

Do all to the glory of God

The scriptures teach us that our origin began, when, “In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth” (Gen. 1:1). The Bible is the only source that can adequately explain the how and the why of our existence. Genesis 1:26, tells us, “God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness.” As a result, vs. 27, “God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them.” In this, man is unique of all creation.

As you consider your life, recall the words of the apostle Paul, in Acts 17:24-28, “The God that made the world and all things therein, he, being Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; neither is he served by men’s hands, as though he needeth anything, seeing he himself giveth to all life, and breath, and all things; and he made of one every nation of men to dwell on all the face of the earth, having determined their appointed seasons, and the bounds of their habitation; that they should seek God if haply they might feel after him and find him, though he is not far from each one of us: for in him we live, and move, and have our being.”

With these factors in mind, “Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God” (1 Cor. 10:31). Ross Triplett, Sr.
