Hip Hop dance: How to Move Like This!

Presented by Irvine Stewart
local Deaf professional, founder of the Wild Zappers

Jump, hop and move like a star!

*Irvine will teach many funky steps
— easy to learn and cool to show off!*

Come and get down with us for good old time!

When? 6:30 - 8:00 PM

Tuesday, June 13, 2017

Who & What?

Beginning over 20 years ago, Irvine combined jazz, funk and hip-hop dance styles, American Sign Language and popular music to create an uplifting, electric repertoire that dazzled audiences around the world. He's happy to teach the joy of dance to anyone who likes to move.

Founder of the Wild Zappers dance troupe, he was involved in Joy of Motion Dance Studio in Washington DC and National Deaf Dance Theatre and performed at Gallaudet U; the Kennedy Center; Black Family Reunion; DC Black Expo; the Apollo Theater in Harlem, NYC; Walt Disney World; many locations in Japan, Jamaica, and the Virgin Islands; and Deaf festivals in the US and also in Brisbane, Australia for the World Federation of the Deaf. They also led popular interactive presentations in schools and won the Media Access Award in 2001.
