cient, and the artwork involved in the book. There was one acrylic painting and numerous original India ink drawings used. Copies of the book will be on sale after the talk .

At the April membership meeting: we will get ready for the AUCTION

Crystal Fuller has generously stepped up to be the chairperson for the auction once again. At the March membership meeting she led a discussion the organization of the items being donated and how the live auction would work.

A list of jobs and responsibilities for the volunteers working that evening was discussed. Some of the tasks to be performed include:

Runners, recorders, treasure, cleanup and setup. If you are interested in any one of those jobs or are anxious to have a position to work at the auction please contact Crystal at fullerc76@gmail.com

During the April 24th meeting we will have a review of “how the live auction will work” and make final preparations for the evening of the auction.

POSTCARDS are still available at the gallery for members to pick up and SEND. There is space on the back to personalize the card with a message from you.

From the Director's Desk

A hearty THANK YOU goes out to all the generous members and non-members who have contributed items for our upcoming auction. Last count has our item total at 76. Amongst the items are original pieces of art, prints, equipment, pottery and books.

I am very pleased to announce that ZAAP received a $2,500 grant from the Muskingum County Community Foundation. The money is earmarked to offer ZAAP memberships to interested Art Teachers and young adults. The memberships will provide them with opportunities to interact with other local artists, learn about different approaches to art, and show their own creations at the ZAAP gallery. We are very grateful for this support from the MCCF to expand ZAAP's role in the community. PLEASE let me know of people you think are deserving of a free membership. jtaylorlehman@sbcglobal.net They MUST be between the ages of 18-35.

Since the auction items are featured in the gallery for the First Fridays in April and May, it was decided at the last membership meeting that a new show and celebration featuring ZAAP artists' work was needed. A Second Friday "soft opening" on May 9th will occur. It was jokingly referred to as the AA show in reference to the title "Art for Artists". We hope to attract the artists who other wise can't visit the gallery on a Frist Friday because they are sitting at their own gallery space. Help spread the word to your family and friends that we will be open with a new show May 9th!

The Weasel Boy Brew Pub has offered to host a show of ZAAP members art work during the months of June and July. The owners, Lori and Jay, typically host an opening reception on a Thursday evening with music and refreshments. I am excited about this opportunity to showcase members work in a new venue. More details to follow.
