Smithtown, NY 11787
Room 222A

7:00 P.M. How to talk to your child about their disability
Presented by Yvonne Sinisgalli from the_ECDC/Long Island Parent Center

This workshop will prepare parents to explain the impact of disability to their child. We will cover the communication skills needed for parents to have this discussion when a child's disability includes cognitive, language and emotional components. We will also cover how different conversations can happen in different age ranges.

8:00 P.M. Managing Challenging Behaviors at Home
Presented by Laura Marra from Marra & Glick
Applied Behavior Analysts, PLLC

Please join us for a presentation discussing various ways to manage challenging behaviors in the home. Lauren Marra, a NYS Licensed Behavior Analyst, and Co-Founder of Marra & Glick ABA, will discuss how to identify behavior pitfalls commonly seen in the home and present simple ideas to help navigate these behaviors. She will present various strategies to help with behavior reduction and simple ways to increase behaviors that could help your child and family move forward in a positive way. Materials will be given out that were designed to be used for everyday situations and various family dynamics.
