To continue to grow the sport and allow the next generation of rugby players and fans to have a home, we need to build permanent rugby fields in the area.

Rugby has an almost 50 year history in Northeast Wisconsin, starting with the Green Bay Celtics in 1972. Since that time all local clubs (Men's, High School, Youth) have been forced to be nomadic groups, moving from location to location. The youth program is now in its 7th year and has had to utilize 5 different fields.

The Celtics have played at dozens of locations, and the HS boys have moved practice and match locations multiple times. Many of these fields have not been safe, much less regulation size. Over the last six years additional clubs and seasons have been added. There are now Spring, Summer and Fall options for kids from grades K-12 and the Celtics play and practice almost year round. We foresee continued growth in all aspects of our programs. With that growth, the need for more dedicated rugby pitches has become critical.
