Dear Mr. Reyes:

Like Kerry and Barbara Johnson, I am writing to add my concern about your unwillingness to fund a grand jury to review evidence that investigators and prosecutors have gathered. You have reviewed this evidence.

It has been widely reported that then Attorney General Mark Shurtleff and his heir apparent John Swallow demanded to visit Pelican Hill at my expense. But what the public doesn't know is "the rest of the story." The grand jury would hear that Mr. Shurtleff and Mr. Swallow didn't risk their careers for only a few rounds of golf and an argyle sweater. The grand jury would hear that Mr. Shurtleff and Mr. Swallow were at Pelican Hill accompanied by top UTA officials. The grand jury would hear that the Attorney General and the UTA officials in turn met secretly with Senator Harry Reid and others in my offices.

Why are you preventing this information from coming forward? Mr. Reyes, aren't the citizens of the State of Utah entitled to answers? Don't hide behind your spokesman and a memorandum of understanding. Just do the right thing. I ask the same question as the Johnsons, "Should you decide NOT to allocate funds for something we clearly need answers to, then is it safe to assume you're 'one of them?'"

Sincerely,

Marc Sessions Jenson
