

OYSTER POINT DRAGONS (OPD)

We Care for our Environment!

Got plastic water bottles or aluminum cans?

Bring them to OPD because ... yes, we care for our environment!

Bring them during practice times on Saturday and Sunday mornings, 8:30 - 10:30.

In 2018, OPD's Students Team is competing in the Club Crew World Championships in Hungary. Your plastic bottles and aluminum cans will help support this team.

OPD is teaching its student-paddlers to care for, and do their share to protect our fragile ecosystem, which is an ongoing investment to ensuring they continue to thrive in a healthy environment now and for years to come.

In addition to using non-motorized vessels and equipment for its training, OPD is committed to (1) recycling; (2) picking up foreign objects from our waterways like bottles, plastic bags, nets, strings, ropes, and other items that are harmful to marine wildlife; and (3) participating in California Coastal Clean-ups.

OPD is a non-profit organization that promotes healthy living through paddling and other initiatives. This community team is open to anyone from age 10 and above. The team consists of a diverse group, from strong athletes to cancer and heart attack survivors. We share a common goal of living a healthier and happier life by staying active through dragon boating and other activities.
