020 proposed budget will be distributed to the congregation in advance of the meeting to give everyone a chance to review it. Hard copies will be available on Sunday, Nov. 13 & 20 and it will also be sent out via email the week before the meeting.

Council will present the proposed 2020 budget to the congregation for discussion and vote at the meeting on November 17.

Please plan to attend to help us plan for the coming year.

CONGREGATIONAL

Communion Class - Nov. 3

Join Pastor John on Sunday, November 3 at 11:15 a.m. for Communion Class.

This class is for children taking First Communion, as well as ANYONE who would like a review or to learn about the importance of why we take Communion.

Join us in the Fellowship Hall with your family whether you have been taking communion for years or would like to be refreshed in our sacrament.

All Saints Sunday - Nov. 3

Sunday, November 4

All Saints Sunday is November 4.

On Sunday, November 4, we will remember our loved ones and members who have passed away the past year.

We especially remember our St. Stephen members:

Jeff Thomas

Wayne Koch

And all those close to our hearts.

Tail of America's

Opiate Epidemic,

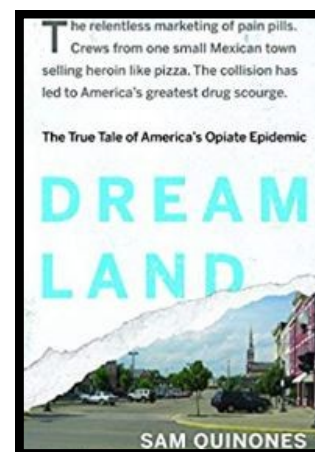

written by Sam Quinones.

Dreamland provides an account of how opioids have threatened our country.

Looking ahead...

In December, the movie, Calvary, will be discussed.

In January, the book, Inspired, by Rachel Held Evans will be reviewed.

A Note from Pastor John

October was "Pastor Appreciation Month." I don't know who came up with that idea, but I do know who perfected observing it - St. Stephen. Thank you for all of the cards, gifts, notes and attention. A pastor is only a pastor by the grace of God's people, and I appreciate your care. Thank you, Pastor John

The Corsi Report

Books

The Soul of a New Machine – Kidder

3 of 5 Stars

While I spend much of my day relying upon it's offspring, I know next to nothing about the advent of the computer. Kidder's book is a Pulitzer winning, non-fiction work on a heretofore (to me) unknown segment of this history. Less about the machine than the minds and the atmosphere that created it, this reads a lot like a fiction book and is (I think) the precursor to AMC's underrated series Halt and Catch Fire. (As the only series I know that spans the 80's and 90's so well and shifts premise and character emphasis so easily in its second season, and is recommended.)

The Keeper of Lost Causes – Adler-Olsen

3 of 5 Stars

Sorry, but, especially when I just want to read for fun, I really do read quite a bit of Nordic noir. Apparently this is the first in a series – Nordic noir always seems to come in series – and I will probably read more. If not this one, you really should try out this genre sometime – Stieg Larson, Jo Nesbo, Henning Mankell, Vidar Sundstol, or Adler-Olsen, they really are easy entertainment. 'Nordic' and 'noir' go together like their alliterative names make you feel like they should.

The Crying of Lot 49 – Pynchon

2 of 5 Stars

Considered the most accessible Pynchon (and probably the shortest), this book is the inspiration for AMC's underrated series Lodge 49 (see a theme here?). This one is about the main character's descent into a rabbit hole of causality created by her own paranoia and the idea is, I think, that one is supposed to question what's real, what's predestined, or what's just coincidence, the result of someone messing with us, or is self fulfilled. I can't say I connected as much with this, but Pynchon definitely has postmodern life pegged and is more of an experience than a novel.

Pygmy – Palahniuk

3 of 5 Stars

Written completely in its own dialect (that of a young 'terrorist' who is quite-tongue-in-cheek-ily sent to America to wreak havoc, who does so in quite a few accidental ways, but who – spoiler alert - ultimately embraces all that he was critiquing) this book – like so much of Palahniuk – is brutal and savage satire. It is also not for the faint of heart (some of the things depicted are graphic), but boy is it spot on scary/funny stuff about American culture and its effects.

Holy Things – Lathrop

3.5 of 5 Stars

The liturgy of the church is, to me, like a new medium and one that I love to consider, practice, and grow in. This book addressed a lot of what it means to be a Lutheran in worship, some history of the liturgy, and what the purpose of this medium is – worship, a drawing into font and table, and a purposeful repose between sacred and holy, Sunday and the rest of the week, heaven and earth, and already and not yet.

Movie

El Camino – Netflix

4.5 of 5 Stars

Theme alert: if AMC's can't-be-overrated enough show Breaking Bad (which is my favorite series of all time) is about the moral descent of middle America in the name of selfishness masked as concern, then El Camino is about the moral ascent of sidekick and poorly mentored burnout Jesse Pinkman. It has a lot of call backs to the series, but doesn't necessarily pander to it. It is a modern western – complete with shootout. And it plays around with the consequences of choice, how evil can be prosperously hidden in plain sight while the nearly-good struggle to overcome, and redemption. This is the perfect movie for streaming instead of theaters and is as well done as Breaking Bad. Can one skew good after being coaxed into breaking bad?

St. Stephen Member in the News

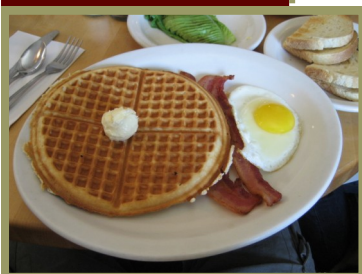

Congratulations to Audrey Hodges!

Audrey Hodges had a winning combination with her cupcake inspiration, Lazy River, at the Hudson- Peace, Love & Little Donuts. Audrey's Lazy River has blue raspberry icing and gummy bears.

Audrey was featured in the Stow Sentry.

J.O.Y. Monthly Breakfast

The J.O.Y. Group (Just Older Youth) meets for breakfast the 2nd Monday of each month at 9:00 a.m. at the Stow Café.

See you on Monday,
Nov. 11

Crocheting/Knitting Group for a Cause

Saturday,
November 9, 2019
8:30-10:00 a.m.

A group has formed at St. Stephen to crochet, or knit, scarves, hats, and afghans for Harvest Home (part of Haven of Rest) that houses 52 women and children, often more, in their residence. Each woman receives an afghan or quilt when they leave the facility so there is a constant need of items.

ALL ages are welcome! We will continue to meet once a month to work on projects together or you are welcome to work alone and join us when convenient.

Men in Mission Bible Study

MEN in Mission

Saturdays
8:00-9:30 a.m.

Men in Mission is a faith-based study group for men of all ages that meets every Saturday from 8:00 - 9:30 a.m. in the church library. Donuts and coffee are always served.

Throughout the year, the path of study is chosen from books of the Bible or Christian-themed literature. The conversations each week are the best part of this group. You can attend any time. Come as you are, whenever you can.
