

July 25, 2018

Every now and then, an elected official will come along that rises above the chatter and peripheral political divisiveness and sets the example of public service excellence. When that person has demonstrated the capacity to listen, learn, help and then lead, it is critical for the electorate to read and know more about that candidate. Rep. Sue Wilson, House District 7, is just that person.

During her six years in the legislature, Rep. Wilson has exuded an uncommon ability to sort through the mind boggling financial conundrum of the state budget while balancing the critical needs of what the appropriate role of government should be. This is no easy task. The leadership in the legislature took note of Wilson's abilities and statesmanship by appointing her to the Appropriations Committee....that committee of reference that sets the budget and determines where your hard earned tax dollars should go. She has been a rock solid steward of the state's fiscal resources while honing a sharp eye on waste, duplication, and fiduciary efficacy. She has worked tirelessly in developing transparent and understandable principles so that citizens will remain engaged in their state government.

Importantly, Wilson has not shied away from making the tough decisions when resources are limited. While we may not have agreed with all of Wilson's votes (a rare occurrence), we have never doubted that her consideration and genuine concern for all constituencies was fair and well reasoned. Her MBA and education serve her well in the legislature. And she is always ready and willing to openly and candidly discuss how she came to the conclusion she did while voting.

The Wyoming Petroleum Marketers Association strongly endorses Rep. Sue Wilson. She is solid, hard working, well-respected and has earned your continued support. Wyoming needs legislators who are there for YOU, with no agenda or special interest bent....just solid fiscal conservancy and being a tough-minded guardian of your tax dollars. We are proud to stand with Rep. Sue Wilson for another term.

Mark Larson
Executive Vice President
Wyoming Petroleum Marketers Association