Committee reports

- Water clarity - Mike Kellen reported that RMB Labs in Detroit Lakes (the lab that tests our samples, done monthly, May to September) posts the results 7 to 10 days after samples are collected on their website. The link is shown on the back of the meeting agenda.
- Lake levels - Judy Jaskowiak reported that the reading taken last fall compared to this spring (May 2nd) showed that the level rose 2". Since May 2nd, level is down 1".
- Ron Tschaekofske reported on invasive species. In 2015, Douglas County started boat landing inspections. The county has instituted decontaminant systems that will move from landing to landing. The future locations of the stations will be posted on the County's website. Plans are for 150 hours of inspections at Lake Vermont. Sampling for early evidence of zebra mussels (microscopic larvae) will be done this year. Discussed the importance of running watercraft through decontamination if you've been on other lakes.

Guest speaker

- Bev Bales, Douglas County Commissioner: Announced that she's not filing for re-election as commissioner this year. She mentioned that there are 5 lake associations in this district. Other topics – requests for conditional use permits up quite a bit this year; road improvements (additional funding with additional 1/2 % county sales tax); public health programs combined with 4 other counties; drone donated to county.
- Blake Jaskowiak, Association member: Gave a history of the Lake Vermont Lake Association.

Special reports

- Ron Tschaekofske reported on the status of the approved gravel mining operation off the northwest corner of Lake Vermont: pit will be opened soon, Ron passed out information, some conditional use permit changes were made.
- Terry Tancabel reported that Tony Arndt has received $530 from members to help out with attorney's fees for relating to the gravel pit permit. If anyone else wants to contribute, can still do so. A motion made by Tamie Bredeson to reimburse Tony Arndt in the amount of $100 from LVLA was made, seconded by Ricardo Abbott. Motion failed.

Old business

- Ron Tschaekofske brought up trash pickup and asked that jet skis be away from shorelines.
- Tammie Bredeson reminded everyone again about the importance of cleaning boats.
