

Gan Yalduti Learning Center

Our Programs

Gan Yalduti Curriculum provides the opportunities for children to expand their curiosity and discover new challenges.

Our curriculum encourages children to be actively involved in the learning process.

Jewish tradition and values are incorporated into all curriculum areas.

Toddlers program (18-30 month)

Our toddler program encourages curiosity with hands-on games, toys and small and large group activities daily. We lead toddlers through age-appropriate activities helping them learn to communicate and increase mobility and motor skills, while encouraging independence.

Toddlers will enjoy stimulating socialization while they learn to observe and make choices in the multi-sensory world of the classroom.

Preschool programs (2.5 years -5years)

Pre-3: During this year kids will become increasingly independent. They will develop a heightened sense of self awareness and empathy towards others as they develop social skills and learn how to function in a group. A sense of community evolves as the children become more comfortable in a child-centered group setting. They experience an atmosphere and materials that encourage their expression of ideas and feelings and promote an awareness of both their senses and the attributes of the physical world. Teachers will work with the children to teach them problem solving skills. The children learn to take responsibility for their actions. They will also learn to listen to their friends. We want children to enjoy school in a safe, nurturing atmosphere so that they will feel safe to take risks in all areas of development.

Pre-K: In our Pre-K classrooms we offer a curriculum focused on kindergarten readiness. Skills in language arts, writing, math, science, and conflict resolution are fostered, making the transition to kindergarten easier for the whole family. We provide a wide variety of materials at different levels of difficulty so children can balance both, a sense of mastery at tasks they can complete easily, and also challenge themselves with new more complex tasks. We believe that children need to feel safe and secure in order to learn and flourish in a rich environment full of opportunities to grow and develop their skills for life. Consequently, social skills and independence are an important part of our curriculum. We balance teacher-directed and child-initiated activities to help children learn to follow directions, as well as, guide their own learning.
