

Minnesota Music Hall of Fame Inductee

Dick Macko

Inducted in 2009

Dick Macko has been in the band business for over 50 years. He played Big Band variety music from the 60's through the 90's in numerous ballrooms in the Twin Cities area.

Over the years, he also has played in a small combo at various VFW and Legion Clubs in Minnesota and he did many nightclub style shows. His music has been heard and enjoyed at all the different profession sporting events in the Twin Cities.

These days, Dick spends May through October in Minnesota doing senior dances, anniversaries, and events such as Oktoberfest. If you want to enjoy his music November through April, you will want to take a trip to Sun City, Arizona.
