

188 DAY EARTHQUAKE CYCLE

BETWEEN MAJOR EARTHQUAKES CORRESPONDING TO CELESTIAL ALIGNMENT

This chart and information presented is not intended to predict a date/time for a significant earthquake but to bring attention to a the relationship between the 188 day-count pattern related to the certain and confirmed alignments of comet ELENIN thus far. There seems to be a 188 day-count pattern of earthquakes along the Pacific 'Ring of Fire' since 2010 that correlate to certain celestial alignments. The 188 day count also correlates to the Solstices of the Earth's rotation.

The 188 Day Earthquake cycle starts with the Conception Chile earthquake of Feb 27, 2010. When 188 days are added, end-date excluded and 1 day adjustment for time change, the subsequent date corresponds to the Christchurch and Sendai earthquake dates. Interestingly all of the distances are within 500 miles of each other. Moreover, either a New or Full Moon occur within Days of each event during the cycle. Perhaps such a day count could lead to significant earthquake dates.

DISINFORMATION ABOUT ELENIN

One fact is certain, there is much disinformation regarding ELENIN. Some 'expert's attest that it has had influences every time it has been aligned with Earth. Others declare that 'Elenin' does not seem to have the traditional attributes of a "comet". Others speculate it's a highly dense Dwarf Star while others claim to have observed a changing trajectory alluding a 'spaceship'. Others declare it to be a disintegrated comet while yet others state that it's a 'Harbinger' of doom from ancient prophecies. Others see it as a 'sign' of a doomsday and a prelude to the "Red Star" Planet x or Nibiru to come later in 2015-16.

NASA's JPL has changed the coordinates of the ELENIN several times. ELENIN was said to reach Earth's orbit at the Ecliptic on Sept 11 but then was changed to be on the Sept 14th. This alignment would then match the 188 Day Pattern. One fact is certain, that there is increasing volcanic and earthquake activity around the world.

Another fact was that none of the speculative scenarios panned out as they were predicted to have occurs regarding the Elenin-Earth-Sun alignments or its meteor debris etc. Whether the major significant 188 Day pattern earthquakes have been caused by 'Elenin' remains to be determined; it could otherwise be attributed to solar activity or an unknown object yet to be officially disclosed. This correlation remains a mystery to most.

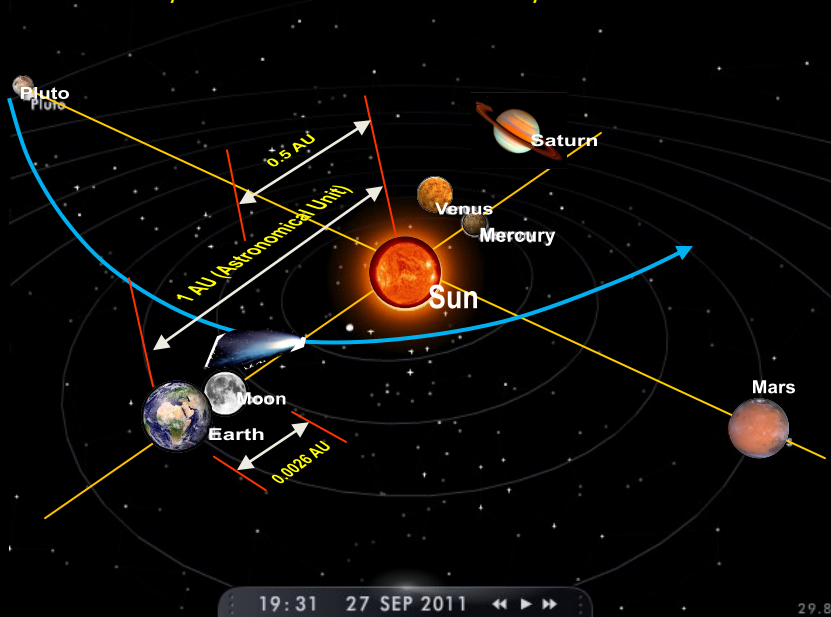

Perhaps 'Elenin' was a cover for an object yet to approach Earth. Some speculate that there is actually another real object coming. Others describe it sensationally as a visible '2nd Sun' because it is estimated that the coma and body could expand to the size of Jupiter as some claim.

ANTICIPATED ALIGNMENTS	DATE	NOTES
ELENIN-Earth-Sun	Feb 27 2010	~6.042AU - Chile EQ 8.8

The Red Planet

PLANET OF THE CROSSING

Planet X is the said to be a RED 'Winged-Sun Disk' that ancient cultures worshiped and from which the 'god's promised to return. Research Hopi Prophecy of the Blue Red Kachinas at the 'End of Days'. Others believe the Annunaki or Fallen Angels have come from this system that includes a Giant Red Dwarf Sun.
