Confidential Records and Record Keeping

Children's records

There are record keeping systems in place that meet legal requirements; means of storing and sharing that information take place within the framework of the Data Protection Act, Freedom of Information Act and the Human Rights Act.

Personal records

- These include names, address, registration and admission forms, signed consent forms, parent's details, emergency contact numbers, dietary requirements, health requirements, parental responsibility, medication, allergies, collection details etc. These are kept in the Red Application Folders in the filing cabinet in our lockable office
- Children's learning journeys include observations of children in the setting, photographs and samples of their work and summative and formative reports. Reports and minutes from meetings concerning the child from other agencies (SALT) and signed consent forms are also kept within this file. These can then be freely accessed, and contributed to, by staff, the child and the child's parents.
- Since the introduction of Tapestry - each keyperson has their own tablet with individual secure PIN number. All photographs taken on these kindles will go directly in the children's learning records and any access photos will be deleted at the end of each month.
- Should a keyperson or parent need access off site to the child's learning journey, the keyperson/parent will acknowledge this in a signed record book. Keypersons will transport the learning journey offsite in a lockable case, access to these files whilst at home will only be permitted by the keyperson. The kindle/PC which has Tapestry downloaded is only accessed via secure password/pin and any information is only visible to the child's keyperson, the Manager and family members if they have downloaded an app on their own phone.
- Once the child leaves, their Learning Journey including Unique Story and work becomes the property of the parent. Tapestry files are downloaded, given to parent and child deleted off the system
- Any child protection matters are kept in the Safeguarding File in the locked filing cabinet in the which only the Designated Safeguarding Office and Deputy Safeguarding Officer has access to

- Staff will not discuss personal information given by parents with other members of staff, except where it affects planning for the child's needs. Staff induction includes an awareness of the importance of confidentiality in the role of the key person.
