Marriage (Part One)

Sacred Scripture begins with the creation of man and woman in the image and likeness of God and concludes with a vision of “the wedding feast of the Lamb.” Scripture speaks throughout of marriage and its “mystery,” its institution and the meaning God has given it, its origin and its end, its various realizations throughout the history of salvation, the difficulties arising from sin and its renewal in the Lord in the New Covenant of Christ and the Church.

The matrimonial covenant, established by the Creator and ordered by his laws, by which a man and a woman in an irrevocable personal consent establish between themselves a lifelong partnership, is by its nature ordered toward the good of the spouses and the procreation and education of children. It requires the complete fidelity of the spouses and the indissoluble unity of the bond.

Marriage is not a purely human institution. The intimate community of life and love which constitutes the married state has been established by God the Creator, provided with its own proper laws, and endowed with that blessing which alone was not forfeited by punishment for original sin. God himself is the author of marriage.
