What performance qualities make the audience feel something? In this class, we will explore song selection and performance, moving towards practicing audition techniques... just in time for Middle School and High School audition season! Music selections will be discussed the week before working on the material in class. These selections will need to be prepared and learned prior to the week that we work on the piece as class time will be spent focusing on interpretation. This class is open to all levels of experience and is ideal for students who want to sing in a small group setting.
