The United Mission of Goodwill (UMG) in collaboration with the Jeanette Grant Woodham Education Foundation (JGWEF) presented much needed medical supplies to the Tivoli Gardens High School (TGHS) recently. The United Mission of Goodwill is a top-notch; US based non-profit organization which spearheads medical missions to Jamaica offering free health care to residents in various communities across Jamaica.

Passionate about giving back to her homeland, the mission was established by Mrs Lorna L. Rawle in 2012 to make a difference in the quality of health care for the vulnerable. Following the recent visit to Jamaica in May 2015, the UMG forged a partnership with the JGWEF which saw the presentation of a wheel chair, blood pressure monitoring machine, digital thermometres and other medical supplies to the school.

Principal of the TGHS, Mr Aldrick Durrant, was elated to have received the medical supplies and welcomed the continued support of the JGWEF.

As part of the continued collaboration, other community outreach programmes will be implemented in the coming year when the medical mission returns to the island with its team of volunteers including medical doctors, surgeons, dentists, registered nurses, medical students and social workers.
