Dorval Olympic Competitor Returns From Rome

A relatively new resident in Dor-val, tall 6'2" sandy-haired, 26 year old athlete Don Stringer has recently returned from Rome where he represented Canada in the Olympic Games padding events. He brought back to his home on Mal-colm Circle in Dorval first hand impressions of the Olympic Competitions.

Impressions of the Olympic Com-petitions. Picked at the Olympic Trials in Ottawa last June, he was one of the six paddlers who represented Can-ada, and the only one to qualify in Rome for the finals. In the finals of the 1000 Metres Single Paddling events Don ranked seventh. Mr. Stringer, commenting on the showing of Canadian athletes in the trials, said that he was able to see 4 days of track, 3 nights of swimming, all of the rowing and the water polo and soccer games. "Canadian athlete are good for 'half a race', and show potential and keen competitive spirit, but they haven't the stamina which comes with full time training and government and industry supported athletes" Canadian are obliged to hold full time jobs and have no op-portunity to put themselves in first class condition.

Don with three other friends trained during the winter with weight lifting in a basement room to increase heart and wind effic-iency. He pointed out that Russian Padders had been on the lake in Pome for three months ahead of time, in strict training. He also commented that Canada isfar from the manufacturing centes of pad-ding supplies and behind in their nowledge of latest equipment. In Padding Don has a long list of championship achievements be-hind him, starting with the Can-adian 1950 Juvenile Singles (16 Years and under), the 1951 Junior Singles, 1952-1953-1954-1956 Senior Singles in the 10,600 me-ican Singles, 1000 Meres, in the years 1953 to 1957. Hecompeted in Meloume Au-stralia in Sp60.

in the Olympics in Melbourne Au-stralia in 1956. Don is a graduate in Science from Bishops University where as hockey, bashetuall, and football players he took awards for best all around athlete. imployed by Nor-have one small boy-- whom neigh-bours refer to as "linte paddler". They seem happy to be settled in Dorval and mentioned expecially the kindness of neighbours during Don's absence in Rome. This community which showed such en-thusiasm for visiting Olympic swimming champions will be fol-lowing future success of this athlete and will welcome his example and leadership in sports in Dorval.

International Work Impressive

cannot help. This week we recognize the million and a half young Canadians who through their untiring efforts, their enthusiasm and their desire to help even the most out-of-theway areas, are held up as a symbol of man's inherent decency to man. The Ped Cross, since its inception 101 years ago as a dream in the mind of the Swiss Henri Punant, has strived to be on ohdn when disaster and calmity strikes.

The of the swiss Henri "Junant, has strived to be on and when disaster and colority strikes. Just as the parent Society lends its help through medical aid, relief, technical assistance, clothing and self-help, so da the children through the Juniar ?ed Cross help young people like themselves. Last year Juniar ?ed Cross members, through their fund for Interna-tional Help and Understanding, contributed assistance valued at $6^,217 to the children of 25 countries.

Consider Junior Head Cross. To Gasa, to Ghana, to Greece, to Korea and to Haiti have gane socks, scarves, clothing, health kits, baby clothes and school supplies. More than 12,000 items, all contribued by Canadian children and valued at $14,000, were sent to needy children abroad in 1959.

These are but a few of the distressed areas to which the Junior Ped Cross wifely send its help and understanding during the past year. Their work should not go unheeded any more than will their efforts, cross on behalf of children around the world.

Africa during these current crucial years. Frequently called "The Awakening Giant", Africa is de-picted to be in a transition period -- on a bridge -- between ancient tribalism and the shining goal of independence from colonial rule. During this significant period, Am-erican Evangelist Billy Graham was accorded an unprecedented wel-come by Africans ranging from Chiefs of State down to the general population of bush desert and jungle. A total of 500,000 persons attended outdoor mass meetings with nearly 35,000 inquires re-maining for further help and in-struction.

THIS HAS BEEN a bad deadline day. In the first place it was most dis-couraging to return from the Blood Clinic.without the nice red button they give out to donors, and carrying a sample of pills recommended for tired blood, a nice polite rejection slip. And I am having another one of those "mad" days regarding cereal manolacturers. These days come is any mother who lifts up a big box of cereal which has been delivered by the store and should be put in the cupboard, the only hich being that, bet-ween the two operations, come the small children in search of junky prizes who neatly slit the bottom of the boxes. (They know that the' prizes go to the bottom) I don't want ry cereal on the floor; I want it in the box - - and without flags, plas is cowbys or treasure maps.

Whild I Si NA NAME? Behind the naming of Dural Products there is a remarkable little story. Mr. D. Debnar, new in Canada, with little money but cager to start a business in his own line (glue) had been told that in this country product names were popular. He found, left behind by a man who had started a chrome handle manufacturing business in his assement apartment where he mixed up first samples, some stallourey bearing the letter-head Silver Dural. He laugh now as he remembers giving the instructions to his family. "Paper we need, Dural we can use, so with a black peneli you are crossing out 'Silver'." And that is how a new was found for the company which has accompliabed outstanding expansion in Dorval in ten years. The astute fragality of a man who has seen at the Dural opening ecremonies — a lady who wore an employee had explained that she worked only in her "spare time." She is a some memories of the Dural Plant going back to the time when Mr. Debnar use their phone, the only one on Marshall Avenue. She start fragal twenters to in the presention which was made to K. Partt at the opening ceremonies at Dural; he received as a glit from Mr. Debnar the eiben cutting scissors, a burai, he received as a glit from Mr. Debnar the city.

SERVICE FAULT NOTICES with big red-letter complaints were ar-riving frequently at one Dorval home last week. Customers and Gazette Office did not know that the paper boy was sick and his father doing the rounds. There is now one Dorval father who has changed his mind about the strict rules which he thought Gazette paper boys should follow. It is so easy at six in the morning to walk across the lawns, deliver the paper with a slight toss, and to swipe apples from trees. It is embarrassing to to be greeted at the door by a business associate who informs you that he is used to having his paper by twenty to seven, but pleasant to stop for coffee with an early rising acquaintance. (That is the morning you did not get your paper until after seven, Mr. Balenko). And perhaps, now that the boy in the family has recovered, One should not consider giving up the paper route after all!

It was a neighbor who phoned us about Mrs. X. "Her husband died about six months ago and I haven't seen her outside the house for six months. I'm sure something's wrong!"

Something was! A social worker investigated, and the doctor who was called found Mrs. X. suffering from severe malnutrition as well as emotional distress. Independent, childless, and ashamed to apply for help, she had been trying to live on a total income of $55 a month. Four Red Feather agencies cooperated in building up her strength, and relieving her loneliness until she was able to carry on alone.

There are many old people in Montreal who suffer in silence until someone brings them to the attention of a Red Feather agency.

With less than 4 minutes to go in the game GREENFIELD blocked an attempted kick by Dorvai's Bennie RODTWITT and WALTERS threw a past to MOFFAT that went for 20 yards and a touchdown for Westlake. An attempted pass for a point after touchdown was upset on a fine de-fensive play by Wayne AUDETTE and the game was tied 13-13. Following the kick-off Westlake intercepted a Dorval pass intended for Ken STEFANIK and the boys from the west-end of the Lakeshore once again found themselves in a threatening position. However, Paul LEMIEUX made a fine interception of a Westlake pass at the Dorval yard line on the very next play and Dorval fans were able to breathe easier.

FINANCLA REPORT: Our club has been doing quite well financially this season and was able to pay off all bills, notably that for taxes which itself is a con-siderable amount. In addition, as members know pur dance hall was completely renovated. Obviously many of these things are accom-plished because of the wonderful support we have from the members and their friends for our monthly dances. By the way, our next dance will take place Oct. Ist. Incidentally our dance hall is be-coming increasingly popular for dances, wedding receptions, etc. for the outside public, and any one wishing to rent the hall would do vance. Civic Affairs Bulletin

(Radio Report by Mayor John Pratt on CFOX last Sunday.)

This week I would like to say a This week I would like to say a few words about our library in Dor-val, of which we are all so justly proud. The Dorval Civic Library is operated under a by-law of the City, which wasset up on February 20th, 1959, in order to give the already existing small public lib-rary a proper location for better service to the community. Priortolocating at the City Hall, the library, a civic project of the he library, a civic project of the Dorval Catholic Women's League in 1954, had been housed in various places around the town. In June, 1958, it was without a home or suf-1956, it was without a nome of sul-ficient funds to carry on alone. It was then that the Dorval City Coun-cil voted in its favour, providing space at the City Hall and an ap-propriation of $1000.00 in the city's budget.

A Library Board was organized in April, 1959, which consisted of five members with a council member to act as liaison between the Council and the members of the Board This Board is made up of correspondences actas liaison between the Cruncil and the members of the Board This Board is made up of representative citizens of Dorval, in business and in education, appointed by the City Council. As the library had been forced to close its doors early in the year, the City allowed it to re-open prior to the by-law being pass-ed and November 14th, 1958, was the big date for our library. As Mayor, in the presence of City Council members and representa-tives of interested civic groups, I had the pleasure of officially open-ing the doors of the new quarters. The library was later open to the public on December 2nd, 1958. The chief concern of the Dorval library has always been the readers of Dorval. Age is no barrier. The native bom and new Canadian alike come to the library and find there some common ground of interest. A very important feature is the interest of parents in what the inchildren read. They no longer leave the selection entirely to the children but show a lively interest in choosing with their children. to be-come familiar with the bet in new sauthors as well as old favourites.
