

PUTIN'S WAR SETS WORLD ON EDGE

Ukraine attack: Russia warns other countries not to interfere
US response: Biden hits back with sanctions, vows consequences
Global fear: Largest military action in Europe since WWII underway

Today's headlines were written nearly 80 years ago – a legacy of the carnage of World War II.

This year's World War II Education Day at the Museum of American Armor inside Old Bethpage Village Restoration is now open for pre-registration. On Friday, May 13th, students will come face to face with key elements of this seminal conflict that still defines our world today.

Through the work of the Armor Museum's Education Coordinator, Gloria Sesso, study guides are available to help direct the students through their experience and provide thoughtful discussion when they return to class.

Held in cooperation with the Nassau County Department of Parks, Recreation and Museums, and the Long Island Living History Association, students will discover how today's world was forged in the crucible of WW II.

For more information and registration, contact Tim Van Wickler. tvanwickler@nassaucountyny.gov or at 516 572-8409