Stories of Instant Millionaires

by Gayle Mitchell

“I Won the Jackpot” is the sound of dreams coming true. With the ever-increasing progressive jackpots offered by casinos, the Big Hits are on display. All three entries in this Winners Circle are instant millionaires.

Double Strike

In a jaw-dropping double win, Theresa P. of New York made the record books in a span of five months. The recent $1,469,368.28 jackpot win was at an IGT Wheel of Fortune Triple Stars slot machine. Theresa made a maximum $10 bet on the $5 denomination slot game. Five months earlier, this double millionaire had hit for a record-breaking $2,919,162.81 Wheel of Fortune jackpot payout. The winner stated about her husband, “Matthew and I are positive when gambling, always thinking we will win, but never in our dreams did we think we would hit a jackpot like this in our lifetime, let alone two in a year. It’s been a happy state of shock!” Theresa feels like she is on vacation every day, with no worries in mind. She calls the Wheel of Fortune her go-to machine and notes that she and her husband haven’t finalized any plans as to what to do with the second major addition to the bank account.

“All the struggling I have had to do... I will never have to struggle again,”

The Wheel Provides for only $5

An anonymous player turned millionaire is thankful for a Las Vegas Wheel of Fortune slot. The winner’s payday amounted to a $1,150,709 jackpot at Caesars Palace. In a frequent occurrence where a small bet results in a gigantic payday, this player only played $5 when the big hit arrived.

The Struggle is Over

This jackpot story begins with Manual F., or Manny, who returned to his hotel room to retrieve a forgotten item. A leftover $40 slot ticket was burning a hole in his pocket after his stay at Agua Caliente Resort. A Wheel of Fortune progressive was calling out to him. He entered the slots area to a waiting slot on the back wall. After the fourth and final $10, he spun the reels and watched as three Wheel of Fortune logos popped up on the center line. That final spin resulted in a nearly $2.5 million payday.

“I thought at first that maybe I had won a couple of hundred dollars,” said the landscaper business owner. “And then, I just kept looking at the symbols and seeing the amount, and it still didn’t really sink in,” Manny stated.

“All the struggling I have had to do...I will never have to struggle again,” said the new millionaire as he stood in shock after winning the progressive jackpot. When asked what he would do with his newfound millions, he answered after a pause and said, “I think I will buy a house and maybe just save the rest. I don’t know. My heart is still jumping everywhere. This is certainly something I was not expecting.”

"Palace Queen" retires

West St. Paul Bingo Palace employee Sandy Coleman has worked in the Bingo industry for 55 years, starting out with hard cards and beans, and working at times with her husband Wayne and their children. She has been at the Bingo Palace for over 12 years. Gambling Manager Dre Guerra says, "She is the most kind, genuine and funny woman. She will always be considered a 'palace queen'. Sandy will be sadly missed!"

Lucky Lotto News

Grandma Is A Millionaire

A grandmother in Canada’s Northwest Territories was stunned by a $55 million (US$40 million) Lotto Max win. Laura Tutcho of Yellowknife, the only city and capital of the Northwest Territories, had purchased several lottery tickets but was not watching for her numbers to come up. When her granddaughter alerted her that someone from Yellowknife had won the lottery, she decided to check her numbers online. Tutcho recalled being in shock after discovering that her numbers matched. Tutcho was the only player to match all seven main winning numbers in the draw—3, 12, 25, 36, 37, 42, and 49—making her the Northwest Territories’ largest lottery jackpot winner ever.

Wisconsin Lottery Adds Midday Drawings

Wisconsin Lottery fans now have more opportunities to win big, with three of its games now drawing twice daily. The state’s Pick 3, Pick 4, and All or Nothing games have received new midday drawings, in addition to their current evening drawings. This brings Wisconsin games in line with most other state lotteries that already offer multiple daily drawings of popular games. The evening draw times for the Pick 3 and Pick 4 games moved to 9 p.m., aligning with the draw time of the All or Nothing game. The Wisconsin Lottery uses computerized drawings, so the public is unable to see the actual drawing take place.

PA Arts Fest Includes Adults-Only Bingo

The Central PA Theatre and Dance Fest, held in State College, Pennsylvania, showcases the region's vibrant professional and pre-professional theatre, dance and other performing arts groups through one immersive weekend each summer. The Fest invites local residents and visitors to experience performances from local and national artists, learn a new skill at a workshop and take in all the community has to offer. Among the events offered this year was an adults-only, pool-party themed virtual drag Bingo hosted by Harmonica Sunbeam. It featured four rounds of Bingo played online using Zoom. Players paid $12 per Bingo board (boards were emailed to players after registration) and the same board could be used for all four games. A range of prizes was awarded, along with a cash prize for the final round.

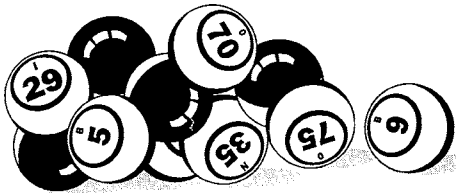

Lake Tahoe Cleans Up with Bingo

Clean Up the Lake is a nonprofit based in Lake Tahoe and Belize that works to stop plastic pollution worldwide. This summer, organization founder Colin West hosted an inclusive, socially-distanced outdoor Bingo on Instagram Live in support of environmental stewardship. Before Bingo began, players submitted video and photo stories tagged @cleanupthelake which were used as the Bingo card "free" space. The rest of the squares on the board were made up of different trash items. Players walked the shores of Lake Tahoe and collected castoffs while at the same time matching the littered items they found with those on their Bingo cards. Five items in a row made Bingo. Participants then posted a confirmation photo of their Bingo trash items. Bingo prizes were donated by such businesses as Clearly Tahoe Kayaks, Alibi Ale Works, Olympic Bike Shop, North Tahoe Works, Drink Coffee Do Stuff, CLIF Bar and Tahoe Heartbeat.

Seahawks Star Calls the Numbers

The Seattle Seahawks are known for their work with veterans and are always on the lookout for more ways to do so. With many community events on hold and social distancing very much in play, Seahawks defensive tackle Bryaân Mone was still able to find a fun way to virtually interact with vets by placing a video call and leading the veterans of Patriots Landing senior community in DuPont, Washington, in a weekend Bingo. More than 40 World War II vets took part in the event, following along by means of projection screens as Mone called the numbers. Along with celebrating each win, Mone led the veterans in a "Go Hawks" chant and awarded winners with coveted Seahawks jerseys.

Bugles Across America

There is no piece of music that elicits as much emotion as the 24 notes of "Taps," the bugle call played at military funerals and ceremonies.

In 2000, Congress passed legislation saying that the funerals of veterans should have two members of the military present, one to fold the flag and one to play "Taps." The problem has been that in too many places there aren't enough buglers. Funeral directors turned to "Taps" played on CD in a mechanical device that's inserted into a bugle. That's not quite the same thing.

Bugles Across America was started in 2000 by Tom Day as a means of gathering buglers who would attend the funerals of veterans and play real "Taps." Since he started, Day has signed up 4,000 buglers.

Sounds like a lot, but it's not, considering the number of veterans who pass away each day. Even during this lockdown the BAA is receiving 20-30 requests for buglers every day. You can help. All you have to do is play "Taps."

The steps: Check the website at buglesacrossamerica.org. If you already play, brush up. You'll need to audition, in person, with your state's director or another designated person from the organization. You can be male or female. You can play a bugle with none, one, two or three valves; a trumpet; a cornet or a flugelhorn. The instrument doesn't matter, but your playing does. You must be very, very good with at least high school-level music playing experience.

For more information, email info@buglesacrossamerica.org or click the Contact Us link on the website. If you need a bugler, click Request A Bugle.

To get a feel for the BAA, go to the website and read the Bugler's Post blogs. You'll learn, among other things, that Tom Day is out there each evening at 7 p.m. to sound "Taps" in honor of all our fallen brothers and sisters.

Bingo Buddy System

Dear Aunt Bingo:

I love Bingo, play weekly, wish I were luckier, but win or lose, really enjoy the whole Bingo experience.

My one problem is that in recent years I have been unable to get any of my friends or family to go to Bingo with me.

Do not misread my point—I am not a needy person. But I know from experience that it is far more fun to do an activity when you have someone along enjoying it with you.

In the past I have had several Bingo buddies who I would go to Bingo with, but for various reasons they stopped going to Bingo which is why I am now

My husband has “consented” to go with me one or two times. Unfortunately, it was only after I pestered him into it and from beginning to end it was clear that he couldn’t stand being there.

Which leaves me with the same dilemma—not having Bingo friends to play Bingo with. So, I thought I would email you and see if you had any suggestions on how I might team up with a Bingo buddy or two.

I'm not the kind of person that is going to walk up to a stranger in a Bingo hall and ask them if they'd like to be my Bingo buddy. But except for that, I can't really think of another way to do it. And that seems pushy and I imagine I could get some pretty strange looks or be seen as some kind of Bingo hall stalker if I tried that.

What would you do in my case Any advice is appreciated, and hopefully will help me and others
— Solo Bingo, via email

Dear Solo:

As kids, it was so easy for us to fall into friendships. The classroom, the playground, the neighborhood—daily opportunities abounded for crossing paths with a kid by the dozen.

Unfortunately, as adults, especially older adults, striking up new friendships can be a real challenge. No one likes being a recipient of the suspicious, narrow-eyed glare of someone you're trying to chat with who clearly wants you to go away.

In your case, you have a big leg up: You share an interest in Bingo with a room full of people who have the same interest.

The next time you visit a Bingo hall, why not look for someone who is also solo and sit at their table. Before Bingo starts, you can chat with them casually and see if they respond positively. If they are short with their responses, drop it. If they are pleasant, then you've succeeded with your first step.

From there you can try a little more chatting during breaks and perhaps exchange names. At the end of the games, joke about winning or losing, wish them a nice evening and be on your way.

You have now established a basic connection. From there all you have to do is look for the person again, sit at their table, chat a little more, maybe bring a tempting snack to share, and wait and see if the two of you are heading down Bingo Buddy Boulevard.

If you do not see the person, look for someone else and repeat step one. Eventually you will click with someone, or even several people, and develop a whole Bingo entourage! — Aunt Bingo

"SAVVY SENIOR"

YOU ASK THE SENIOR QUESTION
~ WE FIND THE SAVVY ANSWER

How to Make the Most of Your Telehealth Appointment

Dear Savvy Senior,

I manage a large doctor's clinic that treats hundreds of seniors each month. We are moving to more telehealth visits to help keep our patients safe at home during the coronavirus pandemic, but this new way of seeing a doctor is befuddling to many of our elder patients. Can you write a column educating patients on how to prepare for a telehealth appointment? — Regular Reader

Dear Reader,

I'd be happy to help! To help keep patients safe and at home during the coronavirus crisis more and more doctors and other health care providers are turning to telehealth (a.k.a. telemedicine) appointments, which are remote e-visits using a digital communication device like a smartphone, tablet or computer. Although telehealth has been around for a few years now, recent updates to regulations and a surge in demand has made it the easiest way to get many different types of medical care. Most telehealth appointments today tend to be primary care or follow-up visits that can assess symptoms or check on people who have had a medical procedure. Telehealth also works well for some specialties like dermatology or mental health care services.

So, what can patients expect from a telehealth visit, and how should they prepare?

The first step is to call your doctor's office to find out whether telemedicine visits are available and whether you will need to set up an account or install special software on your computer, phone or tablet.

Until recently, doctors were required to conduct telehealth visits through platforms such as Doxy, Thera-Link or MyChart that were compliant with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act, or HIPAA. But some of those requirements have been relaxed, so many providers are using popular apps such as FaceTime, Skype and Zoom.

Once you know what technology you will be using, get familiar with it. You don't want to spend the first ten minutes of your visit trying to figure out how to unmute the audio.

For older patients that aren't familiar or comfortable with technology, ask a relative or friend with a smartphone, tablet or laptop to assist you.

Take the time to clarify the purpose of the visit before it begins. Prioritize a written list of three or four issues you want to discuss with your doctor and make a list of the medicines you're taking, along with the dosages.

Also, have relevant medical devices or logs on hand, such as a penlight or smartphone flashlight for viewing a sore throat, a blood-pressure cuff and thermometer (or recent readings), blood-sugar logs if you're diabetic or a food log if you have gastrointestinal problems.

If you've received medical care at different places, have your latest medical records with you during the telemedicine visit.

Wear loose clothing that will allow you to show your medical provider what is concerning you.

A routine visit could be very quick, while others, such as a physical-therapy appointment, may last as long as a session at a clinic.

Before the visit ends, make sure you know the follow-up plan. Do you need to schedule an in-office visit, fill a prescription or get a referral to a specialist?

Right now, Medicare and Medicaid are covering the cost of telehealth visits (see medicare.gov/coverage/telehealth for details), and most private insurers are following suit. If, however, you don't have a primary care physician or need urgent care, you can get help through a virtual health care service like Doctor on Demand (doctorondemand.com) or TeleDoc (teladoc.com). These services currently do not accept original Medicare, but they may be covered by private insurers – be sure you check.

Horoscopes for August 2020

ARIES (MAR 21-APR 20): This is the perfect month to do like the Europeans do, unplug from the daily grind. Take a break from your vigorous push to reach your goals and expectations. Kick back and enjoy the close of the summer. Consider the writer Edith Wharton’s advice: “If only we’d stop trying to be happy we’d have a pretty good time.”
Lucky Days: 2 - 23
Lucky Numbers: 6 - 34

TAURUS (APR 21-MAY 21): What we think, say and write can have far reaching influence this month. In fact, all of these themes that relate to the intellect are ready for a makeover. Specifically, develop a new vocabulary to better express not only your truths, but to outline specifically what you need and want. The clearer your communication the better the results.
Lucky Days: 4 - 12
Lucky Numbers: 9 - 50

GEMINI (MAY 22-JUN 21): Mercury in Leo this month puts you in the spotlight, giving you an extra dash of charisma and bling. Find a way to turn your always buzzing impatience into a skill. Thomas Edison once said, “Everything comes to him who hustles while he waits.” And seeing how you are the queen of multi-tasking, take his advice and snag some victories this month.
Lucky Days: 8 - 22
Lucky Numbers: 6 - 46

CANCER (JUN 22-JUL 22): Dinah Washington once sang: “It’s heaven when you/Find romance on your menu.” And, well, you’re in the mood for some soul food this month with Venus, the planet of love and luck magnetizing your presence with charm. Make a plan to circulate socially while the new Moon on the 16th is heating up your oven. Your attractive powers will be at their strongest.
Lucky Days: 6 - 16
Lucky Numbers: 7 - 43

LEO (JUL 23-AUG 23): Fellow Leo, Lucille Ball, has some fun advice for you this month: “The secret to staying young is to live honestly, eat slowly, and lie about your age.” She’s was going for a laugh, but the point about living true to yourself is a key one for you this month. With the Sun in your sign you’re ready to show the world your skill and talents (and it’s nobody’s business how mature you are).
Lucky Days: 2 - 4
Lucky Numbers: 32 - 50

VIRGO (AUG 24-SEP 23): The impulse to speak your mind and do so forcefully is your central challenge this month. The upside of being frank is that you’ll be able to pinpoint what, exactly, it is that you want improved. The downside is that you might lose the support of some key players through your directness. Use your keen discriminatory talents to monitor just how much truth you want to tell.
Lucky Days: 9 - 21
Lucky Numbers: 34 - 51

LIBRA (SEP 24-OCT 23): In your quest for harmony and perfection you can lose track of the power of surprise and spontaneity. Louis Armstrong once said, “Never play a thing the same way twice.” Make that your motto this month as you experiment with some new hobbies or creative efforts. Take a chance and stray wide from the beaten path, you’ll love what you discover.
Lucky Days: 7 - 24
Lucky Numbers: 2 - 19

SCORPIO (OCT 24-NOV 22): With Uranus, the planet of shock and surprise, influencing your relationships and partnerships, you might find yourself in a whirlwind of new social arrangements. Saying goodbye to some longtime confidants, and hello to strangers that you’d ordinarily not pay much attention to. You need this infusion of new energy from other people.
Lucky Days: 7 - 30
Lucky Numbers: 23 - 54

SAGITTARIUS (NOV 23-DEC 21): The new Moon on the 19th triggers dreams of travel, exploration and the urge to break from habits and ruts. The artist Andre Gide adds the most important part of the puzzle for you right now, he said: “Man cannot discover new oceans unless he has the courage to lose sight of the shore.” Don’t trap yourself by feeling guilty should your plans disrupt someone else’s journey.

Lucky Days: 9 - 20
Lucky Numbers: 53 - 55

CAPRICORN (DEC 22-JAN 20): How do you harness the force of emotions without becoming too controlling? All goats are attracted to power, but sometimes you forget where the source of that power originates. Meditate on this image this month: A tree’s branches reach as high as its roots go deep; it’s the hidden and mysterious side of life that offers what you need most now.
Lucky Days: 2 - 12
Lucky Numbers: 28 - 29

AQUARIUS (JAN 21-FEB 19): There’s no avoiding it—the secret, inner side of life is calling to you now, and you need to respond. Make it an aim to bring art, poetry, and music into your life. You might also do some research (you love researching) into the effects of meditation and mindfulness. This is the month to dive into your psyche in search of hidden gems and soothing imagery.
Lucky Days: 2 - 8
Lucky Numbers: 11 - 38

PISCES (FEB 20-MAR 20): The filmmaker Frank Capra has a motto for you this month: “Don’t follow trends, start trends.” Because you receive so much inspiration from the world of dreams, place a notebook and pen alongside your bed as a sign of preparedness. You’ll receive your most original insights from the nocturnal world this month, so you want to be ready to take notes and honor the transmissions
Lucky Days: 6 - 24
Lucky Numbers: 34 - 53

Now Here's A Tip:

- Window frames can be tricky to clean. And they are a magnet for dust and dirt, or worse — condensation that can lead to mold. To get into the crevices, employ a toothbrush sprayed with a tiny spritz of furniture polish. It works!
- “Firing up the grill? Don’t get hasty. Preheat. Cooking times are based on an even cooking temperature, and you’ll get that good sear on your steaks or chicken. Use a grill thermometer and you’ll know when just the right time is to put dinner on the grill!” — T.E. in South Carolina
- Ever wonder how long your peanut butter will last? On the pantry shelf, you can expect it to hold for 7-12 months if stored in a cool dark place. After opening, it will last 3-4 months in the fridge.
- Smudged mascara? Remove it on the fly with a little bit of lip balm. Simply run your finger over the lip balm, then carefully remove the smudge. You also can put a bit of the lip balm on a tissue and use that instead.

- “I dropped a glass in the kitchen, and there were a ton of small pieces. After I swept up, I wiped the area with a piece of bread, which picked up all the small shards.” — W.C. in Kentucky
- Stick-down carpet tiles are great for making a path from where you park your car in the garage to the door. It makes a nice nonslip surface.” — R.T. in Florida

Campaign For Higher Bingo Prizes

Hi Guy,
What is the deal with prize money at Bingo? When you go to casinos and Indian games many times the jackpots are in the thousands of dollars. Meanwhile, when you are home and go to local Bingo the top prizes are only in the hundreds and most of the time are much less.
It seems to me that the charity Bingos would do a lot better if they would give out more prize money. I know, I know...this is where you tell us that charity Bingo is for supporting worthy causes and that's where most of the money should go. Of course, I am not going to disagree with that. But isn't it logical that the more prize money there is, the more people will come to charity Bingo to play, which means the more money there will be for needy causes as well?

To me that results in a total win-win-win. Higher prizes (and more of them) means more players spending more money (on games, food, etc.) which means more income for the charity Bingo to support the hall itself and the worthy causes they help.
Just think: A fresh coat of paint, new furniture (for players and workers), a better sound system, better heat and AC—improvements like that would make our dinky little Bingo halls so much more comfortable and inviting. Awarding charities thousands of dollars to help their good deeds instead of hundreds would obviously be a good thing. And it goes without saying that awarding lots more players lots more prize money would be very exciting and fun. Win-win-win!
I hope that Bingo games everywhere will see this letter and think about these ideas. It could be the start of a Bingo revolution!

— Carlos L., via email
Hi Carlos,
It's unclear whether you are aware of the regulations most charity Bingo games fall under, particularly with regard to the money passing through them.
Regulations vary from state to state and are considerably different for smaller charity Bingos versus large Indian and other casino games. But the bottom line is this: States regulate (and in some cases, prohibit) Bingo because it is considered gambling; a key part of that regulation is keeping the amount of money collected and awarded (whether as prize money or charitable giving) relatively low.
The reason behind it is simple: Whenever there is money changing hands, there is the potential for criminal elements to step in and corrupt the process. The best way to avoid that? Don't allow the amount the money involved to ever get so high that it catches the eye of money-grubbing lowlifes.
I would encourage you to search the Internet for the regulations that govern Bingo in your state. If you can stand wading through the legalese—and trust me, there's a lot of it—you might find it interesting to see just how much “in as much as,” “whereto” and “wherefor” there is pertaining to something as seemingly simple as Bingo.

After all that, if you are still determined to do something to increase Bingo prize limits, I encourage you to begin a petition, get some Bingo game sponsors involved, approach your favorite state lawmaker and see if you can make it happen. Win-win-win! — Guy

Sweet & Sour and Simple

Dear Annie,
I am so tired of serving the same old meals seven days a week. Can you suggest something different, but not too costly? I have two children and a husband who are tired of my cooking. — Bored Barbara from Key West, Florida

Dear Barbara,
Here's a simple recipe and not expensive or difficult at all. Serve with potatoes or rice and the vegetable of your choice.
Also, why not ask your children, if age appropriate, to help you make some sugar cookies. Let them decorate the cookies, too. A recipe for sugar cookies follows. Decorations can include sprinkles, chocolate jimmies, chocolate or peanut butter chips. Decorations are usually added after the cookies have baked. Use your imagination! Stay safe and healthy! — Annie

SWEET AND SOUR MEAT LOAF
1 12-ounce jar currant jelly
1 12-ounce jar chili sauce

1 pound ground chuck
1 cup breadcrumbs
½ cup chopped onions
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 egg
½ cup ketchup
To prepare the sauce, combine the currant jelly and chili sauce in a saucepan. Heat until melted and well blended. Preheat the oven to 400 degrees. Combine the remaining ingredients in an appropriate-sized bowl. Mold into a five by nine-inch loaf pan. Pour about one half of the sauce over the meat loaf. Reserve the remainder for later. Bake for one hour. Add more sauce, if desired, when serving the meat loaf. Serves 4 to 6.
SUGAR COOKIES
2 ¾ cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 cup butter, softened
1 ½ cups white sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Preheat the oven to 375 degrees F. In a small bowl, stir together the flour, baking soda, and baking powder. Set aside. In a large bowl, cream together the butter and sugar until smooth. Beat in the egg and the vanilla. Gradually blend in the dry ingredients. Roll rounded teaspoonfuls of dough into balls, and place on “ungreased” cookie sheets. Bake for 8 to 10 minutes in the preheated oven, or until golden. Keep the cookies on the cookie sheet for two minutes before removing them to cool on the wire racks. Now let the children decorate the cookies

Marginal Hand Makes for Tough Call on River

By Jonathan Little

In a recent $10,000-buy-in PartyPoker Live event, I got off to a great start. I was up to 1.6 million in chips from a 1 million starting stack, mostly from stealing pots that didn’t belong to me.

My table was full of aggressive players. Only one very skilled player seemed to be out of line. He was sitting two seats to my left, so I was forced to play a bit tighter than normal because I expected him to apply significant pressure. When you expect someone to apply pressure, you either need to play stronger-than-average hands or be willing to apply even more pressure.

With blinds at 2,500-5,000, I picked up 8h 8d in first position and raised to 15,000. The overly aggressive player, who had about as many chips as me, called from third position. The hijack, button, small blind and big blind all called, too. I assumed most players would reraise their best hands, so I figured they all had non-premium ranges.

The flop came 9h 9c 7c. The blinds checked to me, and I also decided to check.

If I bet and got called, I would be up against a range of decently strong made hands and draws. Since I was in marginal shape against any reasonable calling range, checking was an option with a lot of merit.

If I checked, someone bet and someone else called or raised, I could easily fold. If one player bet and everyone folded around to me, I could call. The flop will occasionally check through and I’ll get outdrawn by a hand that would have folded to a flop bet, but at a table full of aggressive players, checking puts me in the best situation while also keeping variance low.

This time, everyone checked through. The turn was the 3h. The blinds checked. I assumed most players would bet the flop with trips or an overpair, which led me to believe I had the best hand. I bet 25,000.

This bet size was designed to make hands with a marginal amount of equity, such as A-J or K-Q, fold while keeping in marginal made hands that I beat, such as 7-6 or 5-5. Of course, flush draws would probably stick around no matter how much I bet.

The aggressive player in third position called and everyone else folded. I thought this loose, splashy player could easily have had strong overcards or a gutshot straight draw, in addition to marginal made hands and strong draws.

The river was the Kh. I checked and my opponent bet 110,000.

Although my opponent’s bet put me in a difficult situation with my bluff catcher, in live poker, you can occasionally make a read on your opponent based on his bet size or his demeanor that sways your decision one way or the other.

I thought my opponent would correctly put me on either a marginal made hand or a missed draw, and I thought he would try to bluff me off those hands. I thought his bet was a bit too large to expect me to call with marginal made hands. Since I thought he would likely bet smaller for thin value, this led me to believe he had either a premium hand (a flush or trips) or nothing. Since I thought his bluffing range was quite wide, I called.

My opponent quickly mucked his hand and awarded me a good-sized pot.

... In the 1st century AD, Roman men as well as women used cosmetics — lightening their skin with powder, applying red pigment to their cheeks, and painting their nails, though you’d hardly want to use their form of nail polish today — a nasty mixture of pig fat and blood. They also painted their heads to camouflage bald spots!

... Princess Leia’s “Star Wars” hairdo, which she referred to as “hairy earphones” and a “hair don’t,” was inspired not by bagels but women of the Mexican Revolution.

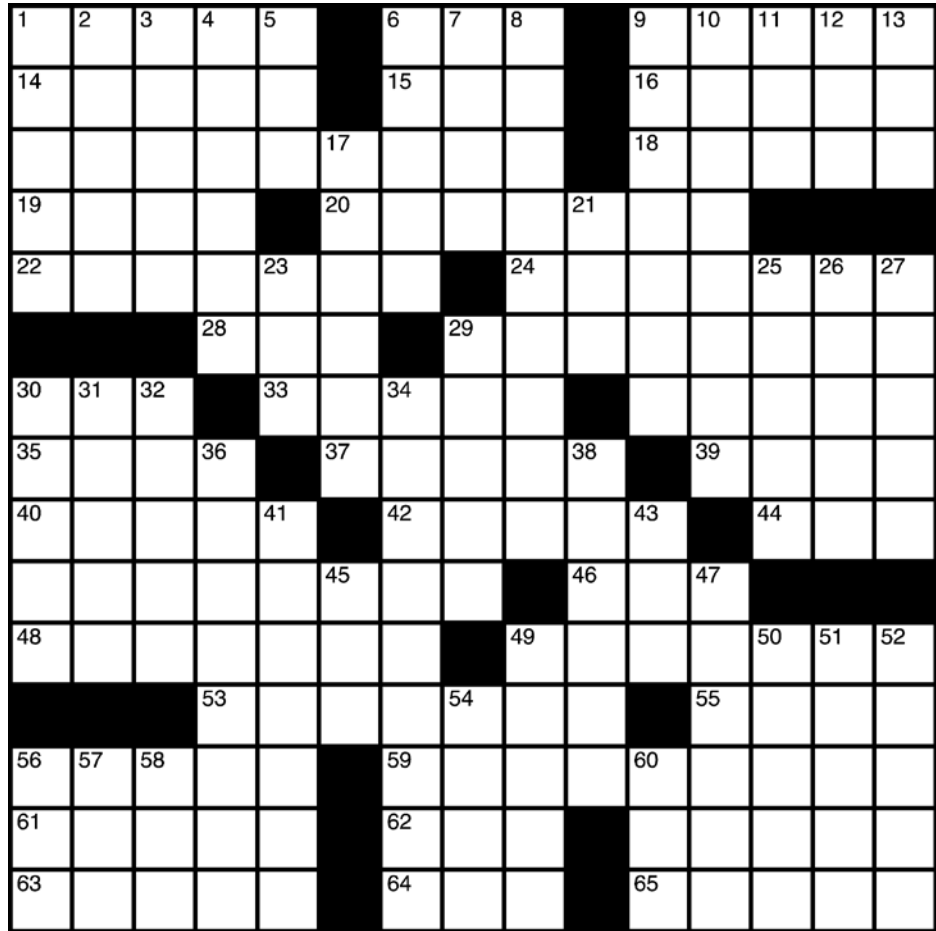

... Pound cake got its name from its original ingredients: a pound of butter, a pound of eggs, a pound of flour and a pound of sugar.

... The first documented use of toilet paper dates to 6th century A.D. China.

... Beat author William S. Burroughs’ novel Naked Lunch was supposed to be called Naked Lust. He decided to change the title after fellow Beat writer Jack Kerouac mispronounced the original one.
