

What is the Tour de Danish?

The Tour de Danish is a 25-mile fun family-oriented timed bike ride with a catch: The fastest rider may not win!

How it works:

The ride will open with a paced mass start. The event will follow the Orange Blossom Festival Parade route, and will precede the parade. For a few minutes, you will be the star of the show! At the rest stop (approximately mile 12), each rider will have the opportunity to eat as many Svenhard's danishes as he or she wishes. For every danish eaten, 5 minutes will be deducted from his or her time. Yes—it's possible for a rider to eat his or her way into a negative overall time!

Is the Tour de Danish a ride or a race?

It's a bit of both. While the ride is timed, it is not a race. All traffic rules must be followed during the event—the event takes place on public roads, and roads will not be closed to traffic. So, while the Tour de Danish is a competitive ride, it's all in good fun rather than all-or-nothing racing. Safety will be the first consideration.

The route is flat, and is ideal for beginning riders.

Classifications

Awards will be given for the best overall adjusted times, and for best adjusted times in each class. Classifications are divided into men's and women's divisions, and divisions by age of rider.
