Betty White W'39, left, will be honored by the Beverly Hills Athletic Alumni Association in October. See story on page 55.

Alumni from 1947-48 met for lunch in 2011. At right are Lynn Montjoy, S'47, Hilde Carsten Koessler, W'47, Mary Downs Rhue, W'47, and Joe and Marji McCarthy.

On the masthead of the Highlights is the phrase "Today Well Lived." It is excerpted from the following poem:

Salutation of the Dawn

Look to this day,
For it is the very life of life.
In its brief course lie all the verities and realities of your existence;
The glory of action,
The bliss of growth,
The splendor of beauty,
For yesterday is but a dream and
Tomorrow is only a vision;
But today well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness,
And every tomorrow a vision of hope,
Look well, therefore, to this day.

President's Message - Josh Gross '91

Hello fellow Normans:

I'm proud to report that things are better than ever here in the Norman Nation. Our wildly popular principal, Carter Paysinger '74, continues to lead our alma mater to continued academic and extra-curricular success.

Carter's administrative team includes administrative assistant Jennifer Reilly (you may remember her uncle, former Beverly football coach Jack Reilly), and assistant principals Toni Staser, Kelly Tabis and Amy Golden. We couldn't be more excited to have a team of this caliber leading our school.

Other Beverly graduates doing exciting things on behalf of our Beverly Hills public schools include Steve Kessler '71, who is principal of Horace Mann; David Corwin '87, who heads up the Athletic Alumni Association; and Rich Waters '85, who is assistant principal of my alma mater, Beverly Vista. Steven Fenton '88 has retired from the Board of Education, but continues his active involvement with the BHAAA.

The Alumni Association was founded in December, 1977. Our organization has grown significantly since that time. We now mail this Alumni Highlights to over 18,000 graduates living all over the world. The support of graduates like you have allowed us to become the biggest contributor of alumni scholarships. This year, as in years past, we awarded $12,000 to deserving graduating seniors.

But that's not all. We also built and maintain a war memorial, which pays tribute to those Normans who died while giving service to their county.

We maintain the Alumni Hall of Fame, which inducts new members each year. For the last seven years, we've donated $1,000 each year to support the Performing Arts Department and their first-rate musical productions. We also coordinate with the various reunion chairs to help promote your annual reunions.

Please support our Athletic Alumni Dinner on Oct 25, which this year for the first time will include two Alumni Association Hall of Fame honorees: Beverly Hills Mayor Willie Brien '75, and former Ambassador to the Bahamas Nicole Avant '86. For tickets, please call 310-385-0679

Finally, I wish to acknowledge a dedicated Norman who is retiring from our alumni board after over 25 years of service, Robert L. Fox (W'46). Bob has

At my 20th Beverly reunion last September, I had the privilege of presenting this plaque to legendary former principal Ben Bushman on behalf of my class.

2011-12 proves another successful year at BHHS

The 2012 school year was a huge success on many levels. Our ASB and Senior Class Officers led by Brandon

S c h w a b , Carter Paysinger, '74 and Joel

Yadidian did an unbelievable job of setting the tone for the entire campus. The success of this year's ASB events will always be remembered. The Winter Formal, Prom, Grad Night and Carnival were all extremely successful. ASB's campaign to encourage every student to participate in a club or extracurricular activity was not only successful, but also inspirational.

Our Performing Arts Department had a fantastic year. Our fall play, Twilight: Los Angeles 1992 was excellent. Some of our leading performers included Savannah Forno who played the part of Rodney King and Sheyna Messiqua played the part of Reginald Denny. Our spring musical Grease was fun and entertaining. Lina Hebert and Anthony Lofaso played the leading roles of Sandy and Danny respectively. The Madrigals, Minnesingers, our Bands and Orchestras all had great years.

Robotics, Academic Decathlon and Culinary were all very successful this year. Robotics competed in Long Beach in a regional competition and did very well. They went on to compete in St. Louis, Missouri in a national competition and fared equally as well. Our Academic Decathlon Team finished as one of the top teams in the county and went on to finish 14th in the state. Our Culinary program entered outside competition for the first time this year. They competed locally through the Skills USA program. We had 4 students finish in the top 5 of the competition. Each of those students qualified and participated in the regional competition in San Diego, Ca.

Our Athletic program was led by our student-athletes of the year; Brianna Simmons, Zak Zukoski and Frank Brown. It is well documented that the success of the Boy's Basketball team advancing to the semifinals of the CIF-SS is due to the leadership of our seniors. The same can be said about the Girl's Soccer team that upset Santa Monica High School and won the Ocean League. Our Track and Field teams were led by Brianna Simmons who finished 7th in the state in the 1600 meter run and Alex Rohani who won the state meet in the 400 meter run.

Our journalism program made unbelievable strides to once again become a top-tier high school newspaper.

Finally, our school spirit was at an all time high. Our seniors have led the way in bringing a culture of fun and spirit. They have also demonstrated how to respect and support each other.

The Class of 2012 will always be remembered for their leadership, respect for each other and their enthusiasm for Beverly Hills High School!

Mayor Barry Brucker '75 (second from right) accepts plaque commemorating his induction.

New inductees honored

Three new inductees joined the high school Hall of Fame on March 29, 2012. The new inductees are Barry Brucker '75, Mayor of Beverly Hills; Walt Dougher '53, former Mayor of Manhattan Beach; and William Krisel '41, renowned architect.

The induction took place at the high school, upstairs near the entrance to the library. Betsy Roberts Ulf S'49 arranged for table settings and decorations including balloons that were orange and white. Joanna Fields Stingray '78 make all of the arrangements for food that included sandwiches, cookies, soft drinks and assorted desserts. It makes for a very festive affair. The cookies were donated from alumni Tobey Cotsen Victor's ('76) bakery.

Family, friends, and alums attended the event. Walt Dougher's wife Barbara and family were there as was Bill Krisel and his wife, Corinne, and friends as were Barry Brucker, his wife Sue and their children. Also in attendance was school principal Carter Paysinger '74, BHUSD Superintendent Gary Woods and Herb Hall, Chairperson of the Performing Arts Department and City Council See HALL OF FAME, page 5

Donations accepted

Although many of us take it for granted that Beverly High has plenty of cash to purchase whatever is needed, this is not the case.

The state is always short of funds to support education, so our schools are dependent on the community to support its fine programs.

If any of you have books, computers, musical instruments, equipment or furniture that you can contribute, send them to the high school.

If you live near the high school, the administration can make arrangements to pick up the items. Please call (310) 551-5100 ext. 8300. If you have any questions about this, call the Alumni Office at (310) 551-5100 ext. 8219 or email us at BHHSAlumni@yahoo.com.

HALL OF FAME: BHHS graduates recognized for contributions

member Lili Bosse '79.

Also in attendance were members of the Board of Directors of the Alumni Association. Josh Gross '91, President of the Alumni Association, was the MC at the induction and introduced each of the inductees and presented each with a plaque commemorating their placement on the Hall of Fame. Immediately after the induction ceremonies, the Spring Musical, Grease, took place in the school auditorium.

To be considered for the Hall of Fame an alum must be a graduate of Beverly (there are some accomplished individuals who have attended Beverly but did not graduate). There are certain parameters that are considered with respect to consideration for the Hall of Fame and they include the person's accomplishments and if that person made an unusual and noteworthy contribution to whatever profession or endeavor in which the person was involved.

Further, has the person received recognition within the area of the person's activities and has the person been the recipient of awards, honors, etc., and has that person had national or local recognition with respect to activities and accomplishments. There are a variety of considerations that are evaluated by the Hall of Fame Committee. Also, does the person to be nominated have desire to be considered for the Hall of Fame.

Send nominations to the Hall of Fame Committee, c/o Joanna Stingray, BHHS Alumni Association, 241 Moreno Dr., Beverly Hills, CA 90212. By the way the nominator does not have to be a former student or graduate of Beverly.

Innovative architect William Krisel S'41 inducted

William Krisel S'41 has made a major, positive impact on the field of architecture for both single-family and multi-family housing. In his 61 years as a licensed California architect, about 25,000 single-family homes and 15,000 multi-family units have been built from his architectural designs.

Since 1950, William has had his own architectural practice. He has worked as an architectural educator, lecturer, author and mentor to young architects. Also licensed as a landscape architect since 1954, he has designed for schools, hospitals, museums, shopping centers and office buildings.

Throughout his career, William also reached out for good relationships with the builder-developer community, which in the past had avoided the use of architects on their projects.

"He brought excellent and elegant modern design to mass-produced housing," wrote Alan Hess, architect, author and critic. "That is significant because many big names in modern architecture during the mid-century, tried to crack into the mass-produced housing market and they all failed."

After graduating from

Beverly Hills High School, William earned his bachelor's degree in architecture from the University of Southern California in 1949.

His college career was interrupted by three years in the U.S. Army during World War II. He was awarded a Bronze Star for his military service overseas.

Starting in 1950, William created reliable connections with builder-developers in California, Florida, Texas, Arizona, Nevada and Colorado.

Since then, thousands of citizens have lived in and appreciated the benefits of his homes.

"What Bill Krisel did was bring modernism to the masses," said Michael Stern, noted author and museum curator. "Krisel packed excellent architecture into houses of modest size, made of modest materials, and he did it on a very thin dime."

William's architecture has been recognized by the American Institute of Architects and the J. Paul Getty Trust Research Institute of the Getty Museum, which acquired his architectural archive for their permanent collection.

WANTED:

Watchtowers of your yesteryear

If any alumni have Watchtower yearbooks that they would like to donate, it would be most appreciated by the high school and the Alumni Association. THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION NEEDS WATCHTOWERS FROM THE DECADE OF THE 70'S.

It seems that the collections at the high school and the Alumni Office are not complete. We want to preserve these yearbooks as they are part of the history of our school.

Further, the yearbooks are helpful in researching former students with respect to verifying the year of graduation and learning about the clubs, societies and teams with which they were involved.

Please mail the Watchtowers to Beverly Hills High School Alumni Association, 241 Moreno Dr. Beverly Hills, CA 90212.

He was captain of the track team.

In the 1950s, Walt served in the U.S. Army as a training officer and general staff secretary. After leaving the active army, he continued to serve in the Army Reserve until 1968.

Walt joined the Southern California Edison Company in 1958. He held numerous positions at Edison including credit manager, area manager of Beverly Hills and district manager for the Porterville, Inglewood, Compton, Huntington Beach, and South Bay Districts.

In 1978 he was named manager of personnel and employee development. He concluded his service with Edison as regional manager of public affairs, responsible for Edison's relations experiences, an invaluable help. Rod then passed the mike to each table for more sharing and to further reconnect us.

None of this could have taken place without the generosity of our underwriters, and the creative, tireless and enthusiastic work of a terrific committee: Secretary, Sandy (Shelley) Gibson, who did our art work, invites and mailings; Treasurer, Bruce and Sharon (Sebell) Rogers, who kept our records, gave us constant updates for guidance, and did the awesome job of checking everyone in; Carol (Goshaw) Blanchard, who was our energetic spearhead; Harriett (Baumann) Walther, who made arrangements for the High School Tour; George Cotliar; Jerry Factor, who made our name badges and created and led the tour of the Observatory; Nancy (Friend) Dillon, who flew in from Arizona for committee meetings; Barbara (Hyman) Spitz; Lew Jarvis; Richard Orgell; Lynn (Vale) Penoyar; Dick Ward; and Pat (Abrams) Heumann, assistant chairman.

We were all so thrilled with the turnout and enthusiasm of those attending. Who knows what may be in the future!

Beverly Hills High School: An 85-year history

By Robert L. Fox W'46

This fall, it will be 85 years ago that Beverly opened its doors. The year was 1927. Beverly Hills High School was formally dedicated on November 23, 1927. A banquet including over 300 people was held in the cafeteria and many officials and community leaders attended. Later, in the auditorium, the Superintendent of the Los Angeles School District, Susan M. Dorsey, gave the main address. When the school opened, it was part of the L.A. Unified School District.

The city of Beverly Hills was incorporated on January 28, 1914 and by 1920 the population was 674; however, there was spectacular growth and by 1930 there was a population 17,429. Currently, the population is 34,109. The growth of the population in 1920's created a need for a high school for the city. Prior to the opening of the high school, students had to travel to Fairfax High School (located at Melrose Ave. and Fairfax Ave.) and other high schools outside of Beverly Hills.

Prior to 1914, there was only one school in Beverly Hills. Called the Canyon School, it was a one room school house in a field north of Sunset Blvd. near Coldwater Canyon. When Hawthorne School was built in 1914, the Canyon School disappeared. Following Hawthorne, were Beverly Vista in 1924, El Rodeo in 1927 and Horace Mann in 1929.

When Beverly High opened in 1927, there were little more than a dozen students in the senior class. The Junior Class numbered 112 students, the Sophomore Class had 192 and the Freshman Class had 196. There were about 500 students in the high school. Today, there are over 2,300 students. And when the school opened there were 28 teachers. Today, there are over 100 teachers.

There was no student government when the school opened. On January 28, 1928, the school committee drew up a constitution and it invested legislative and executive powers in 14 commissioners. Soon, there was created the Boys' League, the Boys' Court and Girls' Court. The Board of Commissioners included a student body president and various other offices and officers. The initial student body had the responsibility of creating and establishing many of the student offices and activities that had not existed. They were responsible for also creating a spirit of progress for the school. Additionally, the Highlights and the Watchtower were created along with a number of school clubs and organizations. In those early days there was one coach who coached football, basketball, baseball and scheduled all of the events. The girls had club sports such as swimming, riding, golf, etc. The next year in 1929 the boys' basketball team and track team won the league championship.

In the first Watchtower(1928) the forward was written by Will Rogers, the famous entertainer,

1927-28 Lettermen

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

Lettermen! Worshipped by the Frosh, looked up to by the Sophs, admitted equals of the Juniors and Seniors. This first year there were only twelve lettermen, ten of whom were members of the football team, and the other two were yell leaders. Hereafter, however, only those who have earned a varsity letter in a major sport, and the head yell leader, will be eligible. The Lettermen's Club directs its fire toward clean, sportsmanlike athletics, and good conduct around the school.

writer and vaudeville star. And in that first Watchtower, there is printed the words that have endured for some 85 years: "Each today well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness and every tomorrow a vision of hope."

The school teams were known as the "Tartars." However, in 1931 the student body president, John Guedel, didn't like the looks of the scruffy looking Tartar that was depicted. Because of the French Normandy architecture, Guedel decided that "Normans" would be a more appropriate name and it has remained the Normans since that time.

Although the LAUSD built the school, in 1935 the Beverly Hills Unified School District was formed and took control of the high school and the four K-8 schools. The famous swim-gym was built as part of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt's government stimulus packages in the late 30's and early 40's. The swim-gym was designed by Stiles O. Clement and built in 1939. Former Beverly basketball coach, Sax Elliott, was instrumental in the building of the swim gym which he innovated with solid glass backboards. Up until that time, wooden backboards were utilized and those backboard cut off the view of those sitting in back of them. When the swim gym opened, coaches and officials from other schools and universities came to take a look and they asked Coach Eliot if the rules permitted glass backboards. He replied that no where in the rules does it state what material should be used for the backboards. And since then, glass and see through backboards are used for all basketball games. The swim gym has been used in several movies.

Beverly Hills High School is probably the most famous of any high school in the country. The name is known everywhere. From an academic standpoint the school has always been superior. As a California Distinguished School, Beverly has consistently made its way in the academic spotlight. Beverly has been awarded the Blue Ribbon School of Excellence by the U.S. Department of Education. This is the highest award an American school can achieve. In order to continue its excellent academic standing, the school has added a new Science and Technology Center which was completed recently. Additionally, the Performing Arts Department has received numerous awards and recognition. The school's newspaper, The Highlights, has won awards in national journalism contests and the school's television station (KBV) has the country's longest running televised high school news program.

The school's Hall of Fame includes several congressman, five Academy Award winners, several Emmy winners, the Chief Justice of the California Supreme Court, mayors and members of the L.A. County Board of Supervisors, two Olympic Gold Medal winners, Chairmen/CEO's of major corporations, outstanding musicians, a prima ballerina, outstanding athletes and many more accomplished graduates. One can access the internet and find a list of many accomplished graduates who attended Beverly. From its founding until the late 60's, the students were almost all Caucasian. Now the school has a diversified enrollment and about 35% of the students were born outside of the United States and 40% speak a first language other than English.

Beverly High has had a great history and because Beverly Hills is a relatively small city, there is much interest by the residents that the high school maintains its high academic standards. Based on past history, that reputation will endure throughout future years.

Classmates from 1946 continue lifelong friendships

Several years ago, Jack Ince S'46 moved from Orange County to Georgetown (adjacent to Austin), Texas as he decided to retire there. Jack is an adventurer and in the years that he has been there he has traveled to some of the most unknown and unheard of places in Texas. He may have heard of a coffee shop a hundred or so miles away that has a phenomenal Mexican menu or someplace that is renowned for its hamburgers or some type of fish stew. He travels over dirt roads and heat and cold. He describes the meals in details via email to his friends. It's amazing that he doesn't carry a stomach pump with him based on his descriptions. Every couple of years, Jack drives to Southern California and after meeting with friends along the way, he makes his way north in California and visits more friends and then he heads back home.

During his recent trip, Conrad Schweitzer S'46 hosted a lunch on May 24th at the Newport Beach Yacht Club and invited some of Jack's friends from high school. The stories and exploits went on for a couple of hours; however, the only distraction was caused by Merwin Koeppel W'46 who was constantly ogling women whom he could view walking toward the beach. The others in attendance were Conrad, Dick Robbins W'46, Merwin Koeppel W'46, Jack Cameron W'46 and Bob Fox W'46. Unfortunately, Don MacKinnon S'46 couldn't make it. Among the attendees, they accumulated 24 letters in various sports activities.

Sterry Fagan, S'45, and his wife, Joann have been together for a long time. As you can see from the picture, Sterry (on the right) has changed a lot since high school. He wants to lose weight and he's been on a coconut and banana diet. He hasn't lost any weight, but boy, he can really climb a tree.

Horace Mann's Class of 1986 relives past

On Aug. 13, more than 20 members of Horace Mann's class of 1986 reunited at the school with their families to relive the days of long ago.

For some, this was the first time back at the school in a quarter-century and the first time talking with former classmates in nearly that long.

As part of the "reunion," HM Principal Steve Kessler '71 led a tour of the school for all to reminisce. Many in the class of 1986 had Kessler as a teacher in Kindergarten, 4th, 5th, and 7th grades.

People came in from all over the world - Chicago, New Orleans, San Francisco, Dallas, and even Hong Kong - to attend.

Alumni from '47 and '48 meet again, reminisce

BHHS friends from the classes of '47 and '48 met at the Canyons Restaurant at the Crossings Golf Club in Carlsbad on Monday, Oct. 3, 2011.

PHOTOS FOR THE HIGHLIGHTS

Many of you send in photos for the Alumni Highlights. Often pictures are sent on paper or the pictures are so small that it is difficult to discern the persons in the picture.

We publish as many pictures as possible and there are quite a few in this year's publication. In the future when sending us photos try to make them large enough and with enough lighting and contrast in order that they will reproduce properly.

Also, when sending in pictures of groups, it is important to name all of the persons in the picture by row and from left to right. We have received several group photos of families with only the name of the alum on the back of the picture. Please try to write legibly. We want to publish as many as possible.

have learned a great deal from working with Bob in the last 12 years that I have been on the board and we thank him again for his service.

Don't forget that you graduated from the greatest and most famous high school in the country—probably the world. We greatly need your continued financial support as we help take our alma mater to even higher places. So if you enjoy receiving your Alumni Highlights every year, please consider making a contribution today. Until next time my friends, Go Normans!

Lois Mullins Rafferty S' 31 is living in Santa Paula and is now 97 years of age – still driving and playing bridge (publisher's note – her handwriting is beautiful). Lois tells us that she went to UCLA where she was an Alpha Phi and met her husband, Tom Rafferty there (he was President of his fraternity), and they were married in 1937. They moved to Santa Paula where the Rafferty ranch was located. Tom entered the U.S. Army during WWII and was an officer for 25 years. Lois has two daughters. Lois would enjoy hearing from other alums who were at Beverly when she was there. She can be reached at Ms. Lois M. Rafferty, 643 Dana Dr., Santa Paula, CA 93060.

Louis Kolb, Col. USAF, Ret. '32 Louis and Margaret Ecksteid, also a BHHS graduate, were married in 1941 in Boise, ID, the site of his first military assignment as a commissioned officer. She had a great cruise to the Mexican Riviera last October and hopes to do another one this year.

Betty Lee Duncan Mott '36 Betty Lee and Elaine Otter Leventhal (S'35) celebrated Betty Lee's 94th

George Washington's birthday at a high tea at the Tudor House in Santa Monica. (See photo on page 21.) They are the remaining pair from a group of BHHS girl students who lunched often for over 60 years.

Lynnette Greenbaum Briskin '36 Lynnette is still living in Marina Del Rey, and is proud of the fact that her three children graduated from BHHS as did her five grandchildren. Her daughter, Jerelyn is a retired teacher who now lives in Portland, OR; son, Jeffrey, is a practicing lawyer in the Valley; son, Donald, is a professor at the University of Illinois in Champaign, IL. All agree they had a wonderful education at BHHS.

Lee Stanley W'38 Lee reflects at the age of 92 on the basic education starting with Horace Mann, El Rodeo, BHHS and the path that allowed him to achieve the dream of one day earning his "Wings of Gold" at NAS Pensacola and his 22 years serving as a Naval Aviator. Then at 85 reaching the final dream of creating a monument, The Distinguished Flying Cross 'Wall of Honor,' dedicated on 11/11/06 at the Palm Springs Air Museum. He also started 'The DFC Desert Fliers Command,' an organization of which all members have earned the DFC. After the dedication of 'The DFC Missing Man Monument' (11/11/08) and the monument titled 'Freedom' (11/11/10) dedicated at the P.S. Air Museum as a tribute to all Veterans, they were entered into the Congressional Record by Rep. Mary Bono Mack. All monuments can be viewed on www.dfcommand.com and www.airmedal.org.

Virginia Edington Grisct '38 Virginia will be 91 this September 22nd. After graduating she joined the Waves during WWII. Afterwards she attended UCLA and met her husband, Merle Grisct. She became a substitute elementary school teacher and raised three children in the San Fernando Valley. She and Merle moved to NH in 1996 to be near their grandchildren. He passed away in 2001. She sometimes reflects on her high school days and wonders what Betty White (publisher's note: Betty White is doing more than she as ever done) is doing

John Mackay S'38 John and his beloved wife, Ellen, are celebrating their 70th wedding anniversary this year.

Charlotte von Wymetal Anderson '39 Charlotte just survived a minor earthquake and a major hurricane (Irene) and is happy to report that they toughed it out and are ok again. But she confesses amusement at the near-hysterical reaction in the Wayne, PA parts to a medium-sized tremor that we Californians would have shrugged off and just gone back to work!

Gregory Kelly '39 Gregory would like to get in touch with Jack and Jane Herbert ('38) and can be reached at 310-456-3603.

Camille Allen Knickerbocker '39 Camille has been married to her husband Knick for 59 years and they are glad to still be alive. They still live in Santa Rosa and love it. They now have six children, 13 grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren.

She's sad to report that her sister, Pat Bless, passed away this year in Palm Springs.

1940

Winifred Wood Willardson Badger W'40 Winifred enjoys

reading the Highlights and is appreciative of the work that goes into it. She sees her sister two or three times a week and they both love the time they had at BHHS and Beverly Hills. She also keeps in touch with her former brother-in-law, Max Willardson S'41 who lives in Valencia, CA. Winifred and her husband had five children and were married 30 years. She and George Badger now share nine children, 35 grandchildren and 37 great-grandchildren.

Evaline DieKemper W'40 Evaline and her group of BHHS alumni meet for lunch a few times a year in Palm Springs. They were saddened by the passing of Pat Bloss Patterson (S'40). She enjoys receiving the Highlights each year, as it's nice to know what everyone is doing.

passed her 91st birthday and is still painting and gardening. She has been sober 52 years and thanks

God for AA. So, all is well in Cathedral City.

Robert Wolff W'40 Robert took a river trip through Europe last year and saw some towns he hadn't seen since '43 when he flew over them. He saw Beverly High a while ago and finds that it still looks good after 72 years.

Morton Slater S'40 Morton was Class President when at BHHS. He has resided in Atherton, CA the last 40 years, and has been a school board member in Delano Unified, a member of Kern County Board of Supervisors, and a member of Cal State President's Advisory Board San Francisco State.

Richard Chandlee W'41 Richard is remembering... but it's slowly.

Ariel Klein Compton-Cruce '41 Ariel's years at BHHS were a bright light in her life. Mr. Williams, her wonderful biology teacher, gave her the start on a path that led to a biology major at Stanford, followed by a medical degree in 1951. Subsequently, she became a psychiatrist in 1974 and was a therapist for 30 years. At this time she is retired and working on a couples therapy book and would love to talk with anyone who might be interested. Long ago Don Polhemus sent her a photo of herself and she would like to contact him to thank him. She can be reached at acomptoncruce@roadrunner.com.

Peter Duffy S'41 Peter is happy to read that his fellow "baseballer" at UCLA, Frank Mankiewicz, is semi-retired and playing tennis. Peter is fully retired from law, and is playing golf, occasionally shooting his age or better. He is interested in having a "Jocks" gathering in the Valley. If anyone is interested, he can be reached at 707-938-2464.

Carol Jean Moses Grant S'41 Carol is in touch with Jeannette Pierson Herron, Betty Lou Fladigan, and Rhonda Fleming (Marilyn Lewis). She is sorry to say that Natalie Herron Titcomb passed away December 12, 2011. The Highlights are the highlight of her day when it comes. Giving up driving is the pits, but her loyal friends and family cart her around, so she isn't homebound, thank heavens.

Betty Hughes Fladager '41 Betty still lives in Bellevue, WA and is enjoying good health. She will be 88 years old in September and is still wondering where the years have gone. She has so many fond memories of classmates at BHHS, and still keeps in touch with two or three of them. She still misses California and the nice weather and totally dislikes the rain. She lives alone in her condo with her cat Lucky. Her son and daughter are doing well. She sends fondest best wishes to all.

Robert Jones S'41 Robert asks for no sympathy about Betty's A.D. She is still mobile and went on the cruise to Tahiti which she loved, as well as all the free wine aboard the Paul Gauguin. They met and had a nice talk with Jean-Michel Cousteau. Robert had dived with his dad, Jacques Cousteau, years ago.

Marjorie Seyring Lovett S'41 Marjorie and Sam are still ministering for the Lord. Retirement is not in their vocabulary; however, they have slowed down and are not as active. They just celebrated 61 years in the ministry and when you read this, 70 years of marriage. Their children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren are such a wonderful blessing, joy, and help to them. She appreciates the Highlights --- good job!

Barbara Wright Macgowan '41 Barbara is still married to Peter Macgowan (Harvard '42, USAF 1942-1947); Harvard Graduate School of Design, 1951, AIA emeritus. They have been married 64 years. They live in the house he designed 52 years ago overlooking San Francisco Bay. Their three children were born and raised there. Their son Paul died in 1986. Their son Bruce, age 59, is a successful radio and print sports journalist. Daughter Becky is a chef. Barbara has a teaching credential from Dominican College; an M.A. in teaching ESL from San Francisco State; a B.A. in Poli Sci from UCLA where she was an Alpha Phi. During WWII she was an enlisted Wave in the US Navy stationed in Seattle, WA as an aircraft control tower operator. Life is beautiful and she remembers BHHS with great affection.

Frank Mankiewicz S'41 Frank is still semi-retired, semi-working. His memoir is nearly complete. His wife, Patricia O'Brien (nom de plume Kate Alcott) is a successful novelist and his sons are active in TV. His hip replacement went perfectly and he had a speedy and total recovery.

Mary Osgood Mayor S'41 Mary enjoyed receiving and reading the annual Alumni Highlights and felt that as always it was well put together. She especially enjoyed news of her 1941 classmates, some of whom took the journey with her from Beverly Vista kindergarten through BHHS and graduation. Some didn't return home from WWII and they have been missed. One of her S'41 classmates, Jim Jackson, passed on May 2011. He had been a doctor of Physics at UCLA and later retired to his home in Tehachapi, CA. He is survived by three step-children.

Carolyn Roos Olsen S'41 Carolyn is still having fun promoting her books! She is still in Newport Beach, still boating, and still a merry widow!

Don Polhemus '41 Don is glad to report that he is in reasonably good health, and his mind seems unimpaired. Or, at least his friends tell him so. He is active with the Emeritus portion of their local college in Novato, CA; belongs to two Great Books Discussion groups; and, other clubs and activities. If his class had a 70th, he missed it although he does communicate with a few of his '41 classmates. Don hopes to see more of them at their 80th.

Jeanne Spratlen Rodman '41 Jeanne's husband Bob passed away April, 2011. They were married 67 years. She is now living in a retirement home and has fond memories of BHHS.

On his 88th birthday he went in with his great-granddaughter Reece, who is 12. Uku, the bartender, gallantly whipped up a huge Shirley Temple for Reece full of cracked ice, fruit, mint leaves and a parasol which she was not allowed to drink in the bar. Standing on the sidewalk outside holding a scotch, now Ritchie had a problem. Drinking on the street is against the law. Shopkeepers rat you out to the cops. Big fine! much to his surprise there are two other Beverly High alumni living there: Peggy Parsons Wilson, S'42 and Joyce Larres Donna, S'46. If a few more alumni move in he could promote an Orange and White Ball at the Varenna, the winner of the finest retirement home in the U.S.

Morrie Greenberg S'45 transferred from Roosevelt High in Boyle Heights to Beverly his senior year in the fall of 1944.

Morrie was an excellent basketball player and became the first string center on the varsity basketball team. Leaving Boyle Heights and moving to Beverly Hills was a culture shock as he didn't realize that Yiddish wasn't the primary language at Beverly as it had been in Boyle Heights. However, he adjusted quickly and did so without taking a course in remedial English. Barbara Ann Jeffries Hall '46 Barbara's second book, "The Covina Valley Citrus Industry", for Arcadia Publishing is doing very well. She is busy writing the history panels for the new Covina Heritage Park and researching new evidence about one of Covina's founding families who have turned out to be the Badillas, not the Badillos. She will enjoy the annual gathering at Ann McGhee Zink's home in Palm Desert.

Frank Drew S'48 Frank sends greetings from Austin, TX. He is one of BHHS's most grateful alums and at 81 years old, doing just fine. His biggest joys are a magnificent wife, great children, wonderful grand-children and tolerable health. Beverly High was a great launch pad to the good life, and this note is a paean to her and to old friends --- Frank, Bob, Art, Tom, Fred and many others. It is also a plea to a financially strapped association to keep up its wonderful, annual re-connecting through The Highlights. Frank read, as did everyone, the note from Robert Fox saying The Highlights is in danger and running a little short. He learned he wasn't the only lucky Norman who forgets to send in dues. So, after Frank wrote his first check ever (and added a little to help keep this wonderful enterprise afloat,) he decided to add his plea to Robert's. This is it. Plainly, simply, write a check - any time - if you haven't already done so. It feels good. He is looking forward to many more Highlights and the 70th reunion.

Marianne Bartok Lindsay '49 Marianne enjoyed reading about the illustrious alumni and about her classmates in the last issue of Highlights. they celebrated her big birthday on a cruise out of Singapore, Saigon, Hong Kong, with a final stop in Shanghai! Betsy, who still serves on the BHHS Alumni Association, encourages all of the alums to financially contribute to The Highlights, the scholarship program, and the Hall of Fame awards. Conrad ('46) and Diane Schweitzer hosted a dinner overlooking Newport Bay. During the course of the evening, it turned out that both couples used the same dermatologist, Dr. Dore Gilbert '68. Mort Gerson '51 Mort didn't do anything significant in 2011 other than traveling and getting older. It's disappointing to read that 17,500 alums receive the Highlights but don't contribute.

Art Stauffer '51 Art and his wife, Peggy ('52), had a wonderful Rotary trip to Brazil, including Sao Paulo, Rio, the Pantanal, and Iguassu Falls. Magnificent! They thoroughly enjoyed reminiscing with their classmates at the Corsair/Marcon reunion and then at the 1951 class reunion. Considering it's been 60 years since graduation, they all thought they still looked darn good. They are grateful in these tough economic times that their two sons who run the Digital Foundry continue getting clients needing specialized software design. Their daughter Wendy who owns Villa Sumaya, a yoga retreat center in Lake Atitlan, Guatemala, is still hanging in after two major hurricane challenges. She has picked up the pieces and hopes that her two girls can continue the business in their adult years. It's a beautiful place tucked into a mountainside on a gorgeous lake facing three volcanoes.

He is a retired private investigator agency owner, after 40 years in the business. He and his wife spend a lot of time traveling. Bobbie Fromberg '53 Bobbie had health issues in 2011, as well as flooding of her condo from her upstairs neighbor's ice maker. Having to rebuild an entire kitchen, dining room and a half of a living room did not help her well being. The good news is her children are doing well and happy and three of her five grandchildren are in college; one in graduate school and by September, there will be a fourth. She is still a rabid Los Angeles Lakers fan, enjoying the games with her companion of six years. It is very rewarding meeting the community and helping people recycle their books.

of collecting from five generations of family, friends, neighbors, and clippings from several classmates, as well as many other BHHS graduates from other years. In the picture above, Barbara appears (left) with a copy of the book and Joanna Stingray '78. She sold 227 copies in less than four weeks. Helping to edit the book was classmate Sherry Rappaport Elkin who, unfortunately, passed away a few months after the book's completion. Barbara misses her dearly. Valerie Suzanne Kay '54 Valerie is working with the Western Region Director of B'nai Zion Foundation raising funds that would enable B'nai Zion to quickly construct an underground emergency room for its hospital in Haifa, Israel. During the last Lebanon War, the hospital was bombed and there was no safe place to care for the wounded because the entire hospital had been built above ground making it an easy target. Valerie can be reached at vskay613@aol.com. this May. He is unhappy he could ski only 65 days because the snow disappeared before the end of the season!

Howard Fabrick '56 Howard and Myrna had a big year in 2011. They decided to sell their Lake Arrowhead vacation home of 20 years and bought a new home in Palm Desert where they plan to divide their time between the desert and Marina Del Rey. Howard also decided not to retire from the practice of law. He withdrew as a partner at the Akin Gump firm as of December 31st, and he joined Barnes & Thornburg as a partner effective January 1st where he hopes to be able to work a reduced schedule for the next several years.

Dave Friedman '56 Dave is still going strong doing what he loves and does best. His upcoming photo assignments will take him to Germany, Spain, Malta, UK, and East Africa in 2013.

John Gordean '56 John often wonders if he chose the right path oh so many years ago. He enjoyed the pine covered Tehachapi Mountains and his endeavors to learn the sheep business. (He still counts sheep at night.) His wife, Maria, has spent 27 years working with convicts at the state prison. She brings home many interesting tales. John and Maria have three grandchildren and they keep them busy. He has kept in touch with some of his old cohorts (Brad Part, Bob Kulick, Tony Sokol) and many other wonderful pals from the past.

Bennett Kerns '56 Bennett is still alive and kicking and practicing law in Santa Monica.

Barbara Jo Kirshbaum '56 Barbara wants to thank everyone for their support in 2011 in the fight against breast cancer, and would like to give you an overview of her year as a fundraiser/walker. This year, every step she took was honoring Bob's memory by doing as he asked her to do: "keep walking and raise money."

It may sound like bragging, but at 73 years old she is proud of the many, many steps she took (12,539,848 to be exact); and the fact that she has raised $1,373,017 since 1998. Her goal is to surpass $1.5m next year. She thanks you (her heroes) on behalf of the two million survivors of breast cancer for making a difference. She can be reached at bjkcnslr@aol.com.

He flew in from New York and was accompanied by Connie King, class beauty queen. Reunion organizers included Joan Kline Yeoman, Roberta Jarvis Walley, and Sherrie Newman.

Harvey Pine '56 Harvey Pine and his wife, Anita, continue to enjoy retirement in Sandpoint, Idaho. His main hobby is writing. He doesn't sell anything for money, but trades his novel for the product of other's craft hobbies. He maintains a "Labor of Love Museum" and says there is always room for another item! His present goal is to see his plays staged! For more info on him, check the web sites: www.sandpoint.net/pineproductions/home and <http://pineproductions.blogspot.com>.

She also enjoyed her class mini reunion last June while in L.A. for her third grandson's high school graduation. She is planning to bike from Salzburg to Prague in May 2012.

Joan Kline Yeoman '56 Joan's class celebrated another reunion in June 2011. Marty and Charlene Krell have always been so generous with their home and this year was no different. However, it was different because they now live on a ranch in the Santa Clarita area. They had a real hoedown with barbecue and Susan Wertheimer's son played country music. The party was such fun even Marty's horse attended. Joan is still "Keeper of the List," and she hopes she has everyone's information up to date. Let her know at jyeoman11@aol.com. Till the next big bash, stay well and keep in touch.

Times. He is still practicing law full time and has a lovely wife, Susan; a married son, Derek, and his daughter, Jamie, is in her junior year at the University of Colorado in Boulder.

Dennis Livingston '57 Dennis has had a revue of his cabaret songs running during October-November 2011 at the Metropolitan Room in New York City. The show is titled: "The Stories In My Mind: The Songs of Dennis Livingston" and features a cast of five New York cabaret singers presenting 14 of Dennis' songs. His material may be heard on his website, www.dennislivingston.com.

Aimee Brown Price '57 Aimee has been married 46 years to Monroe E. Price, has three grown sons, three lovely daughters-in-law, and six adorable (really) grandchildren. The past two years have been hugely fulfilling as she continues to teach and write art history. The book she worked on for two score years about the French artist Chavannes was published by Yale University Press, 2010. Pierre Puvis de Chavannes, Vol I, The Artist and His Art, Vol II, A Catalogue Raisonne of the Painted Work received the George Wittenborn second prize for the best art book of 2010; and, she has just received word from the French Minister of Culture that she has been made a Chevalier in Arts and Letters of the nation. She sends her best to her former classmates and friends and would love to hear from them at a.brownprice@gmail.com.

Betty Porter Bagdasarian '58 Betty always looks forward to her lunch dates with her high school girlfriends: Linda Swarzman, Alice Blair Simmons, and Joy Tyre Coburn.

Richard Cohn '58 Richard sends greetings to all his old classmates. The family is stable at 14, which includes five grandkids between him and his wife, Susan Cooper, the artist. He has chucked retirement and gone back to work at the Denver VA Hospital Mental Health Outpatient Clinic. It means a lot to him to be able to serve our vets. His acting career is "launched" with a non-speaking, walk on role in a local theatre production of "A View from the Bridge." He's taking acting classes and auditioning for roles has been a lot of fun.

Howard Franklin '58 Howard was able to reconnect with a fellow classmate, Cliff Nefky, on a recent trip to L.A. He and Cliff were previously classmates at Beverly Vista School, and it was most meaningful to share memories from BV all the way through BHHS. He hadn't seen Cliff in almost 50 years, and it was a great joy to catch up and meet his lovely wife, Josephine ('61), and introduce Howard's lovely wife, Linda, to them. They are now keeping in close touch and hope to share a riverboat tour in France in 2013. On a sad note, Howard is grieving the loss of his oldest friend, Noel Horwin ('58), who passed away this past New Year's Eve. No words can express how much he will be missed by him and many, many others.

Steve Glaseman '58 Steve and Mary Jayne have been retired for ten years, and live in a small village at 6000 feet in the California mountains. The obvious benefits include four seasons, clear air, beautiful pine and oak forests, dark skies, and quiet. Being an hour's drive from a proper supermarket – not a benefit, but worth it. They will celebrate their 51st wedding anniversary this year with their children and grandchildren. As many have observed, one seems busier during retirement than before, but in their spare time both Steve and MJ volunteer for the local sheriff's department, and are also members of their community's emergency response team. Such training is, of course, a bit self-serving: they live in the middle of a forest, and only a couple of miles from the San Andreas fault. Steve and MJ have remained in touch all these years with several old friends from BHHS and, a few years ago, had a great time at the 50th reunion of the class of '58.

Nancy Bryson Helgans '58 Nancy lives in New York and feels so removed from BHHS; however, she loves getting the Highlights and catching up on news.

Emory Josephs '58 Emory and his wife Anna are retired. They have lived in the Tarzana hills for 35 years and have no intention of moving. They travel at least once a year to Rio de Janeiro (Leblon) where his wife's family lives. They also like Western Europe and go as often as possible. He still consults for the L.A. Unified School District and takes on temporary administrative assignments from time to time. He is still in touch with Susan Kahn Ansen, Nancy Koopman Rutter, Bill Marks, Jim Ach and Burt Rosenberg. If he's lucky, he sees Rochelle Robbins (Cohen) and Linda Ezor (Swarzman) from time to time. He can only think fondly of his years in high school, even if they weren't always wonderful. He's thankful for the present and sometimes he grows nostalgic for the past, but not too often.

Cliff Landy '58 Cliff and Nancy are enjoying their joint retirements. They regularly visit their daughter, son-in-law and two grandsons in San Diego. They also see their son, daughter-in-law and granddaughter in Simi Valley. They have both come to the conclusion that having grandchildren is a blessing that has no comparison. He is sad to say that his brother, Errol Landy ('62) passed away after a long illness. On a happier note, they both hope that everyone is enjoying their lives as much as they are.

Jack Morgan '58 Jack's son, Russ, his wife, two small children and two Pekinese dogs moved to his new job in Tokyo, Japan working as a contractor for the U.S. government for the Air Force. Marcia Ross O'Neill '58 Marcia and her husband, John, are still living in Pleasanton, CA and have been married 47 years. John has been retired about 18 years and she is continuing to enjoy working with preschool age children. They have five grandkids ranging in age from 4 to 18 years. Marcia feels fortunate to keep in touch with a few friends from BHHS.

Jackie Nathan Rosenson '58

Jackie is retired after enjoying several careers and, humbly, raising two extraordinary daughters. Sadly, she has been widowed for three years, but has lasting, loving memories. It's a new chapter, but with the same tennis, travel, and tenacity from the "other" life. She looks forward to reconnecting with her amazing classmates in 2013 when, hopefully, they will come together again in good health and joyfulness.

Linda Ezor Swarzman '58 Linda and her husband, Judd, had a difficult past year. In April 2011 their eldest son, Jim, was killed by a hit-and-run driver while he was partaking in a long-distance bicycling event. The following month in May, Judd and she celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary, a bittersweet occasion following the loss of their son. They have been blessed with the loving support of friends and family and are doing their best to move on from the tragedy. At the urging of Jim's clients and employees, she is continuing his auto brokerage business known as XLNT Auto Sales and Leasing. Following the sale of her candy business, Beverly Hills Confection Collection in 2004, she worked for her son at XLNT and is now enjoying the opportunity to carry on his legacy of customer care and service. At age 71 it's much more fun than being retired! Linda is looking forward to her 55th Class Reunion coming in 2013 and hopes for a wonderful turnout of classmates.

Linda Gilbert Thieben '58 Linda lives in West Hollywood and her kids live in Oregon and Northern California. She has been busy traveling to Turkey, Vietnam, Cambodia, Chile, Argentina, and Brazil. Linda is doing pro bono advising with small non-profits regarding fundraising programs.

His twin grandchildren graduated from high school and the granddaughter is off to college while the grandson is joining the Air Force. Bob has been elected president of the Las Vegas chapter of Jewish National Fund, and as president of the Southern Chapter of the Nevada Society of Enrolled Agents. His business has continued to grow; his wife is extremely successful; they travel as often as possible, and feel life is wonderful.

Baret Fink '59 Baret did not move far from BHHS as he practices law in Century City. He enjoys long weekends at his second home at Lake Isabella.

Steven Kaplan '59 Steven is living, thank God, with three homes and five grandchildren. The oldest is getting ready for college.

Bob Kay '59 Bob is doing well and feeling lucky to have turned 70, and although it definitely beats the alternative, it's a little weird psychologically. His daughter Emily is celebrating 20 years since she opened Fancy Feet Dance Studio in the Palisades. He is Papa Bob to hers and Michael's three daughters. Son Benjamin just bought his first condo in Santa Monica a block and a half from his surfing with an easy walk to Santa Monica High School where he teaches Marine Biology. Bob's wife of 41 years, Fay, still plays and performs on the piano, has health issues, but has a great and feisty spirit. Him? He's just "3-chord Bob" with a new title:

“Chairman of the Porch.”

Marsha Kerns '59 Marsha just returned from Israel where she visited her son and family who made aliyah in the Golan Heights six months ago. Her other two sons and their families live close to her. She is active with travel, work, bridge and family.

Stan Levy '59 Stan made the BHHS Hall of Fame and has been married to Linda Ross Levy 49 years. They have three sons and six grandchildren.

N. Paul Rosenthal '59 Paul is trying to move to semi-retirement mode. He is still doing some neurology. He and Margaret have been married 48 years. Their kids are fine and their 14 grandchildren leave them little free time. They are still living in Tarzana and have a vacation home in Hailey, ID where they hope to be more often. With cousins in Israel, Hungary, Sweden, France, Australia, Argentina and all over the USA they hope to continue their travels. He sends best wishes to the class of '59 and is looking forward to their next get together.

Jerry Sax '59 Jerry is still traveling!

His photography can be viewed at www.praisephotography.com.

Valerie Byron '61 Valerie emigrated to California from England at the age of 12. At the age of 16 she returned to England, eventually landing an exciting job at the newly emerging Granada Television in Manchester. Upon returning to California in 1969 she worked for CMA (now ICM) and also worked for Peter Bart (Daily Variety) when he was a motion picture producer. In 2001, after many years of marriage and two grown children, she started life again – alone. In 2008 Valerie found her niche as a writer and proceeded to write her autobiography, “No Ordinary Woman,” which was picked up by a London publisher and can be found on Amazon.com along with her anthology of short stories. Recently retired, Valerie moderates two popular book forums, edits work for budding authors, and is enjoying the success her writing has reaped. Her work can be found at <http://www.amazon.com/-/eB003WEB1U>.

Anne Rosenwald Epstein '61 Anne's class celebrated a very successful 50th year reunion over the weekend of August 26-28, 2011. Elementary school gatherings were held on Friday evening of that weekend, with the actual reunion being held at the UCLA Faculty Center on Saturday evening. A casual picnic at Roxbury Park was the closing activity. On to the 55th!

Barbara Schneiderman George '61 Barbara and her husband Ron have three sons who are all graduates of Beverly Hills schools.

Her large family now includes two wonderful granddaughters. She is the co-founder and was Chair for five years of the California Music Project, which is dedicated to help restore and strengthen music education in California's public schools. She served as Chair of the California Arts Council for three years of out of the 10 years she was a member of that organization. She was a partner at George & Jacobson Interiors in Los Angeles from 1968 to 1995.

Rita George '61 Rita has been living in beautiful Topanga Canyon close to 40 years now with her professor-poet husband, Philip Daughtry, and their small herd of dachshunds. She is an art restorer of ancient sculpture, primarily from African, Asian, pre-Columbian, and Native American heritage. Casting her own sculpture from clay to bronze is an added pleasure for her. She's looking forward to the reunion.

Judith Miller Laska '61 Judith and her husband, Paul, enjoy life in Playa Vista as well as their condo in Rancho Mirage. They have been married 40 years and spend as much time as possible traveling and spending time with their family. She is very involved in Special Olympics and the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary.

Myna Matlin '61 Myna will be sorry to miss the reunion, but sends a special 'hi' to Roger Matlin who she just found out is a cousin. She is retired now after teaching and being an elementary school principal. Retirement is agreeing with her; and she and her husband Tony Poyner have been traveling and visiting their children and grandchildren. She is active in the National Assistance League that provides underprivileged students with clothing and school supplies.

Geraldine Mund '61 Geraldine has retired, sort of. She kept her cases and is working harder than ever.

Patricia Nickoll '61 Patricia was happy to see so many friends at her 50th reunion. She and John enjoy traveling, especially to their condo in Hawaii where they are spending more and more time. Their children and grandchildren love it too. She just had her sixth hole in one at Bel Air during Women's Team Play.

Kenneth Roth '61 Kenneth is still working, flying, traveling, and loves Arizona.

Sherry Berk Tedeschi '61 Sherry's 50th Reunion lasted 3 days. The Class of '61 is a group that has a propensity to being drawn into a celebratory environment. She and her husband, Bob, spend as much time as possible with their kids and grandkids. Their daughter Denise and son-in-law, Gerald, have blessed them with two kids, and lucky her, they are moving back to California from Massachusetts. Her son, Gary and daughter-in-law, Miyuki, have also blessed them with Kylie (5 years). She and Bob spent time at Camp Pendleton. They delivered “stuff” to the families that have someone deployed. They also bought toys from MATTEL and handed them out to kids of a deployed parent. The experience was very emotional and extremely gratifying. They are still adopting Marines in Afghanistan and will do so till there is no more war! She and Bob are still studying Japanese. As long as she is upright, Sherry will continue to tap dance. Thank goodness for her chiropractor who keeps her on her feet. She is having a great time and loving life.

Lloyd Barton '62 Lloyd (Butch) is looking forward to his 50th in 2012!

Her husband, David Body, is an architect specializing in university sports and recreation centers and currently has projects at the University of Minnesota, the University of Louisville, and UC Riverside.

Gayle Browne Fenton '62

Gayle loves reading the class notes. She has been and continues to be an academic counselor and administrator at Cal State Long Beach for 25 years. What has been happening to education from K-12 to all of the UC's is nothing less than disastrous! California has gone from one of the top states in the country to educate their populace that led to California's greatness to one of the lowest state supported educational systems in the country. Very few children have the opportunity to attend schools in Beverly Hills, Seal Beach and Irvine to name a few outstanding school districts. Nevertheless, all of our students deserve a good education, and California will never be able to achieve the greatness we used to have if we are unable to provide it.

Peter M. Friedman '62 Peter and his family had a great 2011! He and Rose will celebrate their 5th year together and life with her gets better and better. Daughter Stephanie

(MBA) is a Manager of the Quivira Winery in Healdsburg. Older son, David is now the co-Captain on the Clif Bar corporate jet having spent the last two years as a pilot for the CA-DFG. He has three kids, Mikey, Jonathan, and Katelyn. Peter's younger son, Brian, is a junior at Chico State and wants to attend law school. Peter is still in the aircraft business and has been since 1965. In 2011 he started a business in defensive handgun firearm training putting his prior experience in the Navy and law enforcement to good use. If you are interested, look up www.friedmanhandguntraining.com. He is also lecturing on the Napoleonic Era and the Threat of Islam to America on his website, www.islamthreat.com. He's looking forward to his 50th reunion.

DeeDee Hannam Graves '62 DeeDee retired to a new life – playing golf and volunteering in alumnae programs at USC.

Nancy Blumenfeld '63 Nancy keeps in touch with many 1963 graduates and finds it wonderful having a special shared connection. This past year they lost a dear and treasured classmate, Jerry Curland. His words of wisdom will be missed. Nancy's life is very busy. They moved from their Rodeo Drive home of 20 years and moved in with her widowed mother (96 and doing well) for a short three-month stay until they decided their next move. Six years later they are now living in the backyard. The property is large and with her mother's encouragement they built the first modular home in Beverly Hills. All they needed to do was move the pool! The house was built in Spanish Forks, Utah and shipped by trailer to Beverly Hills. It took four months to construct and one day to install. This is the last place on earth she believed they would end up and they love it! Her husband, Eli, is a tax attorney in Beverly Hills. They enjoy traveling and cruising the world. Their children are doing well. Whitney ('96) works for Council Member Bill Rosendahl as his senior urban planner. Kevin ('02) is a film composer and has his studio over the garage. For many years, Nancy has been a HAM radio volunteer at the Beverly Hills Police Department. Don't be surprised if you see her at one of the city's DUI stops!

Gay Hubbard Durward '63

Gay has never been busier or happier. Her sons and their wives are doing well and she loves her five grandchildren. She is traveling, acting, singing, writing, composing and designing and making wearable art. She is celebrating 44 beautiful years with her husband Don and her words of wisdom are to never stop adventuring as surprises keep you young.

Patti Friedman '63 Patti is still grateful for the excellent education she received at BHHS. She teaches English to speakers of other languages at the Berlitz Language Center. She and her husband Peter have travelled to many countries inspired by the encounters with her students. Patti and Peter have three children: Marc, a broadcaster at Fox Soccer Channel, Michelle, a senior consultant at Deloitte, and Julia, an anesthesia resident at Brigham and Women's Hospital. No grandchildren yet, but she is determined to live to see them. Life in the Washington, D.C. area is good.

Lois Meshekow Kalinsky '63

Lois' retirement continues to be a very busy time. Her husband and she care for their two young granddaughters while their daughter teaches kindergarten. Their older daughter, who lives in Toronto, gave them a third granddaughter in June. Her only grandson turned two in July. The whole family went to Toronto to celebrate. Her summer 2011 travels took them on a cruise from Greece to Turkey, Israel, Egypt, Croatia, and Italy.

Peter Rosenwald '63 Peter retired as a librarian for the County of Los Angeles Public Library after 26 years of service. He is currently involved with local politics and organizations, including: The Gray Panthers of Long Beach, the Long Beach Immigrant Rights Coalition, FACTS (Families to Amend California's Three Strikes) and LAANE (Los Angeles Alliance for a New Economy.)

Eric Snow '63 Eric is fully retired and living in Las Vegas with his wife (Marguerite) of 43 years. Their son and daughter both live and work in Las Vegas; his son works for Metro PD, and his daughter is a high school teacher in the Clark County School District. Leland Faust '64 Leland sold his business (CSI Capital Management) in 2011 to Suntrust Bank. He has a three year consulting contract. In June 2011 he placed first in his age group in the Escape from Alcatraz Triathlon. In October last year, he and Susan became first time grandparents when Benjamin Faust was born to their son Aaron and his wife Blye. The International Orange Chorale, a group founded and directed by their son, Jeremy, received an award from ASCAP for innovative music. By the time you read this he will have completed medical school in New York.

David Fritschi '64 David has done well and spends time both in Glen Ellen, CA and out of the U.S. He feels he received a good education at BHHS.

Trudi Oestreicher Green '64 Trudi has done a lot of traveling lately, but the absolute best trip was going back to London last June for the arrival of their first granddaughter, Freya. They also have Zac, their 12 year old grandson. Freya is a delight and now has almost as many shoes as her grandma! Trudi and her husband, Victor, reside half the year in London and the other half in Los Angeles. Their travels have included exhausting the wonderful and beautiful city of Prague, three weeks in Morocco (the first week with four other couples sharing a villa in Marrakesh). However, the true beauty of this country to her was strolling through the souks in Fez, meandering around Meknes streets and stumbling upon ancient gates, burial sites, palaces and restaurants! Scary thrills were provided by their driver over the Atlas Mountains. They also enjoyed 10 days in Barcelona and Madrid. And, throughout this past year her husband wrote and published a book: "How to Succeed in Business by Really Trying!"

Marcy Milan '64 Marcy is still living in Tarzana and owns a systems integration company with her two sons, Scott and David. Both are married and between them have given her four wonderful grandchildren, ages 15, 11, 6, and 18 months. Because her children live within 20 minutes of her, it enables her to spend a lot of time with them. She feels fortunate to have been able to maintain her friendships from both Beverly Vista and BHHS. She loves to travel and does so whenever possible. Between work, her sons and grandchildren, her life is never dull. Her 50th reunion is right around the corner and she is looking forward to seeing as many classmates as possible. She can be reached at: marcy@globalstor.com.

Maxine Teller Miluso '64 Maxine and her husband, Allen, have owned Napa Nuts, etc. since 1990. They finally joined the 21st century and now have a website: www.napanuts.com.

Check them out for wholesale pricing to the public. Other bigger, better news is that they finally became grandparents at the end of November 2011 thanks to their son Schecky and their wonderful daughter-in-law, Lara. They expect to make many trips to San Diego. Their daughter, Bonnie, has started working for a great law firm in San Francisco. It's great to have them in the same time zone. Everyone is welcome to visit Maxine and Allen in Napa. Allen loves to give wine tasting tours.

Richard Morgan '64 Richard is president of a multispecialty medical group formed and affiliated with a new division of Palo Alto Medical Foundation after 30 years of practicing internal medicine and pulmonology. This is an exciting and challenging time for the entire healthcare system in the U.S. and he is enthusiastic about being able to participate in this evolving profession locally. He remains in San Mateo with Miriam, who continues as the award-winning food editor of the San Francisco Chronicle. Their son Daniel is leaving his position in San Francisco as Director of Public Affairs for the Israeli Consulate of Pacific Northwest to earn a Master's degree in public policy from Tel Aviv University. Their daughter Joanna received her PsyD in 2010 and recently returned from India, where she worked as a volunteer and travelled for six months. Giants fans after all those years as Dodger fans!)

Marty Nislick '64 Marty sends congratulations to his classmates on making it to their Medicare year. Seems as if they should have a party to celebrate and maybe they could take over the Cedars-Sinai cafeteria. Everyone be well and he's looking forward to 2014.

Richard Quint '64 Richard says that like most of us he pinches himself with disbelief that it is almost 50 years since he graduated from BHHS. Goodness, where did the time go? Now retired from the UCSF faculty, he continues to teach medical students there and at the UC Berkeley School of Public Health. His wife, Julia, and he have two New York grandchildren, so they see them several times a year.

Gail Engler Novack Hoffman and Shari are still very close friends and see each other as often as they can.

Sharon and Bob bought their retirement home in Washington State on the Olympic Peninsula that faces Victoria, Canada. The weather is mild and the views are fantastic. If any of her classmates are in the area, contact them and stop by for a visit. This summer their one and only grandchild is turning 13 years and is having a Bar Mitzvah in Colorado. The firm, co-founded by her husband, Avery M. Cooper and herself, specializes in Family Law, Estate and Trust Administration and Litigation and Estate Planning. She is celebrating her 30th year in practice; however, she still manages to practice her piano at least a couple of hours a month. In her spare time she has been enjoying her new vacation home in Cambria, California and would love to connect with other BHHS alums living in the Central Coast. Frieda enjoys spending time with her two daughters, four year old granddaughter, Zoe, and her mother. This year to balance out the gender overload, Avery and she adopted a male yellow Labrador retriever whom they named Mickey. He is loving, energetic and gives them great joy. She would love to participate in another Class of '67 reunion as she had so much fun at the last two.

Luckily, his skills as an airline Captain are better than his present skill level at playing tennis. He still loves the challenges of aviation and even gets trips into L.A. where he is able to see old friends from BHHS. Both his sons are off at college pursuing their dreams while Dean and wife of 39 years, Linda, learn to stay calm when they get the frequent calls from the young ones, "Don't worry, no one got injured, but..." Wow! When do you ever stop worrying about your kids? Flying in thunderstorms is simple by comparison.

Talented war reporter's life was cut short

Melville Jacoby, '33, died April 29, 1942 alongside Brigadier General Harold George in a random airfield accident in Australia. He was just 25 years old, but his life was packed with more accomplishments than many of us can claim in twice as many years.

Before the attack on Pearl Harbor, Jacoby had lived with a Chinese warlord's son, met Henry Luce and worked as a stringer for Time, Life, the UPI and others. Mel quickly earned respect for his coverage of the undeclared war between Japan and China. He sent radio broadcasts and photos from the nationalists' bombed capital at Chungking (AKA Chongqing); chronicled the exiled Jewish community in Shanghai; profiled Chiang Kai-Shek and Madame Chiang (who gave Mel wedding gifts and sent condolences to his family upon his death); and was arrested by the Japanese on suspicion of espionage. Along the way, Mel earned a masters degree from Stanford. His thesis challenged newspapers' lack of interest in the violence ravaging Asia while breathlessly covering the hostilities looming over Europe.

Amid the onset of war, Mel fell in love with fellow journalist Annalee Whitmore, one of the first female war correspondents. The two married just before Pearl Harbor, cut their honeymoon short in a dramatic escape from Manila in which they leapt from a burning dock onto one of the last boats leaving the city before the Japanese occupation, and proceeded to cover the conflict. When they left the Philippines they traveled slowly, often under the cover of darkness, first to Bataan and then from island to island, risking attack or capture, until they finally made it to Australia a short time before Mel's untimely death.

A Los Angeles native (Jacob

Melville Jacoby '33

Stern, Mel's grandfather, rented out the barn in which Jesse L. Lasky and Cecil B. DeMille launched the studio that would come to be known as Paramount), Mel quickly rose to prominence and respect as a foreign correspondent. Before that, he grew up attending both Selma Avenue elementary and the Hawthorne School, as well as Beverly Hills High.

At BHHS, Mel had been a two-time letterman on the swim team, a member of the Beverly Knights honor society, a Pallidian and the news editor of the school's paper. He went on from Beverly Hills to earn both a B.A. and M.A. from Stanford, where he studied journalism. He also spent a year as an exchange student at Lingnan University, near Canton, in China.

Mel returned multiple times to China. He spent a large amount of time working in Chungking, where he set up a radio link between that besieged city and the U.S. for news broadcasts and contact with officials. Mel worked closely with many well-known reporters of the era, including Theodore White, Carl Mydans and Clark Lee, among others, and he earned the respect of government and military officials as well as everyday people. In addition to Time, Mel's work also appeared in the UPI, the Los Angeles Times Sunday Magazine, the San Francisco Chronicle, Newsweek and elsewhere. When he died, Mel became the first Time reporter killed in the line of duty (indeed, a ship named for Melville Jacoby to honor his contributions later became a private vessel that famously shipwrecked off the Palos Verdes Peninsula).

Now a relative of Mel's who is also a journalist is working to tell Mel's story and describe his adventures as a reporter in China and the Phillipines. Bill Lascher, whose grandmother was Mel's younger cousin, is researching and writing a book and ebook about Mel's life. He invites anyone with interest in Mel's story or with feedback or support to visit www.lascheratlarge.com to learn more about Mel's story (the direct link to info about Mel is www.lascheratlarge.com/melville). Lascher, who is also preparing to digitize Mel's radio broadcasts and share some of his photos and articles, can also be reached by email at bill@lascheratlarge.com or on Twitter at @billlascher for more information.

Former mayor of Arcadia thanks BHHS for success

Edward L. Butterworth, S'32, was president of Beverly Hills High School's Senior Class in 1932. Today, Butterworth is 97 and living with his wife Shirley in Arcadia, a city he served as mayor from 1962-63 and 1970-71.

In addition to his career in public service, Butterworth practiced law after graduating from Stanford University. In World War II, Butterworth served as a lieutenant in the Navy.

In a letter to the Alumni Association, Butterworth wrote, "I look back over my life and think my time at Beverly Hills High School was as much a foundation of my life and career as was my attendance at Stanford."

Butterworth and his wife, whom he met at Stanford University, have five children and "more grandchildren than [they] can count."

While at Beverly, Butterworth was a very active student. In addition to his election as senior class president, he served as homeroom officer twice, worked on the staff of the 1931 Watchtower yearbook, and participated in the World Friendship Council. He was also a Torchbearer, a Knight, chairman of the Debate Team, and an officer of the Hi-Y Club. Twice, he served as the commissioner of student government.

Running with bulls

In high school Chuck Black S'44 ran the high hurdles. Some 67 years later in the summer of 2011, Chuck traveled to Spain and ran with the bulls at Pamplona. Add the numbers, and it is amazing that someone in their 80's would decide to do that and actually accomplish it.

Prior to the bulls being released, Chuck positioned himself not far from the gates leading into the bull ring and he was able to get into the stands while avoiding those angry bulls.

By the way several of the runners were gored. Sometimes the bulls do win. Chuck had a great time and has wonderful stories to tell.

After serving in WWII, he and his pal, Dave Gill S'44, put together a few dollars and toured the world together for a number of months. What was in the water that those young guys in the class of '44 were drinking.

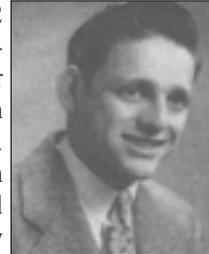

Yes, it was the greatest generation.

Art Lieberman S'44 makes history

On June 17, 2012 Art Lieberman S'44 received his Bachelor of Arts Degree in History from UCLA. Art will be 86 in September and is still sharp of mind, feisty and humorous.

The ceremony for the graduating seniors (and Art was certainly the most senior of any of the graduates) took place at Dixon Court on the UCLA campus at 9 AM. Art was honored at the ceremony for his accomplishment.

Art attended Horace Mann School and graduated from there in 1940 and graduated from Beverly in June of 1944.

Art Lieberman S'44

After high school, Art joined the U.S. Navy in the fall of 1944 during World War II. He toured the Pacific on a small aircraft carrier. After discharge in 1946, Art had a sporadic academic career at LACC and UCLA.

He returned to UCLA in fall 2009 as a history major and with a determination to receive his BA degree. Goal accomplished.

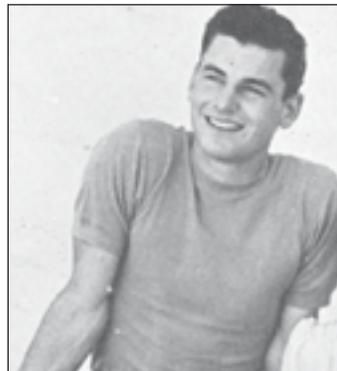

Many of Art's children and grandchildren attended graduation ceremony on June 17th.

Aerospace engineer endowed several scholarships

Allan Harris S'41 was one of those who were named "The Greatest Generation." Allan grew up during the depression; however, during those years, there was a certain degree of carefree youthfulness at Beverly. Students, such as Al went to the movies, had part time jobs, studied and many involved themselves in athletics of various sorts in addition to service to the high school.

In those days congestion did not exist, the ocean was not polluted and if one went to the beach with friends, there was plenty of free parking available on Pacific Coast Highway. There was crime, but there were no gangs and drugs were almost non-existent. And then came World War II on Dec. 7, 1941.

In high school, Allan was student body president, a member of the Knights, Norman Lettermen: he played basketball and first string guard on the varsity basketball team. When he graduated, he had the distinction of being voted Most Likely to Succeed, Most Popular and Best Looking. Also, academically he was a Sealbearer, Ephebian and received the Faculty Scholarship Cup.

In Fall of '41 Allan entered Stanford University. Due to the war, Al became a member of the Army Enlisted Reserve; however, in November, 1943, Al was called up and after boot camp, he was accepted into the infantry school. He then trained new recruits at Camp Roberts, CA. He was finally ordered overseas and was two days from the Philippines when Japan surrendered.

Al went back to Stanford, lettered on the boxing team and received a degree in Industrial Engineering. He began working after graduation and in October, 1950 was called back into the Army as a Rifle Platoon Leader during the Korean War. He was discharged from the Army in 1952.

Al began working in the aerospace industry and moved to Seattle in 1956 where he worked on various systems and components with Boeing during the development of the 707 and other aircraft. In 1958 Allan moved back to Palo Alto where he started his own company representing manufacturers of aerospace components.

In 1959 Allan married Betty Lindsay whom he had met in Seattle. They have a daughter, Lindsay, who became a pilot and also has a son who is 9 years old. Their son, Steele, is an educator and is married and the father of twins, a boy and a girl.

During the 60's with the rapid growth of the Silicon Valley, Allan participated in various real estate investments which enabled Allan and his wife to endow both Engineering and Athletic Scholarships at Stanford. He has served as Chairman of the Engineering Fund and later as Chairman of the Buck/Cardinal Club (fundraising) and a member of the Stanford Athletic Board. For his contributions to Stanford Al has been honored by receiving The Golden Spike Award which is the highest award offered by the Stanford Alumni Association.

In spring of this year Al traveled to Fresno to watch the Stanford Women's Basketball Team play in the regional finals. And later Al traveled to Philadelphia in order to view a Van Gogh exhibit. He remains active and has served as a role model for all who have known him.

Legendary college athlete celebrates 87 years

John Roesch W'43 celebrated his 87th birthday on Feb. 19, 2012 at a surprise party arranged by his daughters Sigi and Heidi.

But first let's talk about John's athletic accomplishments at Beverly and UCLA. John was undoubtedly one of the greatest running back in the history of Beverly. He was shifty, fast and strong. Some said he could run as fast sideways as he could going forward.

He was All League and voted the most valuable player on the team by his teammates on the 1942 team.

At UCLA as a freshman, John was the leading ground gainer for the team as he was in 1944 when he was named All Coast.

His most memorable game was against USC in 1944. In that game with a minute and a half left in the game USC led 13 – 0. UCLA had the ball and

Bob Nate W'43, John Roesch W'43, Oscar Samuelson S'42, and Bob Iverson W'43

Roesch carried three times and was unstoppable and scored. Bob Waterfield missed the conversion and the score was 13 – 6. USC received the ball and through a series of stopped plays and penalties was forced to punt with about 10 seconds left in the game. Jim Hardy, the great USC quarterback, punted and Roesch took the punt with a few seconds on the clock and ran 80 yards through the entire USC team for another touchdown as the clock ran out. Bob Waterfield attempted the point after touchdown and his kick hit the crossbar and rolled over and UCLA tied the game.

The L.A. Times wrote a feature column about the game the next day that took up an entire page. John lettered in football four years at UCLA with a time out while serving in Armed Forces. He was the leading scorer in 1947.

The 87th birthday party was attended by former classmates and teammates of John that included Bob Iverson W'43 (who was the other halfback on the team), Stan Zimmelman W'43, Oscar Samuelson S'42, Bob Nate W'43, Al Lewis W'43, Bob Lewis S'45 and many more friends.

Also in attendance and a speaker was Jim Hardy, the USC quarterback, as in later years, John and Jim became friends.

At Beverly, John was a Knight (the boy's honorary society) and a member of the Norman Letterman. And, now at the age of 87, John still goes to work every day. Many more happy birthdays for John Roesch.

Stanley Levy '59 earns Lifetime Achievement Award

American Lawyer magazine awarded Stanley Levy '59 its American Lawyer's Lifetime Achievement Award for 2011. Levy was recognized for his significant legal practice and decades of innovation and leadership in the provision of pro bono legal services. The prestigious annual award recognizes those who have gone beyond professional success and made exceptional contributions for the betterment of society.

Since 2008, Levy has directed the creation of the Holocaust Survivors Justice Network, a project that delivers reparations to Holocaust victims.

By September of 2011, the national network had “helped over 5,000 applicants receive more than $10 million in one-time reparation payments from the German government,” according to American Lawyer magazine.

“The idea that we are responsible for each other has been an important part of my values, the values of my parents, the values of my religion, the values of my country, and the values of my profession,” says the 69-year-old.

Levy's career has been dominated by public interest work. In 1968, two years after graduating from UCLA Law School, he gave up his nascent private practice to join the Western Center on Law and Poverty, a group that Levy and four other attorneys founded to force systematic change through class actions.

Levy's career has included stints in private practice. At Stein & Kahan, from 1990 to 1992, Levy's practice included representing entertainers in royalty and licensing disputes. Levy's business experience isn't limited to law firms. For three years, beginning in 1979, he ran a record and concert production company that worked with jazz artists such as Nancy Wilson, and from 1992 to 1995 he was general counsel of clothing company Guess?, Inc.

While Levy's jobs have changed over the years, there is one title that has remained the same: rabbi. After graduating from law school, Levy began attending rabbinical school and in 1968 founded the Congregation B'nai Horin—Children of Freedom in Los Angeles. “I founded it for people who wanted a more contemporary, more meaningful, and more spiritual approach to religion,” says Levy, who early on stood out for his willingness to marry interfaith couples and minister to gays and lesbians. Sandor Samuels, Bet Tzedek's president, sums up Levy's varied careers in one word: “mensch.” Samuels says, “Stan is the embodiment of that phrase because he has done so much to seek justice for people who have been denied it.”

Beverly High graduate is first rheumatoid arthritis patient to conquer Mount Everest

After enduring a 10-hour climb in 70 mile-per-hour winds from the final staging area on Mount Everest, 1991 Beverly High graduate Jeffrey Gottfurcht became the first rheumatoid arthritis patient to reach the summit on May 14, 2011.

Though it had taken Gottfurcht weeks to reach the peak at 29,000 feet, he and his guide, Sherpa Danuru, spent only a few minutes at the summit. Gottfurcht had temporarily lost vision in his left eye due to the freezing, windy conditions. Gottfurcht could not risk losing vision in his right eye, since he still had a 3,000-foot climb back down to camp, which ended up taking 15 hours.

"As I got to the top, I had surrendered to my fate," Gottfurcht said. "I didn't know if I was going to die; I didn't know if I was going to make it to the top. The point is I surrendered to what was going to happen, which enabled me to climb freely."

Gottfurcht may not have anticipated temporary loss of vision, but he expected significant challenges during the climb due to his RA, which he said affects his knees, hips and wrists the most. He managed his joint pain with over-the-counter medication Nyloxin, which sponsored Gottfurcht's climb.

"In order for me to offset having RA and what that does to my knees, I had to train especially [hard at] something that I could control, [which was] my lungs and my heart," Gottfurcht said. "Obviously when you're climbing at those altitudes, while your legs are important, what's equally important is your ability to pump blood with less oxygen."

Gottfurcht found he was able to do that very well. In addition, he said he was grateful his RA did not flare up during the expedition. That was not the case in 2010, when Gottfurcht made his first attempt at climbing Mount Everest. At Camp 2, Gottfurcht was about 8,000 feet below the summit when he decided to turn back.

"My wife and I had made a pact that if I didn't feel good that I could go back a second time," Gottfurcht said. "I knew when I was up on Everest I wasn't feeling good. If I had kept going I probably would have met my demise. I prudently made the decision. It was one of the hardest decisions I've ever made in my life, but you don't want to expend your strength prematurely on something that's not yet ripe."

Gottfurcht said it took him seven years of training to achieve his goal. When he was first diagnosed with RA at age 28, he said it was debilitating as well as difficult for him to accept because he had been an active surfer, hiker and climber since childhood. Gottfurcht said it was the birth of his first child that inspired him to go for his dream of climbing Mount Everest, because he wanted to motivate his children to set lofty goals.

Though Gottfurcht lives with his wife and three children in San Francisco, where he trains, he said he is in Beverly Hills three times a week at The Jeffrey Gottfurcht Children's Arthritis Foundation, which he founded two years ago with encouragement from his father John Gottfurcht. The foundation is devoted to enriching the lives of children with arthritis by introducing them to a hero, sending them to college, or simply giving them the latest iPod or gaming system.

Three of Gottfurcht's Beverly High classmates sit on the foundation's Dream Board, a group of influential physicians, celebrities and corporate executives that help create new opportunities for the foundation.

Class of '45 graduate continues to practice law

At the age of 84, Marshall (Richard) Schulman, S'45, continues to practice law as a criminal defense attorney in San Francisco. Many of the cases are court-appointed and "very rough," he says, but he loves it and will never retire as long as he can try cases competently.

When Richard Schulman, was drafted by the U.S. Army in 1945, he found out his first name was Marshall, not Richard. When he returned from his service in World War II, he went to college, attending L.A. City College, UCLA and Loyola Law School.

In 1953, he began practicing law at the district attorneys office in Los Angeles, eventually becoming a senior trial attorney and successfully prosecuting many high-profile cases including "The Onion Field" case, which was later made into a novel and movie. The case involved the kidnapping of two LAPD officers and the murder of one.

While working at the district attorney's office, Schulman worked with Sterry Fagan W'45, who was also a deputy district attorney and later became an superior court judge for L.A. County.

Today, Schulman lives with his wife in San Francisco. They have two children and four grandchildren. He looks forward to a 65th reunion of the Class of '45.

Successful prosecutor relishes role of mother

Michelle McGinnis '88 has been a criminal prosecutor in Los Angeles for more than 15 years, but she says she considers becoming a mother her greatest achievement.

"I now understand the meaning of having my heart walk around outside of my body," says McGinnis of her love for two-year-old Morgan and one-year-old Dylan.

McGinnis graduated from UCLA in 1992. Her prosecutorial experience includes school safety, gang abatement, narcotics enforcement and most recently managing the Los Angeles City Attorney's Office Animal Cruelty Prosecution Team.

Prior to and throughout her legal career, McGinnis has worked at all levels of education from early childhood, k-12 to adult education. Her volunteer work for the LA County Bar Public Counsel Childcare Law Project led to her publication of a quarterly childcare law column in a well-respected education magazine.

The underlying theme of her career is keeping children and animals safe.

McGinnis says her life as a Norman laid the foundation for a rewarding life. "Becoming Coach Newman's power forward on the basketball team made fitness an integral part of my daily routine. Community service during high school became a natural part of adulthood. My career and community service are second to my ultimate role as mom," McGinnis said. "My only regret in life is not paying closer attention in Mrs. Richard's math classes and not realizing how important math would be in everyday life and work!"

She looks forward to Morgan and Dylan following the tradition and becoming Normans in 2024!

Chaplain faced prejudice, delivered moving eulogy

An interesting fact that many are unaware of is the historic events that surrounded a Jewish chaplain on Iwo Jima, where, of 70,000 American Marines, 1,500 were Jewish.

Rabbi Roland B. Gittelsohn, assigned to the Fifth Marine Division, was the first Jewish chaplain the Marine Corps ever appointed. Rabbi Gittelsohn was in the thick of the fray, ministering to Marines of all faiths in the combat zone. His tireless efforts to comfort the wounded and encourage the fearful won him three service ribbons.

When the fighting was over, Rabbi Gittelsohn was asked to deliver the memorial sermon at a combined religious service dedicating the Marine Cemetery.

Unfortunately, racial and religious prejudice led to problems with the ceremony. What happened next immortalized Rabbi Gittelsohn and his sermon forever.

It was Division Chaplain Warren Cuthriell, a Protestant minister, who originally asked Rabbi Gittelsohn to deliver the memorial sermon. Cuthriell wanted all the fallen Marines (black and white, Protestant, Catholic and Jewish) honored in a single, non-denominational ceremony. However, according to Rabbi Gittelsohn's autobiography, the majority of Christian chaplains objected to having a rabbi preach over predominantly Christian graves.

To his credit, Cuthriell refused to alter his plans. Gittelsohn, on the other hand, wanted to save his friend Cuthriell further embarrassment and so decided it was best not to deliver his sermon. Instead, three separate religious services were held.

At the Jewish service, to a congregation of 70 or so who attended, Rabbi Gittelsohn delivered this powerful eulogy he originally wrote for the combined service:

"Here lie men who loved America because their ancestors, generations ago, helped in her founding. And other men who loved her with equal passion because they themselves, or their own fathers, escaped from oppression to her blessed shores.

"Here lie officers and men, Negroes and Whites, rich men and poor, together. Here are Protestants, Catholics, and Jews together. Here no man prefers another because of his faith or despises him because of his color. Here there are no quotas of how many from each group are admitted or allowed.

"Among these men there is no discrimination. No prejudices. No hatred. Theirs is the highest and purest democracy! Whosoever of us lifts his hand in hate against a brother, or who thinks himself superior to those who happen to be in the minority, makes of this ceremony and the bloody sacrifice it commemorates, an empty, hollow mockery.

"To this then, as our solemn sacred duty, do we, the living, now dedicate ourselves: To the right of Protestants, Catholics, and Jews, of White men and Negroes alike, to enjoy the democracy for which all of them have here paid the price.

We here solemnly swear this shall not be in vain. Out of this, and from the suffering and sorrow of those who mourn this, will come, we promise, the birth of a new freedom for the sons of men everywhere."

Among Gittelsohn's listeners were three Protestant chaplains so incensed by the prejudice voiced by their colleagues that they boycotted their own service. See CHAPLAIN, page 52

'99 alum nabs high-profile arson suspect

Reserve Deputy Sheriff Shervin Lalezary's arrest of arson suspect Harry Burkhart put a stop to what some have called the worst arson spree Los Angeles has seen in decades.

Lalezary, a 1999 Beverly High graduate, made what Los Angeles County Sheriff Lee Baca called the "arrest of his career" after Lalezary spotted Burkhart's Dodge Caravan at 3 a.m. on January 2nd, 2012 and made the traffic stop on Fairfax Avenue just west of Sunset Boulevard.

A Los Angeles Police Department unit that was in the area backed Lalezary up, Lalezary said at a press conference.

"They rolled up right behind me and got out of their car and covered me as I [apprehended] the suspect in the vehicle," Lalezary said.

Burkhart is suspected to have set more than 50 blazes that largely targeted cars parked under dwellings in Los Angeles, West Hollywood and Burbank.

Shervin Lalezary '99

Though Lalezary has been cast as a hero, it seems he would prefer to keep a low profile. After making a brief statement at the West Hollywood Sheriff's Station, where Lalezary said he works once or twice a week as a reserve deputy, Lalezary mostly dodged personal questions.

Asked if he was frightened to apprehend the suspect, Lalezary responded, "I don't want to talk about emotional state."

Instead, Lalezary focused on the facts, and thanking local citizens and law enforcement officials for their collaborative effort.

"Once the fires started occurring, the citizens of West Hollywood pretty much started calling with every suspicious person that they thought they saw and that went a far ways helping with the investigation that ultimately led to the arrest," Lalezary said.

Lalezary did offer a comment about the connection between his part-time and full-time careers. Lalezary practices law in Beverly Hills.

"I've been interested in both law and law enforcement for several years," Lalezary said. "I think each influences the other."

Through Los Angeles County Sheriff spokesperson Steve Whitmore, Lalezary responded to the Weekly's question about how growing up in Beverly Hills influenced his decision to become a reserve deputy.

"Growing up in Beverly Hills, the family ethic in which he was brought up in and the community in which he lived in emphasized community service, and that's why he wanted to be an attorney and that's why he joined the reserves," Whitmore said.

Whitmore described Lalezary as very humble.

"He doesn't want to put it on himself," Whitmore said. "He wants to be part of a team."

Though Lalezary said his family inspired him to pursue community service, his family was initially uncomfortable with his decision to become a reserve deputy sheriff.

In an interview in July 2010 that appeared in Issue #562, Lalezary told the Weekly, "Initially, my family was quite hesitant about my involvement in law enforcement. Most parents are not too fond of their children going out with a bulletproof vest and firearm."

He said growing up around Beverly Hills police officers inspired him in part to become a reserve deputy. Reserves earn $1 a year for their service.

Class of '49 alum and wife see the world by sailboat

By Ralph Marx '49

In many retirement ads you see the retired couple sailing off in the sunset. My wife and I started doing this many years ago and are still doing it. Sailing off in the sunset means it will be getting dark soon and you had better find a place to anchor or you will be up all night at the helm.

Helen and I started sailing in the 1980's. We owned a small sail boat and would sail on the lakes near Phoenix. We would "Bare-Boat" charter in the Caribbean several weeks at a time. Bare boating means renting a sailboat and you doing everything else. This would be, provisioning, navigating, anchoring and running from hurricanes. After doing this in the Caribbean, South Pacific and Thailand we decided on getting our own boat and sailing next door in Mexico on the Sea of Cortez (Baja California).

Four years ago we upgraded to a larger catamaran sailboat that was completely equipped for extended times at sea. This enlarged our sailing area to include the Mexican Rivera, Matzatlan to Zihuatanejo. Now we sail the Sea of Cortez in October, November, and March through June and the Rivera from December through February. We are at home in Arizona for the summer to see the grandkids and learn what terrible shape the world is in. We actually feel safer in Mexico than in most large US cities.

We do sail the most beautiful areas of Mexico and maybe next year we will head for Tahiti or Panama. Nowhere else can you look out the window and see fish swim by, walk miles of white beaches or snorkel among the sea-lions. For the people that we think we are living our dream and for the people that think we are nuts, you are both right.

61-year-old serving in Afghanistan attended Beverly

Dore Gilbert '68 was deployed to Afghanistan in July, 2010, as the chief medical officer. At 61, he was the oldest soldier in the 26th Maneuver Enhancement Brigade of the Massachusetts National Guard.

Prior to his deployment, Gilbert had a thriving Newport-based dermatology practice.

In an interview with a columnist for the Orange County Register in 2011, Gilbert described his non-work hours in Afghanistan.

"I am up at 05:00 every day so that I can go to the gym before my real day starts. I am usually in the sack by 20:30. We work seven days a week, but there is definitely some free time. I am always looking for ways to help out around the base any way I can. I started a skin cancer screening clinic on Saturdays that has been very successful."

To prepare for his experience, Gilbert learned about improvised explosive devices, which cause two-thirds of the casualties in Afghanistan, according to the Orange County Register.

When asked if he was glad to be in the Army at age 61, Gilbert said, "I didn't have any preconceived notions about the difficulty or time required for my job. I feel very comfortable with what I am doing. I feel it is an honor and a privilege to be here serving my fellow soldiers and country."

Grad sets pace in thoroughbred horseracing

Samantha Siegel, '83, was recently interviewed by Horseplayer Magazine as one of the "most powerful, popular, and innovative women in the game of thoroughbred racing." Siegel is the head of Jay Em Ess Stables, which owns about 80 top-class thoroughbreds in training across the country. Below is an excerpt of the interview, which ran in the May/June 2012 issue:

HorsePlayer Magazine (HP): Did your parents take you to the racetrack when you were young? If so, which tracks did you frequent, and do you have any special memories from when you were young?

Samantha Siegel (SS): Yes, I have been going as long as I can remember. We lived in New York until I was 11, so I went to Aqueduct and Belmont. I had a couple of birthday parties at Belmont with a small group of girls. My dad would buy the table tickets on our picks, and we would split the winnings.

HP: When did you become seriously interested in the racing business?

SS: As a teenager. As soon as I got my driver's license and could take myself to the barn, there was no turning back...Going to the barn in the morning and getting close to the horses and the people is one of my favorite parts of the horse business.

HP: What is the meaning behind the stable name Jay Em Ess?

SS: The 'Jay' is for 'Jan,' which is my mother's name; 'Em' is for my father, 'Mace;' and 'Ess' is for 'Samantha.'

HP: Jay Em Ess Stable has had many different trainers over the years. What is your process for trainer selection?

SS: We like to be in a smaller barn with a trainer who takes good care of his horses. We don't like to switch trainers too often - we have been with our three main trainers for awhile now.

HP: As a woman in the industry, have you felt any added challenges to reaching your level of success?

SS: I'm lucky. I worked for my family, so I haven't had to fight my way into my job.

Alum survives cancer

Karolyn Eisenberg Berkman '54 survived a third breast cancer episode in 2011, though her mammograms and doctors missed the mass as it spread for over a year and a half without any treatment.

"Mammograms never picked up either of my two breast cancers," Berkman writes. "I found them myself, the first 35 years ago and the second one 24 years ago."

The mammogram missed this latest mass also, though an MRI reported a 'suspicious mass' that should be watched. According to Berkman, her doctors ignored this report, continuing to go by mammograms until Berkman insisted on a second MRI.

Berkman had a mastectomy in 2011, and at the time, the cancer had not spread, but she considers herself lucky.

She encourages women to be proactive in their health care, and especially warns women who have dense or lumpy breast tissue to be aware of the danger of false-positive mammograms.

to attend Gittelsohn's. One of them borrowed the manuscript and, unknown to Gittelsohn, circulated several thousand copies to his regiment. Some Marines enclosed the copies in letters to their families.

An avalanche of coverage resulted. Time magazine published excerpts, which wire services spread even further. The entire sermon was inserted into the Congressional Record, the Army released the eulogy for short-wave broadcast to American troops throughout the world and radio commentator Robert St. John read it on his program and on many succeeding Memorial Days.

In 1995, in his last major public appearance before his death, Gittelsohn reread a portion of the eulogy at the 50th commemoration ceremony at the Iwo Jima statue in Washington, D.C. In his autobiography, Gittelsohn reflected, "I have often wondered whether anyone would ever have heard of my Iwo Jima sermon had it not been for the bigoted attempt to ban it."

Alum recalls child-actress days in autobiography

By Tom Pfungsten

Marilyn Knowlden S'43 hangs posters on the walls of her living room for two purposes: Initially, they recall the 1930s film era, when motion pictures were just beginning to be produced with sound.

Upon closer inspection, their second purpose emerges: Knowlden herself is in many of the pictures as a little girl, wavy hair and pretty face posed just so. A giant, fraying print that was once displayed outside Max Munn Autrey's Sunset Boulevard studio shows her as a pretty, poised 9-year-old --- by that time, already a seasoned actress.

Between ages 4 and 14, she performed in some 50 films.

"I was typically a daughter," she said, and then listed a few of the actresses who played her characters' mothers: Katharine Hepburn, Norma Shearer, and Claudette Colbert.

Her filmography includes "Les Miserables," "Imitation of Life," "Anthony Adverse" and "Little Women."

Earlier this year, Knowlden's 456-page autobiography, "Little Girl in Big Pictures," was published by BearManor Media.

Though her film acting career ended more than 70 years ago, before World War II, the book is filled with detailed descriptions of the early film industry, as observed through a little girl's eyes.

Now 85, Knowlden could name-drop with the best of them if she wanted to.

She attended Beverly Hills High School, brimming with future stars, and then earned a scholarship to Mills College in the Bay Area.

She would later marry an Army officer and live in China and Japan, then have three children and be a stay-at-home mom, but after relocating to Fallbrook, CA in 1983, she began acting again --- this time in stage productions.

She also renewed a friendship with Escondido resident Gloria DeMent, S'43 who once worked as a stand-in for Knowlden on the set of "Rainbow on the River."

It's quickly apparent that Knowlden is fond of that phase of her life, and she said she thought her experience of Hollywood was "very different from the experiences of most children in the films nowadays."

"It seemed normal to me, and I loved it," she said. "My mother would always ask me, 'Now, you do want to do this, Marilyn?' It was my choice; I was never pushed. I loved acting."

"Little Girl in Big Pictures" is available for $24.95 from Amazon.com. Autographed copies are available at www.marilynknowlden.com.

The Class of 1961 held its reunion at the Faculty Lounge of the University of California, Los Angeles, on August 26, 2011.

Arriving from New York, Massachusetts, Arizona, and Idaho, 140 classmates showed themselves clad in semi dressy attire.

The evening was full of chatter, food, and snifter to sooth any untamed spirit. The evening before the event, each grammar school hosted their own reunion. And, after all the partying, everyone enjoyed a relaxing day at Roxbury Park.

Normans perform musical, 'Grease'

The iconic musical "Grease" took place in the school auditorium on March 28 through March 31. The musical is named for the 1950's United States working class subculture known as the "greasers." The musical is set in 1959 at a fictional high school and follows working class teenagers as they navigate through the complexities of reaching adulthood.

Each year, the participating students at Beverly seem to reach new heights with respect to their talent and ability to present professional performances. Hours of rehearsals and practice are involved. As with any production, there is much behind the scene work that involves set design, lighting, costumes, make up, publicity and more. All of it comes together and made the presentation of "Grease" an evening of entertainment and excitement for the participants and the audience. All of the student/actors were amazing and the singing, dancing and acting was exceptional. How the faculty and students accomplish this year after year is unbelievable. But it does happen and kudos to everyone involved.

Herb Hall, the Chair of the Performing Arts Department, directed the musical. Herb has directed over 20 BHHS productions. Herb's background includes credits for stage plays, commercials and film. Herb and his wife Donna, the ticket lady in the lobby, are on the Board of Directors of the Victory Theatre in Burbank.

Joel Pressman '67, the musical director and conductor, has been involved as the BHHS Choral Director for 37 years and 23 of them as Chair of the Performing Arts Department. He has toured with Opera a la Carte as the principal soloist, taught at Idyllwild Arts summer programs for years and has served for 13 years as Cantorial Soloist for Wilshire Blvd. Temple and High Holydays Cantor for Temple Beth Am for 22 years. He has a Masters Degree in Choral Music and a Bachelor of Music Degree in Vocal Performance.

Brooke Lundy, producer, has just produced her first musical at Beverly. Past credits include directing and costuming musicals at Gardena High and directing at the University of Utah. She has a Masters Degree in Teaching and BFA in Theater Education.

Bill Bradbury, Instrumental

Music Director, is in his third year and third production at Beverly. He is the director of the Concert, Symphonic, Jazz and Marching Bands in addition to Concert and Chamber Orchestras at the high school.

Ash Sroka '99, Choreography, is a graduate of Beverly and was active in the Minnesingers and Madrigals and dancing and choreographing. She received her BFA in Acting from the NYU's Tisch's Experimental Theatre Wing. She currently works professionally as a dancer, actor and choreographer.

Annie Terry, Technical Director/Set, Light and Sound Design. Grease marks Annie's 13th BHHS musical. She earned her Bachelor of Science Degree from Northwestern University and is currently working on her teaching Degree at Cal State Northridge.

Laren Fonville, Costume Design, Arnold Lesin, Asst. Technical Director/Set, Lighting and Sound Design, and Will Lorenzana, Asst. Technical Director, all added their expertise and commitment to making Grease a huge success.

Savannah Forno and Roman Zaragoza

We encourage all fellow Normans and their friends to attend the Spring Musicals for an evening of fun and entertainment. Also, as the Hall of Fame Induction takes place on the same evening as Alumni Night at the musical, it would be possible to attend that event. For information call the Alumni Association or send an email – this information is available on the second page of the Highlights.

Performing Arts Department brings excellence to the stage

This school year saw several personnel changes in the Performing Arts Department and was highlighted by outstanding vocal, instrumental and theatrical performances.

After the departure of Josh Butchart, Brian Michael and Kristie Rutledge, the department welcomed three newcomers to its staff. Brooke Lundy joined the department to teach Technical Theater and co-teach Intro to Theater and Theater Arts Workshop. Lauren Faunville became the new costumer and Irene Gregorio took over the job of departmental accompanist.

Under the direction of Joel Pressman, '67, the Minnesingers and Madrigals attended their annual Idyllwild retreats in October to prepare for their upcoming performance season. Both groups performed at numerous venues in the Beverly Hills area during the holiday season, from Rodeo Drive events to the American Cancer Society's Children's Party. In December they were joined by the choir for the annual Winter Choral Concert, which featured solos by many of our talented students.

In the spring the Madrigals attended the Hawaii Choral Festival at which they competed, attended workshops and studied with various choral directors. They also had the opportunity to sing Hawaiian music with local choirs and returned from the festival with the designation of highest scoring group. Two weeks later the Minnesingers traveled to Orange County and placed 1st among all choirs at the Heritage Music Festival.

The Spring Music Concert was held June 6th and featured all three choral groups, performing a variety of music from Renaissance to Rock N Roll. The evening was highlighted by the presentation of awards to deserving members of each group, and the awarding of the Factor Scholarships for Vocal Study to five deserving singers..

The various instrumental groups, under the direction of Bill Bradbury, participated in numerous competitions and festivals this year, as well as performing several concerts.

The drum line is now being coached by BHHS alum Ben Haroonian, who is a section leader in the UCLA drum line. The chamber orchestra and marching band both performed at Disneyland and the orchestra, our largest instrumental group, won a silver rating at a Forum Festival in Orange County. At the Southern California School Band and Orchestra Association Festival, the BHHS bands won excellent ratings in performance and superior ratings in site reading.

The marching band received a high honor when it was selected to participate in the week-long festival of music in London, England. The band will travel to England in December, and along with performing several concerts, will march in London's New Years Day parade.

The final performances featuring the various instrumental groups took place June 7th.

The theater department opened the year with Twilight: Los Angeles, 1992, an intensely moving production about the Rodney King incident, which was directed by Herb Hall. The production commemorated the 20th anniversary of the occurrence and played to capacity crowds for four nights. It featured newcomers Brooke Lundy and Lauren Fonville as producer and costumer, respectively. Technical direction was by Annie Terry and BHHS graduate JJ Johnson served as law enforcement consultant.

At the end of first semester, Theater Arts Workshop presented "Scenefest", its annual showcase of scenes.

The musical this year was Grease, which featured students from the entire student body. Directed by department chair and theater teacher Herb Hall, the musical showcased 38 student actors and a backstage crew of over 60. This production was unique in that 5 BHHS graduates were members of the production crew. Ash Sroka (TAW/Dance Company) choreographed the production, while Arnold Lesin '03 (Tech) served as Assistant Tech Director/Designer and Will Lorzano (Tech) also worked as Assistant Tech Director. Ben King '89 (TAW/Madrigals) who's been assisting Hall with productions for 3 years, served as acting coach for students in both the musical and fall play. See ARTS, page 66

Beverly's Class of '71 held its 40th anniversary reunion October 1, 2011 at the Beverly Hills Country Club in Cheviot Hills.

Although there was music, most of the 250 people who attended spent much of the evening reconnecting with old classmates and meeting new friends. Several of their favorite teachers were there, including Frank Crean, Toby Larson, Helen (Meek) Rinde and Harriet Wrye.

Attendees travelled from Hawaii, Utah, Oregon, Michigan, New Mexico, Illinois, Washington, New Jersey, Oklahoma, Colorado, Florida, Nevada, Washington, DC, Seattle, New York and Arizona.

The day before, there were several grammar school mini-reunions, including one at Horace Mann, where classmate Steve Kessler is the principal. And the day after the big reunion gala, some 60 high school classmates held a picnic at the Annenberg Beach House.

The Reunion Committee included Linda Kumetz Waxman, Fredde Duke, Karen Graham, and Mitch Waldow.

The Class of 1981 held their 30th reunion on October 22nd, 2011 at the Hollywood Renaissance Hotel.

About 200 people attended, traveling from as far away as Florida and Israel. Sam Shimer made the trip from New York, Jon Robison came from Omaha, Nebraska, and Sam Gladney traveled from Dallas, Texas to attend. Treva Brandon organized the event.

The Associated Student Body at Beverly Hills High School (pictured) joined the Beverly Hills Education Foundation, the Parent Teacher's Association and the teacher's union to help raise money for Beverly Hills' schools.

'One' campaign raises funds for district

The Beverly Hills Education Foundation organized a drive to raise $1 million for Beverly Hills schools in 2012.

"When I first heard that our district was going to be cutting teachers and positions and counselors ... merely because we couldn't afford the positions, I was angry," said BHEF chairman Jonathan Prince '76. "We have to be able to make decisions based on what's best for our kids, best for our schools...not based on our budget."

Prince, along with superintendent Dick Douglas, BHEF president Annette Saleh, two board members and heads of the PTA, came up with the idea of having a campaign to raise

$1 million in one week with 100 percent of funds going to pay for teachers' salaries.

The teachers' union and the student government joined in publicizing the campaign to the parents and student body. The Beverly Hills Education Association sent notices home with every K-12 student, requesting donations from parents.

The Associated Student Body at the high school sold black and white bracelets promoting the fundraiser.

"We're finding really generous private families who are donating as much as $10,000 and $15,000 and $25,000 gifts," Prince told Beverly Hills Weekly. We're finding people who say I can't afford to give anything at all, and yet they give a dollar per day per student in the district. So someone with three kids multiplies 365 times three and writes a check for that much, because even if they can't afford anything, they want to give.

Although the campaign ultimately fell short of its goal of raising $1 million in a week's time, key positions at the high school were saved.

The Los Angeles Times called the One Campaign "notable for its ambition and speed."

Education Foundation makes a big difference for local schools

Founded in 1978, The Beverly Hills Education Foundation has provided financial support to assist the Beverly Hills Unified School District in achieving excellence in education.

The Foundation (BHEF) was formed as a result of the Serrano v. Priest California Supreme Court ruling that made it necessary to equalize the revenue across the many school districts in the state and ensure that no district received more funding per student than any other district regardless of the tax base of those districts. Soon after proposition 13 was passed, funding was shifted from local to state control. Diminished government support for public education in America has forced communities to form organizations to raise funds to support education in their cities. The BHEF was the first of its kind and became a national model for over 500 school districts in the nation.

The BHEF schedules various events during the year for the purpose of raising funds and also recognizing individuals and teachers.

The major event is the Apple Ball. The officers and directors of the BHEF

ARTS

The "Grease Band" directed by band director Bill Bradbury featured 11 highly gifted student musicians and was conducted by BHHS graduate and music director Joel Pressman '67. Annie Terry served as Technical Director, Lauren Fonville designed the costumes and Irene Gregorio was the accompanist. As is customary, the alumni association attended opening night in full force and presented the Performing Arts Department with a check for $1000.

The Theater Arts Recital, presented in late May, featured performances by students in Intro to Theater and Theater Arts Workshop/Advanced Acting. The latter presented scenes and a selection of "car plays", originally presented at the Red Cat Theatre Festival.

This was part of an ongoing collaboration with the Moving Arts Theatre Company which has been instrumental in giving our theater students the opportunity to work directly with a professional theater company.

Michael McCartney became the interim Technical Director in May and will serve in this capacity until Annie Terry returns from maternity leave.

All of the information regarding the BHEF may be found on their website which is www.BHEF.org The BHEF is a 501(c)3 non-profit corporation.

Outstanding scholars receive awards from Alumni Assoc.

The BHHS Alumni Association continues to be the single largest donor of scholarship awards to talented, scholastically outstanding and accomplished graduating seniors.

Graduating seniors who apply for the scholarships are required to file an application that requires much information with respect to the applicant.

The Scholarship Committee of the Alumni Association is chaired by Lilly Lewis '74 and includes Candace Chen '87 and Elyse Rothstein Beardsley '76.

There were 7 recipients this year as twins were included for an award. Unlike the 100-meter tie in the women's Olympic Trials, there was no run off or problem in determining that each of the twins was equally qualified. Normally, the number of recipients is limited to six; however, each of the 7 recipients received the full $2,000.00 award.

The Alumni Assoc. awarded a total of $14,000.00. Also, much recognition should be provided to Michael Libow '81 and Gary Dordick '80 each of whom has made a yearly commitment of $2,000.00 to the scholarship fund.

Lilly Lewis '74 spoke to the audience prior to the presentation of the awards. Lilly discussed the Alumni Association and its various functions and its commitment to the high school, the alumni and the importance of communicating with alumni.

Michael Libow '81 also spoke and emphasized the importance of education in helping individuals to reach their potential and also that it is important to give back to the high school and its students.

The graduating Alumni Scholarship students and the universities that they will attend are Jared Sleisinger (Harvard University), Andrew Schwab (U.C. Berkeley), Carly Stone (Vanderbilt Univ.), Taylor Shaw (MIT and Dordick Family Scholarship), Donya Enayati (UCLA - Michael Libow Scholarship), Tina Torbati (UCLA) and Tania Torbati (UCLA) Both of the Torbatis received the Lisa Harris Memorial Scholarship.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

We would like to inform you that we have found a couple of sites claiming to be Beverly Hills High School Alumni sites and they are not.

Please make note that we only have an email of BHHSAlumni@yahoo.com and a reunion web page at <http://bhhs.bhusd.org/reunions.jsp>.

We have received notification from some alums wondering why we are sending out so many letters.

We have two mailings per year and one is the Alumni Highlights and the second is a letter mailed early year in which we request class notes and contributions. That's it.

Any other sites (especially www.bhhsalumni.com) are not affiliated with us and if you give address updates, reunion information or any other information, it will not come to us.

Some of these sites are also asking for fees to join. Again, please make note of our email and reunion web page: BHHSAlumni@yahoo.com and a reunion web page at <http://bhhs.bhusd.org/reunions.jsp>.

Again, www.bhhsalumni.com is NOT affiliated with the BHHS Alumni Association or the high school.

A personal message from Mayor Barry Brucker '75

Dear BHHS Alumni,

The City of Beverly Hills continues to be an iconic place for those visiting, working and living here.

This past year was very productive – we saw change, we had our share of celebrations, we were inspired and at the same time, we had our challenges.

I am happy to report that Beverly Hills is recovering from the recession showing strong increases in our hotel occupancy and a resurgence in luxury buying. I believe this commitment to our key businesses played a role in Rodeo Drive being listed first on US News and World Report's list of "America's Best Shopping Streets."

The City remains committed to fiscal responsibility and good governance. We eliminated a budget deficit and are now in the black earning an unprecedented AAA bond rating... which is even better than the US Government. Our Police and Fire Departments remain first class and the City continues its unprecedented support for our Schools.

Construction began at the City's Annenberg Center for the Performing Arts. (the old Post Office property). The framing is now rising over the barriers and will be a world class showcase for dance, music, theater and events.

Our newly renovated historic Greystone Mansion is now a huge tourist attraction and event center.

And check out the, newly unveiled eco-friendly City-owned facility at 9400 Santa Monica Blvd. This building will house offices for the Chamber of Commerce, the Conference and Visitors Bureau and Beverly Hills Visitor's Center.

Through the generosity of our community, our sacred 9/11 Memorial Gardens was dedicated to honor those who perished and those who survived the tragic events that occurred on September 11, 2001.

Thanks to our Technology Task Force our new iPhone app guides visitors to public art installations, parking facilities, City buildings, parks and events.

I am proud of our City's ongoing commitment to green technology. The city's largest installation of over 1,500 solar panels went online at the Civic Center, generating a significant portion of the Library's electricity, we have a new CNG gas fleet and electric charging stations throughout City Hall and our public parking facility.

Additionally, earlier this year, The City of Beverly Hills was honored by Southern California Edison and the Southern California Association of Governments as the first city in Los Angeles County to be recognized for our commitment to green eco-friendly technologies.

As always, the quality of life for residents, visitors and businesses is a primary focus for the Council. I am happy to report that during this last year:

The City Council voted to shut down the last remaining oil processing facility, located at the High School, when the lease expires at the end of 2016.

And this year the Council established the first Cultural Heritage Commission, this Historic Preservation Commission, chaired by Noah Furie '77 is charged with cataloging and preserving our most iconic and architecturally significant homes and commercial properties.

And don't forget that we have one of the most impressive and progressive non-smoking ordinances in the Country which prohibits smoking in public venues and all commercial outdoor dining establishments.

I would be remiss if I didn't personally thank my friend, classmate and colleague, Vice Mayor Willie Brien (BHHS '75) for his incomparable support this past year. I am proud to turn over the reigns of Beverly Hills Mayor to Willie.

In conclusion, Beverly Hills is a city rich with diversity and our diversity is our strength. We are a community that cares about our schools, our seniors, our public safety, our culture and our historic legacy. We are a community of passionate residents and premiere businesses dedicated to upholding our integrity and values, preserving our unique character, and protecting our quality of life.

So if you reside here or are in the vicinity you know that Beverly Hills is not only a wonderful place to live, work and play but it is a brand like no other in the world. And if you live far away come visit we would love to welcome you home!

BHUSD schools still the cornerstone of community

By Dr. Gary W. Woods,
BHUSD Superintendent

Countless individuals have contributed to a long-standing tradition of excellence at Beverly Hills High School. Along with Beverly, El Rodeo, Hawthorne, Beverly Vista, and Horace Mann it represents the cornerstone of this fine community.

With a district Academic Performance Index score of 891 out of a possible 1000, the BHUSD schools rank in the top five percent of all schools in California.

We recently learned that after an extensive analysis of student achievement data for every public school in California, the California Business for Education Excellence (CBEE) team named each of our five schools as Honor Roll schools.

The CBEE Honor Roll is the premier school recognition program that uses only academic achievement data showing improved academic growth over time and a closing of the achievement gap.

The CBEE Honor Roll includes 1,614 public elementary, middle and high schools recognized by the California business community for demonstrating consistent high levels of student academic achievement, improvement in achievement levels over time and reduction in achievement gaps among student populations.

For high schools, the Honor Roll recognition also includes measures of college readiness. Furthermore, Newsweek just released their "Top 1000" high school list and Beverly received an overall national ranking of 324 and a California ranking of 49.

When compared to other "open enrollment" high schools, Beverly ranked 200 nationally and 35 in California.

This measureable success is possible because we continue to collaborate and partner with students, parents, alumni, and other valued community stakeholder. Your continued participation as a valued member of the Norman family is appreciated and expected.

Thank you one and all for continuing to support your school and your community!

PUBLISHER'S NOTE: And I hope that you take time to read this

Hello to about 1,200 of my fellow Normans and a slight wave of my hand to the remaining 17,000 of you. Why do I greet only 1,200 of you? I'll tell you why. It is because in the last year 1,200 of you have sent in contributions to the Alumni Association and 17,000 of you did not. Last year, we heard from 1,600 of you.

Over the years, we have received hardly any requests that we remove recipients of the Alumni Highlights from our mailing list. As a matter of fact, considerable time is spent updating our database. What I and others do not understand is why so few of you cannot find a few minutes or so to write a check and send us class notes. We even provide you with a return envelope. Beverly High is a pretty small high school and the school district is very small – a total of four (grammar) schools and one high school. Whether or not you realize it, Beverly High is probably the most famous high school in the country. Students in the school district have a lot in common as Beverly Hills is a small city. The educational system is excellent and living conditions are certainly way above the average of other communities in the U.S. Friendships are made in the various schools in Beverly Hills that last a life time. We receive notes from quite a few readers of the Highlights remarking that the Highlights allows them to keep in touch with classmates and the activities of the graduates and, also, of the high school.

I do not understand the somewhat dismissive attitude of many of you with respect to contributing to our Alumni Association. We have explained at length the various activities of the Alumni Association and the fact that we are completely dependent upon all of you for contributions that will support the Alumni Association. The high school provides us with a small office. Other than that, neither the high school nor the school district provides any financial support. Our contributions were about $20,000.00 less in this last year than the previous year. If a few thousand more of you would contribute, we would have enough to provide the high school with some of their needs. As it is, we can barely meet our expenses for the Alumni Association. It is time for many of you to loosen up and make a contribution.

I have been involved with the Alumni Association for 25 years and have served as President, financial officer, publisher of the Highlights and a director of the Association. Also, I took on the responsibility of organizing the 75th anniversary of the high school in 2003, I am neither sad nor happy to inform you that at the spring board meeting of the Alumni Association, I resigned from the board and also told the board that I would discontinue my responsibilities as publisher of the Highlights. I enjoyed all of my activities with the Alumni Association and over the years I have had the good fortune to meet many wonderful people. My health is excellent but it is time that others stepped forward. To all of you I send you my best wishes. And if you want to acknowledge my efforts over the years, the best manner with which to do so would be by sending in contributions, dues and class notes. Thanking me is incidental. To those of you who have been supporting the Alumni Association over the years you have my heartfelt thanks. In order to insure the future of the Alumni Association it is extremely important that many more of you actively support the Association by means of your contributions and class notes.
