Rebecca says, “Writing poetry has been a constant calm for me for many years. Getting my work published has taken a very long time because being vulnerable has held me back. With abiding gratitude and joy, I offer this, my first book, Finding Peace in the Presence of God.”

The book is a compilation of spiritual poetry and prose combined with photos meant to bring encouragement to your soul.

Rebecca was born in Indiana and attended Ball State University, graduating with a degree in Art and Secondary Education. She taught Art for eleven years, in both public and private school systems, as well as teaching private art students. A career change decision took her into corporate America for the next 18 years, where she became Director of Human Resources for a Fortune 500 Company. She is married to a wonderful man and between them, they have 3 grown children, 6 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren to love.

Rebecca has been writing for more than 40 years, stashing pieces in her file drawers. Her inspiration comes from ample resources and experiences God provides each and every day.
